Conference Backs Armistice

• French Won't Push Fighting, General Says

Commander Sees Hostilities Ending In Four To Six Days

HANOI, Indochina, July 21 (AP)—Gen. Rene Cogny, French Union ground commander in north Viet Nam, said tonight he does not intend to push any fighting between now and the effective hour of the Indochina cease-fire.

"We do not want unnecessary deaths," he said.

He told newsmen he still had not received detailed terms of the agreement signed at Geneva, but anticipated these things:

1. Fighting will stop "in four or five or six days, depending on how long it takes to get orders to outlying posts."

2. He will be allowed two months for military evacuation of Hanoi and 10 months to pull all troops and war materiel out of the Haiphon area on the coast.

Progressive Withdrawal

3. He plans a progressive withdrawal but "we shall maintain our lines and always he ready to defend and resume fighting if necessary." The removal of French and foreign civilians will get under way soon.

4. "We shall firmly hold to and defend our present positions, and we shall resist to the utmost any Vietminh attack between now and the effective hour of the ceasefire, but I do not intend to push any fighting or operations against him (the Vietminh)."

In an order of the day, the general told his French and Vietnamese soldiers they had acquitted themselves with honor in north Viet Nam and could hold their heads high. He assured Vietnamese troops their families would be evacuated with them. And he warned all his men against listening to emotional appeals of persons trying to stir up trouble.

Cogny Shows Bitterness

Cogny, 6 feet 4, looked haggard and worn. Asked to comment on the way the war was ending, he answered with a tired bitterness:

"So many deaths for nothing. The free world has not taken up its responsibilities here in good time."

Asked if he thought south Viet Nam could be held against the Communist - led Vietminh, Cogny replied:

"Militarily yes. but politically—"

He shrugged his shoulders and smiled. He did not complete his sentence, but it was apparent that he saw the possibility of eventual Vietminh victory at the polls.

Single-Package Postal Pay, Rate Bill Is Defeated

WASHINGTON, July 21 (AP)—The House today defeated an administration effort to pass a one-package bill raising both postal rates and postal workers' pay. It then set the stage to force separate action on pay boosts for post office workers without corresponding increases in postage charges.

The double - barreled measure, which would have given postal workers a 5 per cent increase while simultaneously raising postage rates 233 million dollars a year, was supported by the majority 228-171. However, under the prevailing parliamentary situation, it needed approval of two-thirds of those voting, or 266.

In an effort to help get postal operations out of the red, the administration had insisted on a boost in postage rates to offset the added costs of pay increases. The principal increase would be on first class letters, from 3 cents to 4 cents.

An immediate result was to push along an administration - opposed pay bill which had been pigeonholed by the House Rules Committee.

Offered by Rep. Corbett (R-Pa), this calls for a 7 per cent across-the-board pay increase for post office employes. It is also minus job reclassification features demanded by Postmaster General Summerfield and opposed by organized postal employe groups.

Within minutes after the administration bill was rejected, a majority of the House membership had signed a petition which under the House rules can force action on any bill pigeonholed by the leaders.

Senate Backs Ike's Power Plan

Ike Says U. S. Won't Use Force To Upset Truce; Warns Reds

President Declares Settlement Contains Unlikable Features

WASHINGTON, July 21 (AP) — President Eisenhower pledged today the United States "will not use force" to upset the Indochina armistice but warned the Communists that any new aggression would be "a matter of grave concern."

At a news conference, he declared the partition settlement signed in Geneva "contains features which we do not like."

Because of this, he said, the United States would refuse to join other nations in a joint declaration guaranteeing truce provisions.

Envoy Exchange Sought

In rapid-fire order, the President also made these points:

1. The United States has asked the Indochina states of Cambodia and Laos to exchange ambassadors with this country in a move to build up their independence from communism.

2. The big lesson which free world nations can learn from the Indochina experience is to adopt a positive plan for banding together so tightly that none will ever give up to communism.

3. He believes the Communist world does not want war at this time, except through satellite excursions. The Reds would not deliberately challenge the free world to a war of exhaustion.

Indo History To Be Prepared

4. He knows of no one who advocates that the United States should go to war to unify Korea or Indochina even though these settlements are far from satisfactory.

In talking with reporters, the President said the government would soon issue some sort of paper giving a history of the Indochina developments which would attempt to put all events in focus. He disclosed this when asked whether he could say whether the United States ever actually proposed to send American bombers into the Indochina battle in a move to save the Dien Bien Phu fortress in northwest Indochina.

Private Plant In TVA "Zone" Upheld, 56-35

Chamber Refuses To Forbid Project, Then Authorizes It

WASHINGTON, July 21 (AP)—President Eisenhower won a big victory tonight as the Senate upheld his plan for a new private power plant in the Tennessee Valley area.

First the chamber refused on a vote of 55-36 to forbid the project. Then, on motion of Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich) it adopted by voice vote an amendment specifically authorizing the undertaking.

The proposed ban on it had been offered in another amendment, by Sen. Anderson (D-NM), to the pending bill which rewrites the nation's atomic energy law.

Forty-four Republicans and eleven Democrats voted against the Anderson amendment. It was supported by 33 Democrats, two Republicans and Sen. Morse (Ind-Ore).

Rollcall Vote Is 56-35

The Ferguson amendment sanctioning the proposed electric power contract was accepted without a rollcall. Some Democrats objected at the speed with which the decision was accomplished, but the chair held the voice vote had been perfectly in order.

When Sen. Knowland of California, Republican leader, moved to tie that decision down by a parliamentary device, Democrats then demanded a rollcall. They lost 56-35.

Anderson's amendment would have specified that the Atomic Energy Commission could contract only for power served directly to atomic installations.

The President has instructed the AEC to conclude a 25-year contract with a Southern utility group for construction of a 107 million dollar steam plant to furnish power to the Memphis, Tenn., area.

Would Use TVA Lines

The power would be serviced over Tennessee Valley Authority lines, replacing TVA electricity supplied to the Paducah, Ky., atomic plant.

Anderson's amendment was designed to kill the project by restricting the AEC's contract authority. It also called for a review of all AEC power contracts by the Senate-House Atomic Eergy Committee.

The vote, at 8:40 p.m. climaxed a stormy eight day debate, mainly on the power issue, which is only part of the big bill.

The measure provides mainly for permitting private industry into the atomic field and for releasing some nuclear secrets to Allied armies.

Anti-Subversion Measure Given House Approval

WASHINGTON, July 21 (AP)—The House approved by voice vote today President Eisenhower's proposal to strip U.S. citizenship from any American convicted of seeking or teaching the overthrow of the government by violence.

This measure, which now goes to the Senate, was one of several broad powers requested by Atty. Gen. Brownell to combat subversion. In this field today there were these over developments:

Bail-Jumping Made Crime

1. The House passed and sent to the Senate a bill making bail jumping in cases involving a federal offense a separate crime. This legislation grew out of recent cases of bail jumping by four of 11 Communist leaders convicted in New York of conspiring to advocate violent overthrow of the government.

2. A House Judiciary subcommittee approved a bill to outlaw the Communist party and similar organizations. It would make membership in such groups a felony. The measure now goes to the full committee.

Immunity Bill Advances

3. The House Judiciary Committee concluded hearings on a bill, already passed by the Senate, to compel witnesses before congressional committees to testify by granting them immunity from prosecution for wrongdoing they may reveal in their testimony.

Another proposal ticketed for House action this week would create a commission on internal security in industry to study and recommend means to keep Communists out of defense plants and labor unions.

With Congress planning to adjourn July 31 and in the face of objections by some congressmen to each proposal, the whole program faced an uncertain future.

Accused Actress Says Police Dept. "Gestapo Outfit"

HONOLULU, July 21 (AP) — The Star-Bulletin today quoted movie actress Marie McDonald as saying the Beverly Hills, Calif., police department is a "Gestapo outfit."

The actress, here with her two children for a vacation, faces trial Oct. 4 on charges of hit and run driving, driving under the influence of sedatives and driving without a license as the result of an accident last June.

"All I'm guilty of is driving without a license," she said in an interview.

She said she had been upset and took two mild sedatives on doctor's orders.

"It was not a hit and run accident because I stopped my car," she continued. "Police who saw the accident asked me how I felt and I told them 'not very good.'"

Texas Financier Dies

Aide 'Maligned,' McCarthy Says

WASHINGTON, July 21 (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) tonight accused the Defense Department of having "improperly maligned" Thomas W. Lavenia, a Senate Investigations subcommittee aide, by denying him security clearance.

McCarthy made public letters to Secretary of Defense Wilson and Atty. Gen. Brownell, summoning representatives of their departments to a closed door meeting Friday in a new attempt to get an explanation of the withheld clearance.

Wilson has refused to explain, on grounds that to do so would require the disclosure of confidential information.

Lavenia, assistant counsel and office manager for the McCarthy subcommittee since February, 1953, told newsmen today that as a college student in 1936 he was briefly an officer of the American Law Students' Assn. McCarthy has called that organization an affiliate of Communist fronts.

McCarthy reportedly has told the subcommittee he knows of no other reason the Defense Department could have used in denying clearance to Lavenia, but the subcommittee postponed decision on confirming Lavenia in his job.

Conference To Hear Ike

WASHINGTON, July 21 (AP)—President Eisenhower will attend a session of the World Christian Endeavor Conference Sunday afternoon in the Mayflower Hotel.

The President, who is expected to speak briefly, may go to the session directly from his Catoctin Mountain retreat, Camp David, in Maryland. The White House said it is possible he will spend the weekend at Camp David.

Conferees In Accord On Tax Law Revision

Bill Provides 4% Dividend Income Deduction

WASHINGTON, July 21 (AP) — A House-Senate Conference Committee agreed late today on a compromise bill overhauling almost all tax laws. It would reduce revenues an estimated $1,363,000,000 next year.

Settling one much-debated issue, the Committee agreed to let taxpayers deduct 4 per cent of income from corporation dividends.

In addition, the first $50 of dividends would be excluded from taxes.

Authorities said this compromise would cut taxes on dividends about 204 million dollars the first year and 363 million dollars a year later, when it reaches full effect.

The House had approved a much more liberal cut amounting to 240 million dollars the first year and eventually to 860 million dollars a year. The Senate had voted 71-13 to knock out all dividend tax relief except about 46 million dollars provided through the $50 exclusion.

Republicans had advanced the idea of dividend tax relief with the main argument that it would encourage investments which would result in job-creating business expansion. Democratic critics said it was tax relief for the wealthy.

The big bill, running almost 1,000 pages, does not change major tax rates but provides scores of tax reductions through new or bigger deductions for medical expenses, depreciation of new plants and equipment, child - care expenses of working parents, soil conservation expenses, income of retired persons, dependents who make more than $600 a year, and other items.

President Eisenhower has termed the bill the cornerstone of his domestic program. He said it would spur business investment and economic growth and provide more and better jobs, and remove scores of unfair provisions for business and individuals.

The compromise bill, settling 553 differences between the House and Senate versions, still must be approved by both the House and Senate.

In view of the substantial tax reduction on stockholders' dividends—and the heavy Senate vote against substantial relief in this field—the compromise faced a possibly stiff fight in the Senate.

In the House, where it faced less opposition, leaders said the compromise probably would be called up next week.

In other last-stage action, the Conference Committee agreed to knock out of the big revision program a House-approved section cutting taxes on income earned by corporations from foreign operations.

In another major decision, the Conference Committee knocked out of the bill a Senate amendment which would have killed the tax exemption granted to charitable or educational foundations, if they made any grants to suspected subversives.

U.S. Rubber, Union Confer

NEW YORK, July 21 (AP) — The U.S. Rubber Co. and the CIO Rubber Workers Union discussed terms for a new contract again today and adjourned negotiations until tomorrow without comment as to progress.

Arrest Fire Chief For False Alarm

KINGSFORD, Mich., July 21 (AP)—Fire Chief E. E. Jossens was hot under the collar today. He was arrested on a warrant charging him with turning in a false alarm.

Three members of the Fire Department charged Jossens ordered a fire call placed from the Kingsford high school. The department responded to the call but found no fire.

Jossens, who pleaded innocent, said the alarm was part of a training program to see how fast his firefighters responded.

New Delhi Police Fire On Mob, Killing Eight

NEW DELHI, India, July 21 (AP)—Police fired today on a mob that put the torch to a court building at Indore, 420 miles south of here. Eight persons were killed and 40 wounded in the clash.

Six fire engines fought the blaze, but a brisk breeze fanned the flames.

Reports received here said the trouble started yesterday when 3,000 students demonstrated against the transfer of an Indore College principal.

Man Killed By Car

BALTIMORE, July 21 (AP)—Fifty-three-year-old Edward Troll died today of head injuries he suffered in an accident Friday night when he and his son, Dale, were hit by a car as they were crossing a suburban street.

Knowland Says Indo Settlement Victory For Reds

WASHINGTON, July 21 (AP)—Senate Republican Leader Knowland of California today called the Indochina settlement "one of the greatest victories for the Communists in a decade."

He made the statement during impromptu debate on the truce, set off by a warning from Sen. Symington (D-Mo) that the Soviets are winning a race to develop new hydrogen weapons, even "as the position of the free world continues to deteriorate in Asia."

Peaceful Coexistence Unlikely

Knowland said the policy of peaceful coexistence, which some Allies have advocated, is like putting someone in a cage with a tiger that has just been fed. When the tiger gets hungry, Knowland said, he will look to his cagemate for food.

Knowland suggested that now is the time to find out what Allies "are willing to stand up and be counted."

And, Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont), in an interview, termed the splitting of Viet Nam a "loss and defeat" which will bring only temporary peace to Indochina.

Mansfield, a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said the armistice "is the best possible settlement" the French Premier could have made.

No Permanent Stability Seen

"But it doesn't call for enthusiasm or acclaim," Mansfield added. "Anyone who thinks this truce will bring stability to Indochina, except on a temporary basis, is mistaken."

Symington, former Air Force secretary, told the Senate that hydrogen bomb-carrying intercontinental missiles will be able to "destroy a nation" within a few years and said Russia may have masses of them before the United States.

Air Force Radios Costing Millions Prove "Lemons"

WASHINGTON, July 21 (AP) — A congressional subcommittee said today an "untested model" radio set which the Air Force ordered in quantity has so far proved "so unreliable to as to be of no practical use."

The statement was made in a report by the House Military Operations subcommittee.

Even if, as Air Force officers contend, the set eventually proves to be worthwhile, the subcommittee said it appeared "that a great many millions of dollars had needlessly been spent as a result of procurement on such a large scale before its development had been completed or the set tested and proven."

The subcommittee, headed by Rep. Riehlman (R-NY), said the Air Force first ordered 307 of the long-range sending - receiving sets from the Radio Corp. of America in December 1950. The order later was expanded to 3,900 sets with spare parts at a total estimated cost of 54 million dollars.

Redesigning the sets to improve their quality may run the cost to 71 million dollars, the subcommittee said. Only 790 of the sets had been delivered by last June 30.

In New York, RCA officials declined to comment beyond referring to a section of the report which said "there was no evidence reflecting upon RCA's integrity or upon its good faith in its effort to solve these difficult engineering problems."

RCA witnesses had testified that the project required "a pioneering effort of major proportions." They said the theory and design of the model have been proven but that the "present difficulty with the equipment is its unreliability due to certain components which have required repeated redesign."

Teen-Age Girls Take Gas In Suicide Pact; One Dead

NEW YORK, July 21 (AP)—Two teen-aged girls took gas together today, apparently aflame with wine and bewitched into a childishly romantic suicide pact. One died, the other is near death.

"I die simply enough, because I haven't enough life within me to nourish myself through long, long years," read a note left by the surviving girl, Helene Jacobs, 18, a Columbia University summer school student and daughter of a Chicago labor lawyer. She is a very pretty, very shapely brunette.

The dead girl was Madeline Jean Sommer, 19, missing for a week from her Bergenfield, N.J., home. A blonde, she was equally pretty and well formed.

The girls were clad in short filmy nightgowns.

An empty half gallon jug of sauterne and a half empty bottle of sherry were found in the apartment on fashionable East 65th street just off Fifth Ave. Evidence of considerable wine was found in Miss Sommer's body.

The girls were discovered when a refrigerator repairman, Anthony Lopresti, was unable to get into the apartment. The superintendent of the building, Ralph Keyser, then opened the door with a passkey.

However, Miss Jacobs wrote at greater length in an attempt at philosophy:

"Today I die. Not as casually as I should, but then I've always been spasmodically violent anyway. I die simply enough, because I haven't enough life within me to nourish myself through long, long years. Be as kind to yourselves as you have ever been and be as kind to yourselves as I have been cruel. Love Mark and listen to him."

U.S. Abstains With Warning To Keep Peace

Reds Jubilant; China Says Pact Possible Pattern For Korea

GENEVA, July 21 (AP)—The Geneva conference endorsed the Indochina armistice today, with partitioned Viet Nam and the United States abstaining.

Red China hailed the agreement as a possible pattern for a Korean settlement.

The United States warned grimly that any violation of the Indochina cease-fire would jeopardize international peace and security.

Western representatives signed with misgivings but Communist delegates were jubilant over the settlement. It turns north Viet Nam's 13 million people over to Red rule.

Red China's Premier Chou Enlai said the armistice "once again testified that the forces for peace are irresistable." Chou Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov and representatives of the Communist-led Vietminh all hailed the agreement as a "victory for peace."

Viet Nam Protests Smothered

The protests of the pro-Western Viet Nam government over the division of their country were all but smothered. Vietnamese Foreign Minister Tran Van Do vainly attempted to incorporate in the final declaration reservations giving his government full freedom of action.

A few hours later, he telegraphed his resignation to Vietnamese Premier Ngo Dinh Diem in Saigon. He angrily told a news conference that he had not even been given an opportunity to see the text of the cease-fire order.

The conference endorsement came at the final meeting of the nine-party Indochina parley. The talks ended at 5 p.m. just 17 hours beyond the deadline set by French Premier Pierre Mendes-France for a cease-fire. They began here April 26.

In its final declaration, the conference "took note" of the cease-fire agreements signed earlier today by French, Cambodian, Laotian and Communist-led Vietminh officers to halt the 8-year-old struggle in Viet Nam, Cambodia and Laos.

Neutralization Provided

The accords provide for the neutralization of the three Indochina states and the partition of Viet Nam along the 17th Parallel. The French are scheduled to evacuate the big northern Indochina city of Hanoi and its port of Haiphong within 300 days.

The United States, through Undersecretary of State Walter Bedell Smith, announced it would not subscribe to the settlements. It pledged, however, to refrain from threats or use of force to disturb them.

But Smith declared the United States would "view any renewal of the aggression in violation of the aforesaid agreements with grave concern and as seriously threatening international peace and security."

China Will Free Six Americans

GENEVA, July 21 (AP)—Red China has promised to free six detained Americans, including four Roman Catholic priests, the U.S. delegation to the Geneva Conference announced today.

"The Chinese Communist representatives have stated further that the cases of other detained Americans are still under review," the U.S. announcement said.

In Washington, the State Department said release of the six would leave about 44 American civilians and at least 15 U.S. military personnel still detained by Red China.

Of the civilians, 30 are in Chinese jails, three are under house arrest and 11 have not received exit permits. The Chinese admit they are holding the 15 officers and enlisted men, but they also may have others.

American officials on their side have notified Peiping that 15 Chinese students who have been detained in the United States now may leave. The cases of other Chinese students in America still are being considered.

First the chamber refused on a vote of 55-36 to forbid the project. Then, on motion of Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich) it adopted by voice vote an amendment specifically authorizing the undertaking.

The proposed ban on it had been offered in another amendment, by Sen. Anderson (D-NM), to the pending bill which rewrites the nation's atomic energy law.

Forty-four Republicans and eleven Democrats voted against the Anderson amendment. It was supported by 33 Democrats, two Republicans and Sen. Morse (Ind-Ore).

Rollcall Vote Is 56-35

The Ferguson amendment sanctioning the proposed electric power contract was accepted without a rollcall. Some Democrats objected at the speed with which the decision was accomplished, but the chair held the voice vote had been perfectly in order.

When Sen. Knowland of California, Republican leader, moved to tie that decision down by a parliamentary device, Democrats then demanded a rollcall. They lost 56-35.

Anderson's amendment would have specified that the Atomic Energy Commission could contract only for power served directly to atomic installations.

The President has instructed the AEC to conclude a 25-year contract with a Southern utility group for construction of a 107 million dollar steam plant to furnish power to the Memphis, Tenn., area.

Would Use TVA Lines

The power would be serviced over Tennessee Valley Authority lines, replacing TVA electricity supplied to the Paducah, Ky., atomic plant.

Anderson's amendment was designed to kill the project by restricting the AEC's contract authority. It also called for a review of all AEC power contracts by the Senate-House Atomic Eergy Committee.

The vote, at 8:40 p.m. climaxed a stormy eight day debate, mainly on the power issue, which is only part of the big bill.

The measure provides mainly for permitting private industry into the atomic field and for releasing some nuclear secrets to Allied armies.

Aide 'Maligned,' McCarthy Says

WASHINGTON, July 21 (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) tonight accused the Defense Department of having "improperly maligned" Thomas W. Lavenia, a Senate Investigations subcommittee aide, by denying him security clearance.

McCarthy made public letters to Secretary of Defense Wilson and Atty. Gen. Brownell, summoning representatives of their departments to a closed door meeting Friday in a new attempt to get an explanation of the withheld clearance.

Wilson has refused to explain, on grounds that to do so would require the disclosure of confidential information.

Lavenia, assistant counsel and office manager for the McCarthy subcommittee since February, 1953, told newsmen today that as a college student in 1936 he was briefly an officer of the American Law Students' Assn. McCarthy has called that organization an affiliate of Communist fronts.

McCarthy reportedly has told the subcommittee he knows of no other reason the Defense Department could have used in denying clearance to Lavehia, but the subcommittee postponed decision on confirming Lavenia in his job.

Conference To Hear Ike

WASHINGTON, July 21 (AP)—President Eisenhower will attend a session of the World Christian Endeavor Conference Sunday afternoon in the Mayflower Hotel.

The President, who is expected to speak briefly, may go to the session directly from his Catoctin Mountain retreat, Camp David, in Maryland. The White House said it is possible he will spend the weekend at Camp David.

Conferees In Accord On Tax Law Revision

Bill Provides 4% Dividend Income Deduction

WASHINGTON, July 21 (AP) — A House-Senate Conference Committee agreed late today on a compromise bill overhauling almost all tax laws. It would reduce revenues an estimated $1,363,000,000 next year.

Settling one much-debated issue, the Committee agreed to let taxpayers deduct 4 per cent of income from corporation dividends.

In addition, the first $50 of dividends would be excluded from taxes.

Authorities said this compromise would cut taxes on dividends about 204 million dollars the first year and 363 million dollars a year later, when it reaches full effect.

The House had approved a much more liberal cut amounting to 240 million dollars the first year and eventually to 860 million dollars a year. The Senate had voted 71-13 to knock out all dividend tax relief except about 46 million dollars provided through the $50 exclusion.

Republicans had advanced the idea of dividend tax relief with the main argument that it would encourage investments which would result in job-creating business expansion. Democratic critics said it was tax relief for the wealthy.

The big bill, running almost 1,000 pages, does not change major tax rates but provides scores of tax reductions through new or bigger deductions for medical expenses, depreciation of new plants and equipment, child - care expenses of working parents, soil conservation expenses, income of retired persons, dependents who make more than $600 a year, and other items.

President Eisenhower has termed the bill the cornerstone of his domestic program. He said it would spur business investment and economic growth and provide more and better jobs, and remove scores of unfair provisions for business and individuals.

The compromise bill, settling 553 differences between the House and Senate versions, still must be approved by both the House and Senate.

In view of the substantial tax reduction on stockholders' dividends—and the heavy Senate vote against substantial relief in this field—the compromise faced a possibly stiff fight in the Senate.

In the House, where it faced less opposition, leaders said the compromise probably would be called up next week.

In other last-stage action, the Conference Committee agreed to knock out of the big revision program a House-approved section cutting taxes on income earned by corporations from foreign operations.

In another major decision, the Conference Committee knocked out of the bill a Senate amendment which would have killed the tax exemption granted to charitable or educational foundations, if they made any grants to suspected subversives.

NEW YORK, July 21 (AP) — The U.S. Rubber Co. and the CIO Rubber Workers Union discussed terms for a new contract again today and adjourned negotiations until tomorrow without comment as to progress.

Arrest Fire Chief For False Alarm

KINGSFORD, Mich., July 21 (AP)—Fire Chief E. E. Jossens was hot under the collar today. He was arrested on a warrant charging him with turning in a false alarm.

Three members of the Fire Department charged Jossens ordered a fire call placed from the Kingsford high school. The department responded to the call but found no fire.

Jossens, who pleaded innocent, said the alarm was part of a training program to see how fast his firefighters responded.

New Delhi Police Fire On Mob, Killing Eight

NEW DELHI, India, July 21 (AP)—Police fired today on a mob that put the torch to a court building at Indore, 420 miles south of here. Eight persons were killed and 40 wounded in the clash.

Six fire engines fought the blaze, but a brisk breeze fanned the flames.

Reports received here said the trouble started yesterday when 3,000 students demonstrated against the transfer of an Indore College principal.

BALTIMORE, July 21 (AP)—Fifty-three-year-old Edward Troll died today of head injuries he suffered in an accident Friday night when he and his son, Dale, were hit by a car as they were crossing a suburban street.

Knowland Says Indo Settlement Victory For Reds

WASHINGTON, July 21 (AP)—Senate Republican Leader Knowland of California today called the Indochina settlement "one of the greatest victories for the Communists in a decade."

He made the statement during impromptu debate on the truce, set off by a warning from Sen. Symington (D-Mo) that the Soviets are winning a race to develop new hydrogen weapons, even "as the position of the free world continues to deteriorate in Asia."

Peaceful Coexistence Unlikely

Knowland said the policy of peaceful coexistence, which some Allies have advocated, is like putting someone in a cage with a tiger that has just been fed. When the tiger gets hungry, Knowland said, he will look to his cagemate for food.

Knowland suggested that now is the time to find out what Allies "are willing to stand up and be counted."

And, Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont), in an interview, termed the splitting of Viet Nam a "loss and defeat" which will bring only temporary peace to Indochina.

Mansfield, a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said the armistice "is the best possible settlement" the French Premier could have made.

No Permanent Stability Seen

"But it doesn't call for enthusiasm or acclaim," Mansfield added. "Anyone who thinks this truce will bring stability to Indochina, except on a temporary basis, is mistaken."

Symington, former Air Force secretary, told the Senate that hydrogen bomb-carrying intercontinental missiles will be able to "destroy a nation" within a few years and said Russia may have masses of them before the United States.

Air Force Radios Costing Millions Prove "Lemons"

WASHINGTON, July 21 (AP) — A congressional subcommittee said today an "untested model" radio set which the Air Force ordered in quantity has so far proved "so unreliable to as to be of no practical use."

The statement was made in a report by the House Military Operations subcommittee.

Even if, as Air Force officers contend, the set eventually proves to be worthwhile, the subcommittee said it appeared "that a great many millions of dollars had needlessly been spent as a result of procurement on such a large scale before its development had been completed or the set tested and proven."

The subcommittee, headed by Rep. Riehlman (R-NY), said the Air Force first ordered 307 of the long-range sending - receiving sets from the Radio Corp. of America in December 1950. The order later was expanded to 3,900 sets with spare parts at a total estimated cost of 54 million dollars.

Redesigning the sets to improve their quality may run the cost to 71 million dollars, the subcommittee said. Only 790 of the sets had been delivered by last June 30.

In New York, RCA officials declined to comment beyond referring to a section of the report which said "there was no evidence reflecting upon RCA's integrity or upon its good faith in its effort to solve these difficult engineering problems."

RCA witnesses had testified that the project required "a pioneering effort of major proportions." They said the theory and design of the model have been proven but that the "present difficulty with the equipment is its unreliability due to certain components which have required repeated redesign."

U.S. Abstains With Warning To Keep Peace

Reds Jubilant; China Says Pact Possible Pattern For Korea

GENEVA, July 21 (AP)—The Geneva conference endorsed the Indochina armistice today, with partitioned Viet Nam and the United States abstaining.

Red China hailed the agreement as a possible pattern for a Korean settlement.

The United States warned grimly that any violation of the Indochina cease-fire would jeopardize international peace and security.

Western representatives signed with misgivings but Communist delegates were jubilant over the settlement. It turns north Viet Nam's 13 million people over to Red rule.

Red China's Premier Chou Enlai said the armistice "once again testified that the forces for peace are irresistable." Chou Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov and representatives of the Communist-led Vietminh all hailed the agreement as a "victory for peace."

Viet Nam Protests Smothered

The protests of the pro-Western Viet Nam government over the division of their country were all but smothered. Vietnamese Foreign Minister Tran Van Do vainly attempted to incorporate in the final declaration reservations giving his government full freedom of action.

A few hours later, he telegraphed his resignation to Vietnamese Premier Ngo Dinh Diem in Saigon. He angrily told a news conference that he had not even been given an opportunity to see the text of the cease-fire order.

The conference endorsement came at the final meeting of the nine-party Indochina parley. The talks ended at 5 p.m. just 17 hours beyond the deadline set by French Premier Pierre Mendes-France for a cease-fire. They began here April 26.

In its final declaration, the conference "took note" of the cease-fire agreements signed earlier today by French, Cambodian, Laotian and Communist-led Vietminh officers to halt the 8-year-old struggle in Viet Nam, Cambodia and Laos.

Neutralization Provided

The accords provide for the neutralization of the three Indochina states and the partition of Viet Nam along the 17th Parallel. The French are scheduled to evacuate the big northern Indochina city of Hanoi and its port of Haiphong within 300 days.

The United States, through Undersecretary of State Walter Bedell Smith, announced it would not subscribe to the settlements. It pledged, however, to refrain from threats or use of force to disturb them.

But Smith declared the United States would "view any renewal of the aggression in violation of the aforesaid agreements with grave concern and as seriously threatening international peace and security."

China Will Free Six Americans

GENEVA, July 21 (AP)—Red China has promised to free six detained Americans, including four Roman Catholic priests, the U.S. delegation to the Geneva Conference announced today.

"The Chinese Communist representatives have stated further that the cases of other detained Americans are still under review," the U.S. announcement said.

In Washington, the State Department said release of the six would leave about 44 American civilians and at least 15 U.S. military personnel still detained by Red China.

Of the civilians, 30 are in Chinese jails, three are under house arrest and 11 have not received exit permits. The Chinese admit they are holding the 15 officers and enlisted men, but they also may have others.

American officials on their side have notified Peiping that 15 Chinese students who have been detained in the United States now may leave. The cases of other Chinese students in America still are being considered.

President Stands By His Private Power-TVA Plan

Denies Authority Lacks His Backing

WASHINGTON, July 21 (AP)—President Eisenhower today stood by his plan to bring private power into the TVA area but said anyone who thought he wasn't supporting TVA was—to put it in mildest terms—in error.

Eisenhower indicated he has no intention of changing his plan for private power in the face of attacks on it by numerous Senate Democrats and one Republican, Sen. Cooper of Kentucky. He said he is working for the entire United States, not one area.

The President took this position at a news conference at which he also said the Indochinese truce isn't entirely satisfactory and the United States now is trying for the rapid creation of a collective defense system in Southeast Asia to prevent further Communist aggression there.

Garbed in a tan double breasted suit and brown and white figured tie, the President walked briskly into the conference room, pulled out a pair of glasses and went through the motions of reading a prepared statement on Indochina for a throng of photographers. Then he actually read it to reporters.

For the most part the conference dealt with Indochina and the Eisenhower legislative program, with few points of special emphasis, in tone or manner, on any one subject.

The presidential plan for private power in the TVA program is at the center of a Senate controversy surging around a bill to revise the atomic energy law. Eisenhower has directed the Atomic Energy Commission to contract with a private firm to build a plant at West Memphis, Ark., to replace TVA power to be used by AEC. The chief executive said, as he has before, that he always is willing to go along if he can be shown a better way of doing things. The implication was that in this instance no one has shown him a better way.

But he said, too, he is prepared to support TVA with all his strength. Anyone who says he has any other thought, he said, is, to put it in the mildest way, in error.

Gloomy predictions that much of his legislative program would fail to get through Congress also are in error, Eisenhower said.

He said he wasn't disappointed in the progress of the program, even though some features won't be enacted. There have been great accomplishments in recent weeks, he said, and these frequently have been lost sight of because of what he called the publicity value of fights and failures.

Senators Plan Coast-To-Coast Housing Probe

WASHINGTON, July 21 (AP) — A cross-country tour seeking further evidence of alleged housing irregularities was projected today by the Senate Banking Committee.

Taking a breather in its public probe of profits to builders from FHA-insured loans which exceed actual costs, the committee tentatively agreed on a new schedule of coast-to-coast hearings and asked another $150,000 to continue its work.

Chairman Capehart (R-Ind) said he does not see any end to the spreading investigation, and predicted the inquiry may run into 1955.

The Senate, which voted the committee $150,000 in April to start its study, must pass on the group's request for another appropriation of the same size.

Meantime, Sen. Maybank (D-SC), senior Democrat on the committee, charged that housing officials were not moving quickly enough to end alleged abuses.

Maybank also criticized the Defense Department for failing to block what he said might be "corruption" in the operation of the military housing program.

His outburst came during a routine confirmation hearing on President Eisenhower's appointment of Norman P. Mason, New England lumberman, to head the Federal Housing Administration.

Mason has been acting F. H. A. commissioner since April, when his predecessor, Guy T. O. Hollyday of Baltimore, was ousted as the housing investigation started. The committee questioned Mason for a few minutes, then recommended his confirmation to the Senate.

Earlier the committee, meeting in closed session, had tentatively decided on this hearing schedule:

New York City Aug. 24, Los Angeles Aug. 31, New Orleans Sept. 7, Chicago Sept. 14, Cleveland Sept. 21, New York again on Sept. 28 and Washington Oct. 5.

TRAIN-TRUCK COLLISION — No one was injured when this trailer truck and an Erie Railroad freight train collided yesterday in Newark, N. J. The truck, nearly cut in half by the diesel locomotive, was thrown against a utility pole which snapped off. The truck's cargo of liquid starch in cartons spilled out. The truck driver, Alfred Gallo, 32, Linden, N. J., was shaken up but needed no medical treatment.

Heat Wave Ends In Some Sections

[By The Associated Press]

Rain and cool weather brought relief from heat and drought in some sections of the nation Wednesday.

The heat wave has claimed more than 300 lives in the last two weeks.

Cool air from Canada spread southward between the Rockies and the Middle Atlantic states as far south as Kentucky.

Rain fell in heavy amounts in southern West Virginia, Ohio, northern Indiana, northern Illinois and eastern Iowa. Some areas in these states recorded more than an inch of precipitation.

Local showers were reported in the lower Ohio Valley and southern Illinois, but not enough fell to cause much relief.

Searing heat continued in the Southwest, the South, and the Central and Southern Plains states. In Gage, Okla., it was 104, Emporia, Kan., 98, and Fort Smith, Ark., 100.

Coolest spot in the nation was Mullan Pass, Mont., where light rain and snow brought a temperature of 36.

Since July 7, the number of deaths caused by the hot weather blanketing the South, Midwest and Southern Plains states now total 301.

Third 60,000-Ton Aircraft Carrier Is Named Ranger

WASHINGTON, July 21 (AP)—The Navy today gave the honored name of Ranger to the third 60,000-ton aircraft carrier of the Forrestal Class now under construction at Newport News, Va.

The Forrestal, nearing completion at the same yard, was named after the first secretary of defense. The second of the huge atomic age carriers is being built at the Brooklyn, N.Y., Navy yard and has already been assigned the name of Saratoga, recalling the Revolutionary War battle at that place, also the exploits of the carrier Saratoga in World War II.

The first Ranger was built at Portsmouth, N.H., in 1777. She was a wooden frigate which sailed against the British under the command of John Paul Jones.

Sen. Murray To Face D'Ewart In Montana

HELENA, Mont., July 21 (AP)—Democrat James E. Murray, 78, of Montana, who has been in the Senate longer than all but five of his colleagues, sets his sights on his fourth consecutive full term in the November election.

Murray, who didn't take the time to come home and campaign, gave two opponents a resounding trimming for his party's nomination in yesterday's quiet primary.

His opponent in November will be Wesley A. D'Ewart, 64, who is seeking to switch over to the Senate after nine years as a Republican congressman.

Murray piled up a margin of better than 12-1—48,597 votes in 718 of the state's 1,094 precincts to 3,912 for Sam G. Feezell, a former Great Falls smelter worker, and 3,857 for Ray E. Gulick, a Joplin farmer.

D'Ewart is the senior Republican on the House Interior and Insular Affairs Committee. He registered 34,132 votes in 720 precincts to 7,533 for Robert Yellowtail, a Crow Indian leader from Lodge Grass.

Miss USA Favorite Has 3-Year-Old Son

LONG BEACH, Calif., July 21 (AP)—Miss Montana, one of the favorites to become Miss USA tonight, was disclosed today to be the mother of a 3-year-old son.

But a spokesman for the Miss Universe pageant said motherhood, marriage or divorce never has been a bar for contestants.

"We even had one once that had a 9-year-old kid," the spokesman added.

Dawn Oney, 22, ringer for Marilyn Monroe, already has won a trophy as the popular choice for the Miss USA crown.

She formerly was married to her hometown sweetheart, Harvey Carlson, now a mining engineer in Japan. Both hailed from Mankato, Minn. They were divorced last year because of incompatibility, she said.

"Stop Gap" Solution

CHARLESTON, S.C., July 21 (AP)—Two Charleston-based destroyers will be loaned to Japan under the mutual defense assistance pact, probably in October, the Navy announced today.

Cost Of Geneva Drinks Unpaid

GENEVA, July 21 (AP)—The Geneva conference closed today with one major issue unsettled: Who's going to pick up the tab for the drinks?

Britain's dapper Anthony Eden delicately raised the question early in the final session and nobody offered to pay.

As chairman of the last meeting Eden, after suggesting the chair send telegrams to Canada, Poland and India asking them to supervise the cease-fire, looked into the air self consciously and paused.

With a slight smile he said something like this:

And now, gentlemen, I come to a less agreeable task — certain costs. This conference has been peculiar one. It has no general secretariat. I suggest that we, er, ah, leave certain costs up to the discretion and enterprise of the two chairmen.

Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov was the conference's other chairman.

Molotov said nothing. No one said anything. A delegate present described it as "An unusual and somewhat awful silence."

Ah, yes, said Eden, changing the subject, our work has been long and intricate.

Few, if any, delegates will dispute the report that refreshments are the big unpaid bill of the conference, and they may be considerable.

Forty-six meetings were held at the Palace of Nations and nearly all of them featured what is known in diplomat circles as "tea breaks."

Rain Maker Not Needed

PARIS, Ky., July 21 (AP)—Rainfall estimated at 3½ inches fell here today on the eve of a campaign to raise $18,000 to employ a cloud-seeding firm to knock some precipitation out of the sky.

Mammoth Army Camera Has Range Up To 30 Miles

FT. MONMOUTH, N.J., July 21 (AP)—The Army Signal Corps today announced development of a long-distance "peeping Tom" camera which can peer across battle lines up to 30 miles into enemy territory.

The mammoth camera is built about a 100-inch telephoto lens which was developed in the Signal Corps Engineering Laboratories here. It permits battlefield pictures to be taken when aerial photo flights are not possible due to weather or enemy action.

Using the long f: 12.5 infra-red lens, the Signal Corps says the camera can record images up to 30 miles away, depending on weather conditions and the height from which the picture is taken.

Pictures already have been taken at distances up to 25 miles.

So penetrating is the camera's eye, that it can pick out details of a jeep or other targets six miles away.

It can be used in closed support of military missions, such as watching for enemy activity, locating fortifications, obstacles, supply points, artillery and other military features.

The camera also is adopted to civilian use, such as providing constant vigilance over forest areas to detect and help fight forest fires.

Another, from the top of a Manhattan skyscraper, pointed toward New Jersey, shows the New Jersey turnpike (about six miles away) in the foreground, with the U.S. Veterans Hospital at Orange, N.J., 14 miles away, clearly depicted.

The camera can show an area a third of a mile wide at six miles away. At closer range, the coverage at 500 yards from the camera is about 105 feet wide.

Hopes For Bleeding Boy's Life Increase

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio, July 21 (AP)—Tears rolled down 6-year-old Eddie Phillips' cheeks today, but their message was beyond the doctor and his parents. They did see hope in them, however.

Eddie, bleeding almost constantly since his tonsils were removed on July 6. His parents have kept a constant vigil. So has the physician.

The little boy, mouth packed in the hope of blood coagulation, seemed stronger today, having gone for 30 hours without a transfusion. The mouth packing prevented him from talking.

The townfolks have been backing Eddie and his parents and there has been no lack of blood donors.

Eddie, says the physician who has asked that his name not be used, still is a pretty sick boy, but hope is high today that he will live.

4,300,000 Bushel Corn Crop In W. Va. Forecast

CHARLESTON, W. Va., July 21 (AP)—A forecast of 4,300,000 bushels for West Virginia's commercial apple crop this year was offered today by the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service.

The estimate represents a 35-per cent increase over the final estimate of 3,176,000 bushels harvested last year, and 21 per cent above the average output in 1943-52.

House OKs Hike In Vet Payments

WASHINGTON, July 21 (AP)—The House voted 339-0 today to raise compensation payments to disabled veterans, and the only big objection raised was that the legislation isn't generous enough.

The bill, which now goes to the Senate, would:

Confine the increase to veterans, and dependents of veterans, whose disabilities were service - connected.

Raise the payments to these veterans by approximately 5 per cent of what they are getting now. The payment scale varies according to the disability.

Give a widow without children $87 a month instead of $75, for instance, and a dependent parent would get $75 instead of $60.

Heat Wave Ends In Some Sections

[By The Associated Press]

Rain and cool weather brought relief from heat and drought in some sections of the nation Wednesday.

The heat wave has claimed more than 300 lives in the last two weeks.

Cool air from Canada spread southward between the Rockies and the Middle Atlantic states as far south as Kentucky.

Rain fell in heavy amounts in southern West Virginia, Ohio, northern Indiana, northern Illinois and eastern Iowa. Some areas in these states recorded more than an inch of precipitation.

Local showers were reported in the lower Ohio Valley and southern Illinois, but not enough fell to cause much relief.

Searing heat continued in the Southwest, the South, and the Central and Southern Plains states. In Gage, Okla., it was 104. Emporia, Kan., 98, and Fort Smith, Ark., 100.

Coolest spot in the nation was Mullan Pass, Mont., where light rain and snow brought a temperature of 36.

Since July 7, the number of deaths caused by the hot weather blanketing the South, Midwest and Southern Plains states now total 301.

Third 60,000-Ton Aircraft Carrier Is Named Ranger

WASHINGTON, July 21 (AP)—The Navy today gave the honored name of Ranger to the third 60,000-ton aircraft carrier of the Forrestal Class now under construction at Newport News, Va.

The Forrestal, nearing completion at the same yard, was named after the first secretary of defense. The second of the huge atomic age carriers is being built at the Brooklyn, N.Y., Navy yard and has already been assigned the name of Saratoga, recalling the Revolutionary War battle at that place, also the exploits of the carrier Saratoga in World War II.

The first Ranger was built at Portsmouth, N.H., in 1777. She was a wooden frigate which sailed against the British under the command of John Paul Jones.

Sen. Murray To Face D'Ewart In Montana

HELENA, Mont., July 21 (AP)—Democrat James E. Murray, 78, of Montana, who has been in the Senate longer than all but five of his colleagues, sets his sights on his fourth consecutive full term in the November election.

Murray, who didn't take the time to come home and campaign, gave two opponents a resounding trimming for his party's nomination in yesterday's quiet primary.

His opponent in November will be Wesley A. D'Ewart, 64, who is seeking to switch over to the Senate after nine years as a Republican congressman.

Murray piled up a margin of better than 12-1—48,597 votes in 718 of the state's 1,094 precincts to 3,912 for Sam G. Feezell, a former Great Falls smelter worker, and 3,857 for Ray E. Gulick, a Joplin farmer.

D'Ewart is the senior Republican on the House Interior and Insular Affairs Committee. He registered 34,132 votes in 720 precincts to 7,533 for Robert Yellowtail, a Crow Indian leader from Lodge Grass.

Senators Plan Coast-To-Coast Housing Probe

WASHINGTON, July 21 (AP) — A cross-country tour seeking further evidence of alleged housing irregularities was projected today by the Senate Banking Committee.

Taking a breather in its public probe of profits to builders from FHA-insured loans which exceed actual costs, the committee tentatively agreed on a new schedule of coast-to-coast hearings and asked another $150,000 to continue its work.

Chairman Capehart (R-Ind) said he does not see any end to the spreading investigation, and predicted the inquiry may run into 1955.

The Senate, which voted the committee $150,000 in April to start its study, must pass on the group's request for another appropriation of the same size.

Meantime, Sen. Maybank (D-SC), senior Democrat on the committee, charged that housing officials were not moving quickly enough to end alleged abuses.

Maybank also criticized the Defense Department for failing to block what he said might be "corruption" in the operation of the military housing program.

His outburst came during a routine confirmation hearing on President Eisenhower's appointment of Norman P. Mason, New England lumberman, to head the Federal Housing Administration.

Mason has been acting F. H. A. commissioner since April, when his predecessor, Guy T. O. Hollyday of Baltimore, was ousted as the housing investigation started. The committee questioned Mason for a few minutes, then recommended his confirmation to the Senate.

Earlier the committee, meeting in closed session, had tentatively decided on this hearing schedule:

New York City Aug. 24, Los Angeles Aug. 31, New Orleans Sept. 7, Chicago Sept. 14, Cleveland Sept. 21, New York again on Sept. 28 and Washington Oct. 5.

Miss USA Favorite Has 3-Year-Old Son

LONG BEACH, Calif., July 21 (AP)—Miss Montana, one of the favorites to become Miss USA tonight, was disclosed today to be the mother of a 3-year-old son.

But a spokesman for the Miss Universe pageant said motherhood, marriage or divorce never has been a bar for contestants.

"We even had one once that had a 9-year-old kid," the spokesman added.

Dawn Oney, 22, ringer for Marilyn Monroe, already has won a trophy as the popular choice for the Miss USA crown.

She formerly was married to her hometown sweetheart, Harvey Carlson, now a mining engineer in Japan. Both hailed from Mankato, Minn. They were divorced last year because of incompatibility, she said.

McCarthy, Cohn Invited

WASHINGTON, July 21 (AP)—Sen. Jenner (R-Ind) said today that Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) and Roy M. Cohn have been invited to testify next Tuesday before a rules subcommittee studying proposals to improve congressional investigating procedures.

"Stop Gap" Solution

WASHINGTON, July 21 (AP)—Gen. John E. Hull, U.S. Far East commander, said today the truce in Indochina is a "stop gap solution" and will be a temporary one "unless some strength is developed to oppose Communist aggression in that area."

Warships For Japan

CHARLESTON, S.C., July 21 (AP)—Two Charleston-based destroyers will be loaned to Japan under the mutual defense assistance pact, probably in October, the Navy announced today.

TRAIN-TRUCK COLLISION — No one was injured when this trailer truck and an Erie Railroad freight train collided yesterday in Newark, N. J. The truck, nearly cut in half by the diesel locomotive, was thrown against a utility pole which snapped off. The truck's cargo of liquid starch in cartons spilled out. The truck driver, Alfred Gallo, 32, Linden, N. J., was shaken up but needed no medical treatment.

Cost Of Geneva Drinks Unpaid

GENEVA, July 21 (AP)—The Geneva conference closed today with one major issue unsettled: Who's going to pick up the tab for the drinks?

Britain's dapper Anthony Eden delicately raised the question early in the final session and nobody offered to pay.

As chairman of the last meeting Eden, after suggesting the chair send telegrams to Canada, Poland and India asking them to supervise the cease-fire, looked into the air self consciously and paused.

With a slight smile he said something like this:

And now, gentlemen, I come to a less agreeable task — certain costs. This conference has been peculiar one. It has no general secretariat. I suggest that we, er, ah, leave certain costs up to the discretion and enterprise of the two chairmen.

Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov was the conference's other chairman.

Molotov said nothing. No one said anything. A delegate present described it as "An unusual and somewhat awful silence."

Ah, yes, said Eden, changing the subject, our work has been long and intricate.

Few, if any, delegates will dispute the report that refreshments are the big unpaid bill of the conference, and they may be considerable.

Forty-six meetings were held at the Palace of Nations and nearly all of them featured what is known in diplomat circles as "tea breaks."

Mammoth Army Camera Has Range Up To 30 Miles

FT. MONMOUTH, N.J., July 21 (AP)—The Army Signal Corps today announced development of a long-distance "peeping Tom" camera which can peer across battle lines up to 30 miles into enemy territory.

The mammoth camera is built about a 100-inch telephoto lens which was developed in the Signal Corps Engineering Laboratories here. It permits battlefield pictures to be taken when aerial photo flights are not possible due to weather or enemy action.

Using the long f: 12.5 infra-red lens, the Signal Corps says the camera can record images up to 30 miles away, depending on weather conditions and the height from which the picture is taken.

Pictures already have been taken at distances up to 25 miles.

So penetrating is the camera's eye, that it can pick out details of a jeep or other targets six miles away.

It can be used in closed support of military missions, such as watching for enemy activity, locating fortifications, obstacles, supply points, artillery and other military features.

The camera also is adopted to civilian use, such as providing constant vigilance over forest areas to detect and help fight forest fires.

Another, from the top of a Manhattan skyscraper, pointed toward New Jersey, shows the New Jersey turnpike (about six miles away) in the foreground, with the U.S. Veterans Hospital at Orange, N.J., 14 miles away, clearly depicted.

The camera can show an area a third of a mile wide at six miles away. At closer range, the coverage at 500 yards from the camera is about 105 feet wide.

Hopes For Bleeding Boy's Life Increase

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio, July 21 (AP)—Tears rolled down 6-year-old Eddie Phillips' cheeks today, but their message was beyond the doctor and his parents. They did see hope in them, however.

Eddie, bleeding almost constantly since his tonsils were removed on July 6. His parents have kept a constant vigil. So has the physician.

The little boy, mouth packed in the hope of blood coagulation, seemed stronger today, having gone for 30 hours without a transfusion. The mouth packing prevented him from talking.

The townfolks have been backing Eddie and his parents and there has been no lack of blood donors.

Eddie, says the physician who has asked that his name not be used, still is a pretty sick boy, but hope is high today that he will live.

4,300,000 Bushel Corn Crop In W. Va. Forecast

CHARLESTON, W. Va., July 21 (AP)—A forecast of 4,300,000 bushels for West Virginia's commercial apple crop this year was offered today by the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service.

The estimate represents a 35-per cent increase over the final estimate of 3,176,000 bushels harvested last year, and 21 per cent above the average output in 1943-52.

House OKs Hike In Vet Payments

WASHINGTON, July 21 (AP)—The House voted 339-0 today to raise compensation payments to disabled veterans, and the only big objection raised was that the legislation isn't generous enough.

The bill, which now goes to the Senate, would:

Confine the increase to veterans, and dependents of veterans, whose disabilities were service - connected.

Raise the payments to these veterans by approximately 5 per cent of what they are getting now. The payment scale varies according to the disability.

Give a widow without children $87 a month instead of $75, for instance, and a dependent parent would get $75 instead of $60.

Damage Suit Ruling Slated For Appeals Court Hearing

The damage suits arising from the deaths of three person in a local apartment have taken another step in their long journey through Allegany County Circuit Court.

Six suits have been filed against Abraham Feldstein for $164,000 damages in the deaths of Marvin Paul Bohon, Pearl Elizabeth Wandless and Flora Ellen Wandless on November 17, 1953.

They were asphyxiated while asleep in a North Centre Street apartment owned by Feldstein. Police found an overheated hot water heater.

The original declarations were amended. Demurrers were filed in the original suits and Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris upheld them in favor of the defendant.

Amended Suits Filed

Amended suits were filed, each with four counts, and the defense counsel again filed demurrers against them.

The latest court action finds Judge Harris sustained three of the demurrers in favor of the defense. The other was overruled.

Walter C. Capper, former Circuit Court judge, who with Thomas N. Berry represents the Bohon child after a conference with Thomas L. Richards and J. Pat Nichols of Parsons, who represents Anne Mae Wandless, administratrix of the estate of the other two victims, said they would appeal Judge Harris's ruling to the Maryland Court of Appeals.

The first count of this second amended declaration deals with the fact that the gas heater was not installed as per the set of instructions that accompanied it. The instructions said it must be connected to a flue having suitable draft. The counsel for the plaintiffs said this constituted a latent defect.

Judge Harris said in his opinion: "An unvented gas hot water heater could not possibly be considered a latent defect. The lack of a pipe connecting the heater to a flue is as apparent to the tenant as to the landlord. The set of instructions that were delivered with the heater did not change the basic law." The plaintiffs were not allowed to amend this count.

The second count said the heater was unlawfully and negligently installed, that the air port adjusting mechanism was separate from the valve used by the persons in the apartment. This constituted a hidden defect, the plaintiffs alleged.

But Judge Harris in an earlier opinion held that the fact that the landlord "should have known" about the air port and should have adjusted it properly, was a minority view. Judge Harris said there must be actual knowledge of the defendant knowing his duty to discover such defects.

The plaintiffs were given the right to reverse this count.

Claimed Nuisance

The fourth count, on which the demurrer was upheld, said the unvented heater with its improperly adjusted air port constituted a nuisance.

Judge Harris said a nuisance is a thing or condition on the premises, offensive or harmful to those who are off the premise.

Machinery or fixtures which are harmless when at rest and dangerous only when in use are not nuisances. The thing itself must work some unlawful peril to the health or safety, such as defective cesspools, walls and chimneys liable to fall, and unguarded excavation, the judge opined.

When the tenant puts the devise in operation he cannot receive damages for anything that might result.

Violated Ordinance

However, the judge said the demurrer to the third count was overruled. The third count charges that the defendant installed the heater in violation of a city ordinance and that this directly resulted in the deaths.

"If failure to perform duty imposed by ordinance is proximate cause of accident resulting in plaintiff's death, landlord would be liable," the judge ruled.

The counsel for the plaintiffs said they could take this big damage case to trial on the strength of this one count. However, Capper said they are going to await the decision of the Appeals court on Judge Harris' rulings that threw out the other three counts. The trial will probably be held during the October term of Circuit Court.

Edward T. Beall Is Acquitted

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio, July 21 (AP)—A Scioto County Common Pleas Court jury of seven women and five men today returned a directed verdict of acquittal in the case of Edward T. Beall, former Portsmouth City manager charged with embezzlement.

Judge Vernon Smith sustained a motion of Defense Attorney E. G. Littleton, made yesterday, asking for a directed verdict of acquittal because the State had failed to show a crime had been committed.

Directs Verdict

A previous motion to dismiss had been overruled.

Beall was accused of embezzlement of $738.81 from the city-operated Portsmouth General Hospital. He had been acting head of the hospital while city manager.

Judge Smith said in directing the jury to return a verdict of acquittal criminal charges must be proven without reason of a doubt and indictment does not presume guilt. He praised prosecuting attorney William H. Harsha Jr. for presentation of the case but added that "evidence cannot be manufactured."

Gratified At Verdict

Beall, who resigned as manager of Montgomery County, Md., after an indictment had been returned against him, embraced his wife after the verdict today and said he was going to return to Silver Spring, Md., to make his permanent home. He said he might make an effort to be restored to his job as county manager.

Said Beall: "I am gratified and relieved as to the verdict. I believe a directed verdict was the best thing I could have expected. It supports my contention of my innocence.

Firemen Kept Busy By Farm Blazes

FREDERICK, July 21 (AP) — A rash of farm fires, including an all-day blaze near Johnsville on Maryland 75 kept fire companies in Frederick, Carroll and Montgomery counties on the run yesterday.

The most serious blaze was on the farm of John C. Smith where sparks from a burning strawrick set fire to a 60-stanchion dairy barn.

Destroyed were the recently-remodeled barn, 600 bushels of newly threshed wheat, 2,500 bales of hay, 1,500 bales straw, 300 bushels of barley, 300 bushels of oats, a silo and its load of grass ensilage, an adjoining dairy house and electrical milking equipment.

There was no estimate of the loss.

The Union Bridge Volunteer Fire Dept. had been called about 10:30 a.m. to put out the burning rick and were getting the upper hand on the blaze when it spread to the barn 25 feet away. Firemen from Frederick, New Windsor and Westminster joined the fight and finally extinguished the blaze about 5 p.m. Firemen were still standing by the smoking ruins tonight.

A second barn fire, on the farm of Nettie Wood, near Monrovia, drew firemen from Mt. Airy and Hyattstown. That blaze was blamed on spontaneous combustion. It leveled a 45 by 60, foot one-story bank barn, used for cattle and horses, 650 bales of hay and 330-bushels of wheat.

A tenant on the farm said he had just finished lunch and stepped out on the porch when he saw smoke coming from the barn. Then, he said, he heard a dull explosion and the windows, doors and ends of the barn were blown out.

Other blazes were in fields where combining or baling operations were under way.

One destroyed five acres of standing wheat on the Fulton Green farm, 3 miles north of Mt. Airy on Maryland 27. Another burned four acres on the Stewart Walker farm near Browningsville, Montgomery County while Walker was baling.

Others were blamed on a leaky tractor gas tank at Gist, and a cigarette thrown from a passing car into a stubble wheat field near Sykesville, both in Carroll County.

French Port Is Closed After Bomb, Mine Found

PARIS, July 21 (AP)—Two English Channel steamers were held in Boulogne harbor today after the discovery of a World War II 500-pound bomb and a magnetic mine in nearby waters.

The port was closed this morning.

The bomb was picked up yesterday by the dredge Francois Leveque. It was made harmless this afternoon, but not until after the same dredge spotted the mine.

Laboratory tests show that women are more sensitive to touch than men.

Rep. Roosevelt Denies He Made Money On Pair Of Slum Projects

NEW YORK, July 21 (AP)—Rep. Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. (D-Lib-NY) said yesterday he didn't get a penny out of two projected slum clearance projects now under congressional study.

The New York World-Telegram and Sun linked the son of the former President to the slum-clearance projects, but said no evidence of fraud was implied.

In a statement, Roosevelt replied:

"Because of the fact that many friends of mine want me to be a candidate for governor of New York, the New York World-Telegram and Sun in its headlines regarding the Manhattantown project has tried to twist something of which I am proud into something that they would make reprehensible."

The newspaper story said the Washington investigation had uncovered what were described officially as "questionable practices" in connection with the projects.

It did not describe the "questionable practices", but said they may be unfolded before the Senate Banking Committee in public hearings.

The account said both the Housing and Home Finance Agency and the Senate Banking Committee are investigating the Manhattantown and Washington Square Southeast projects.

In Washington, members of the Senate Banking Committee said they had no intention of probing slum clearance programs at the present time and had made no preliminary investigation.

But an aide to Sen. Byrd (D-Va), chairman of the Joint Committee on Reduction of Nonessential Expenditures, told newsmen that group has had several projects under study for some time, including the Washington Square development.

Byrd recently asked federal housing officials if final approval has been given this redevelopment project. Albert M. Cole, head of the Housing and Home Finance Agency, said it had not.

Byrd has contended that the slum clearance program is an "open invitation" to abuse at the local level.

Sen. Lehman (D-Lib-NY), a banking committee member, was asked by newsmen if he knew Roosevelt's law firm had any interest in either development project. He said he did not and added he had "complete confidence in the integrity" of young Roosevelt.

Roosevelt said he and his law firm — Roosevelt, Freidin & Littauer—donated $25,000 worth of legal aid to the sponsors of the 37½ million dollar Manhattantown project in his own district. They refused any legal fees for their aid, the congressman added.

Roosevelt contended further that his law partners alone represented sponsors of the 25-million-dollar Washington Square Southeast development. Roosevelt added that he won't share in legal fees, if any. The Washington Square project is outside his district.

Neither project has gotten beyond the planning stage.

Of the Manhattantown project in his own district, Roosevelt said:

"This is the kind of thing congressmen should do for the welfare of their constituents. Neither I now my law firm received any legal fee or other financial renumeration for services."

Mrs. Roosevelt Denies FDR Knew In Advance Of Pearl Harbor Raid

NEW YORK, July 21 (AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt says it's ridiculous to contend that her late husband knew in advance of the attack on Pearl Harbor.

Adm. Robert A. Theobald, in his recent book, "The Final Secret of Pearl Harbor," wrote that President Roosevelt knew of the attack and failed to notify military commanders in Hawaii.

In her regular column in McCall's magazine, which is on the newsstands today, Mrs. Roosevelt writes:

"I am quite certain my husband did not know about Pearl Harbor in advance.

"Notification to the people in the field would have come from the military generals anyway, and not directly from my husband. But to suppose that he knew and deliberately withheld such information from the people in command is simply ridiculous, and many people who saw him the day of the attack will corroborate my statements that he was shocked and horrified, as well as surprised."

Long Distance Phone Dial Setup To Start In Baltimore Areas

BALTIMORE, July 21 (AP) — The first long distance dialing setup in Maryland — excluding Washington suburbs—goes into effect in some Baltimore areas on Sunday.

Starting at 12:05 a.m. Sunday, most of the people in the areas concerned will be able to dial directly to Baltimore, Annapolis and other Maryland communities without using a long distance operator. They will also be able to dial direct to Newark, N. J., Washington, Philadelphia, New York, Boston, Detroit, Chicago and Cleveland.

Calls are recorded on punched paper tape by electronic equipment which shows the date, time, number called and the number from which it was made. Other machines "read" the tape and prepare a statement for the customer.

G. C. Hicks, division manager of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Co., announced the change.

The areas from which it will be possible to dial long distance points directly include a crescent shaped section from northeast to southeast Baltimore, and the southeast section of the city, plus Dundalk.

About 21,200 telephones are involved in the changes.

Pragmatic philosophy reasons that "if it works, it's good."

Best news of the season—watermelon acreage in the U. S. has been increased 12 per cent.

In England, waffles are called "crossword pancakes."

On The Line

by Bob Considine

NEW YORK (INS)—One of the great problems facing this country is how to win friends and influence people overseas. We spend millions each year in this pursuit. Some feel we're doing real good in this line. Some think we're preposterously inept.

Heard and watched a member of the dissent side on Ann Gillis Slocum's "Comment" show on NBC Monday night. Talented young fellow named Jim Robinson. Robinson, fresh back from Indochina, struck a realistic vein. He said:

"The Communists are on the victory march in Asia. The Communists' ultimate goal is to conquer all the Far East. They say so and they're in the process of doing it. The Communist operation in Asia is pure and simple totalitarian aggression. But it's disguised under "national" movements, "reform" movements and such slogans as "Asia for the Asians."

"Right now," Robinson continued, "the Communists are winning vast stretches of territory and millions of people in the Far East. They're doing this easily and rapidly. Why is this happening? Simply because there's no one willing or, if willing, able to go all out and stop them.

"Certainly no Asian country has the wherewithal to halt this Red aggression. And no group of Asian countries bound together in mutual defense has the combined strength to halt it.

"Through Asian eyes, Korea was a Communist victory, and there's a similar victory now in Indochina. Always the same story—the backdown in the free world, abandonment of millions of people to the Reds.

"The price of our constant appeasement to communism in the Orient is beyond immediate calculation, but this is what's happening in the yet free Far Eastern nations. These countries now feel they have the proof the West isn't willing to face a showdown—not willing to use force to stop force. So these countries are in the process of their agonizing reappraisal of the situation.

"Already many of these countries are frantically trying to achieve the role of neutralism. Many are casting secret feelers toward the Peiping regime. These nations want to see if a deal can be made—a deal whereby they might be able to co-exist with the Communists—or if it might be possible to retain some sort of national sovereignty if and when all Asia goes Red."

Robinson on the peace proposals:

"Look what's happening in north Vietnam. You have there millions of ardent nationalists who are anti-colonists. They are anti-Communist. Our leaders promised to save these people from communism barely two months ago. But today we seem to be joining in the nefarious act of handing these people over to the Reds. What example does this serve to the rest of Asia? What would you think if you were an Asian?

". . . Let's take an example of how the Communists operate in the field and how the U. S. operates. We will pick an unnamed Asian nation yet free. We want this country as an ally. The Reds want it as a satellite. We pick a nice university graduate — clean cut, intelligent, honest, with a realization that his job is to inform the people how nice democracy is and how bad communism is. But this man has never been to Asia, doesn't know the language.

"He arrives and moves into a lovely home, has servants, a car and chauffeur and an air-conditioned office. Our man zealously goes to work putting out slick paper pamphlets about how nice America is and what rats the Communists are. Good stuff for readers in Kansas City, but remote to the man in the street in Asia.

"Now comes the Communist equivalent. First, he is an Asian. He speaks the local language, he lives with the people, he is one of them. But he also is highly trained, a specialist in Communist double talk. When the Mr. Wong of Asia sits down in his local tea shop he meets this ardent Communist. But Mr. Wong doesn't realize this man is an agent. For this man speaks his language, talks of all the things bothering Mr. Wong. And, of course, adds his very cleverly planted seeds of revolt. . . A distorted picture.

"Either we now move in and take over much of the control of Asia or the Communists will. It is as brutally simple as that. If we're not willing or able to do this then the Communists surely will rule all Asia in the years to come."

Well said, Jim Robinson.

On The Line

by Bob Considine

NEW YORK (INS)—One of the great problems facing this country is how to win friends and influence people overseas. We spend millions each year in this pursuit. Some feel we're doing real good in this line. Some think we're preposterously inept.

Heard and watched a member of the dissent side on Ann Gillis Slocum's "Comment" show on NBC Monday night. Talented young fellow named Jim Robinson. Robinson, fresh back from Indochina, struck a realistic vein. He said:

"The Communists are on the victory march in Asia. The Communists' ultimate goal is to conquer all the Far East. They say so and they're in the process of doing it. The Communist operation in Asia is pure and simple totalitarian aggression. But it's disguised under "national" movements, "reform" movements and such slogans as "Asia for the Asians."

"Right now," Robinson continued, "the Communists are winning vast stretches of territory and millions of people in the Far East. They're doing this easily and rapidly. Why is this happening? Simply because there's no one willing or, if willing, able to go all out and stop them.

"Certainly no Asian country has the wherewithal to halt this Red aggression. And no group of Asian countries bound together in mutual defense has the combined strength to halt it.

"Through Asian eyes, Korea was a Communist victory, and there's a similar victory now in Indochina. Always the same story—the backdown in the free world, abandonment of millions of people to the Reds.

"The price of our constant appeasement to communism in the Orient is beyond immediate calculation, but this is what's happening in the yet free Far Eastern nations. These countries now feel they have the proof the West isn't willing to face a showdown—not willing to use force to stop force. So these countries are in the process of their agonizing reappraisal of the situation.

"Already many of these countries are frantically trying to achieve the role of neutralism. Many are casting secret feelers toward the Peiping regime. These nations want to see if a deal can be made—a deal whereby they might be able to co-exist with the Communists—or if it might be possible to retain some sort of national sovereignty if and when all Asia goes Red."

Robinson on the peace proposals:

"Look what's happening in north Vietnam. You have there millions of ardent nationalists who are anti-colonists. They are anti-Communist. Our leaders promised to save these people from communism barely two months ago. But today we seem to be joining in the nefarious act of handing these people over to the Reds. What example does this serve to the rest of Asia? What would you think if you were an Asian?

". . . Let's take an example of how the Communists operate in the field and how the U. S. operates. We will pick an unnamed Asian nation yet free. We want this country as an ally. The Reds want it as a satellite. We pick a nice university graduate — clean cut, intelligent, honest, with a realization that his job is to inform the people how nice democracy is and how bad communism is. But this man has never been to Asia, doesn't know the language.

"He arrives and moves into a lovely home, has servants, a car and chauffeur and an air-conditioned office. Our man zealously goes to work putting out slick paper pamphlets about how nice America is and what rats the Communists are. Good stuff for readers in Kansas City, but remote to the man in the street in Asia.

"Now comes the Communist equivalent. First, he is an Asian. He speaks the local language, he lives with the people, he is one of them. But he also is highly trained, a specialist in Communist double talk. When the Mr. Wong of Asia sits down in his local tea shop he meets this ardent Communist. But Mr. Wong doesn't realize this man is an agent. For this man speaks his language, talks of all the things bothering Mr. Wong. And, of course, adds his very cleverly planted seeds of revolt. . . A distorted picture.

"Either we now move in and take over much of the control of Asia or the Communists will. It is as brutally simple as that. If we're not willing or able to do this then the Communists surely will rule all Asia in the years to come."

Well said, Jim Robinson.

Face Shape Is Important To Hairdo

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Beauty Editor

It isn't easy to determine the shape of your own face, says hairdresser Victor Vito in his new book "Top Secrets of Hair Styling."

Vito believes that not only the face but its features and the hair around it, hairline and neckline, plus necklaces, earrings and makeup affect the total shape of your face.

Three important lines have an effect on the apparent shape of your face, according to Vito. He suggests that you observe them by shampooing your hair with egg white, massage it briskly into a lather and while it is still in a lather manipulate your hair to discover your most flattering hair style. Egg white, he says, is best for this procedure because soap may dry your hair if left on for long periods.

Here's how:

1. Comb the hair back without a part and see if that makes your face look too long. While it is still without a part, gradually comb the top a bit forward so that it bulges over the forehead, keeping it close to the head at the top sides. Pull the top sides out so they will give you some width.

2. Part your hair in the center and draw it straight down to the sides. Gradually comb the top front backwards. At each step (pulling it back on each side, step by step) look to see what the effect is. Keep the top sides flat. Then make the top sides wide.

3. Part your hair on the side. Try several slants. With each side parting first comb the hair flat and to the side. Then comb it flat and toward the back. Begin giving it a bit of height. Bulge it out over the forehead. Make the top sides flat; then make the top sides wide.

Each of these three lines will do something for your face, Vito explains. Some will make it look wide, others will make it look thin. But these should give you some indication of what lines should be used in your hairdo.

Hair can be made to draw attention away from defects if it is styled properly, Vito says. Even if you can't find a good hairdresser, if you understand the basic elements involved in arranging hair, you can work with your hairdresser more intelligently, he says.

Face Shape Is Important To Hairdo

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Beauty Editor

It isn't easy to determine the shape of your own face, says hairdresser Victor Vito in his new book "Top Secrets of Hair Styling."

Vito believes that not only the face but its features and the hair around it, hairline and neckline, plus necklaces, earrings and makeup affect the total shape of your face.

Three important lines have an effect on the apparent shape of your face, according to Vito. He suggests that you observe them by shampooing your hair with egg white, massage it briskly into a lather and while it is still in a lather manipulate your hair to discover your most flattering hair style. Egg white, he says, is best for this procedure because soap may dry your hair if left on for long periods.

Here's how:

1. Comb the hair back without a part and see if that makes your face look too long. While it is still without a part, gradually comb the top a bit forward so that it bulges over the forehead, keeping it close to the head at the top sides. Pull the top sides out so they will give you some width.

2. Part your hair in the center and draw it straight down to the sides. Gradually comb the top front backwards. At each step (pulling it back on each side, step by step) look to see what the effect is. Keep the top sides flat. Then make the top sides wide.

3. Part your hair on the side. Try several slants. With each side parting first comb the hair flat and to the side. Then comb it flat and toward the back. Begin giving it a bit of height. Bulge it out over the forehead. Make the top sides flat; then make the top sides wide.

Each of these three lines will do something for your face, Vito explains. Some will make it look wide, others will make it look thin. But these should give you some indication of what lines should be used in your hairdo.

Hair can be made to draw attention away from defects if it is styled properly, Vito says. Even if you can't find a good hairdresser, if you understand the basic elements involved in arranging hair, you can work with your hairdresser more intelligently, he says.

Carr Sentenced To One Year On Forgery Charge

A father of three children was sentenced to one year in the Maryland Penitentiary when he pleaded guilty to a charge of forgery in Allegany County Circuit Court yesterday morning.

James C. Carr, unemployed 32-year-old local man who said he had been sleeping out in the open for six weeks before he was arrested June 12, was sentenced by Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris.

Assistant State's Attorney James S. Getty informed the court after Carr entered his guilty plea that the man had confessed to breaking and entering the Blackburn Block Plant in Keyser on April 27.

Obtained Blank Checks

Getty said Carr obtained three blank checks of the block company and the following day took them to Cresaptown where he cashed them.

One, for $36.50, using an assumed name on a check he forged in the name of Charles W. Blackburn, he had cashed when he purchased a pack of cigarets. Another for $35 was cashed by a service station where Carr said he told the attendant he owed him for two gallons of gas. The third was for $9.

Carr told authorities in his confession that he used $40 of the money to buy an $80 car at a local used car lot.

Help For Family

Part of the rest, he stated in court today, he gave to his wife and children.

Getty informed the court that Carr left his family after he was furloughed from Fulk's Scrapyard in Keyser last November.

Carr explained that he left them because he couldn't get a job or unemployment benefits, and figured they could get welfare relief.

The assistant state's attorney said a warrant has been issued against him for non-support. Keyser authorities also have a warrant for his arrest on a breaking and entering charge.

FBI Record

Judge Harris noted Carr's record submitted by the FBI which showed he was arrested but not prosecuted for grand larceny in 1940 when he made restitution.

In May 1945 he was given a five-year sentence at Fort Knox, Ky., for repeated AWOL violations. In January 1952 he was given a 30-day suspended sentence on a charge of petty larceny and in January 1954 he was released on a charge of petty larceny in Keyser when he paid a fine.

Judge Harris said Carr was given three chances and felt that he should not get a fourth. After serving his term in the pen, he will face the West Virginia charges.

City Officials Told South End Emergency Outlet Needed

In a letter to the Mayor and Council, F. Perry Smith Jr., president of the Cumberland Box Company, Elder Street, points out the need for an emergency outlet in South End in view of recent heavy rainstorms which resulted in the flooding of the Virginia Avenue subway.

The letter of July 15 states:

"Last night the City of Cumberland was struck by one of the worst storms in its history and it is understood with the greatest amount of precipitation on record for so short a time. As a result of this situation there was considerable flooding of streets and the Virginia Avenue subway in particular. For at least two hours this underpass was flooded so that it could not be used by vehicular traffic and for these hours those homes and business establishments located below the subway were without acecss to police, fire or ambulance services.

Beyond Safety Margin

"The only way to reach the area was by a circuitous route meaning a delay of 20 to 30 minutes in the services which is more than the margin of safety for destruction by fire or death by illness. By an act of God no conflagration was started by the intensive lightning nor to the best of my knowledge no serious illness bordering death occurred during that period but nevertheless the dangerous situation existed and the instance serves to point out a matter that should be remedied.

"Several years ago, and it is understood that for certain agreed remuneration which has not been paid, the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad was given permission to close that crossing at the junction of Springdale Street and Laing Avenue and Thomas Street which would have served as an emergency route. Some similar outlet should be established immediately, for within 30 days Cumberland has been hit with two severe storms and the same may occur in a very short time. Not only is the situation hazardous from a weather standpoint but also from the standpoint of vehicular accidents or a railroad wreck which in turn would block the subway.

(Editor's note—City Hall records indicate that $7,000 was to be allocated for the operation.)

Used By Many Firms

"The Mayor and City Council should be reminded that in this area the transportation system of Cumberland is garaged, the telephone communication vehicles and supplies are stored, the Baltimore & Ohio backshops are located, many trucking terminals and several other business establishments which lend themselves to the economy of the area. Some 500 homes and over 3000 people were isolated from these services last night.

"This matter has been called to the attention of various city groups and it is understood it has been informally discussed in City Hall. For better than two years the writer and other business men located in this area have constantly referred to the matter and it is high time that immediate action be taken to open an alternate emergency route to this area of the town.

"It is further requested that the Mayor and City Council take immediate legislative action to assure full consideration to future closing of railroad crossings so that questionable judgment which has created this dangerous situation mentioned above might be avoided in the future."

Cooperating States Report Slow Down Drive Saves Lives

Reports from the 24 states participating in the 1954 summertime highway safety campaign, Slow Down and Live, show a reduction of nearly seven per cent in traffic deaths for the recent Fourth of July weekend as compared to the same holiday last year.

Maryland and West Virginia were numbered along with five other states, Alabama, Maine, New Hampshire, New Jersey and Texas as holding even with the toll of 1953.

The holiday weekend this year covered a period of three days while Independence Day of 1953 involved only a two-day period.

Highway deaths in the region, which includes every state from Main to Texas, totaled 179 this year in comparison to a total of 192 in 1953.

In Maryland and West Virginia there were five fatalities in both 1954 and 1953. Over in Pennsylvania there were 17 fatalities this year in comparison to 14 last year.

In announcing the figures officials said, "This is a remarkable record in view of the difference in the periods of time covered by the two holidays."

This is the second consecutive 1954 summer holiday during which the Slow Down and Live states showed reductions from the 1953 death figures. During the Memorial Day weekend the states experienced a 16 per cent reduction as compared with last year.

A lawn festival will be held at the Flintstone Methodist Church July 30. Serving will begin at 5.

The social planned by the Mount Tabor Methodist Youth Fellowship for tomorrow, has been postponed until July 30, from 6:30 until 9 p.m.

Attorney General Says He Lacks Power To Intervene In Vote Case

Plea By Mahoney Lawyer Rejected

[By The Associated Press]

Attorney General Edward D. E. Rollins notified an attorney for George P. Mahoney today that he had no power to interfere with the handling of Queen Annes County authorities of his charges of "widespread vote-buying."

The lawyer, Hyman Pressman, had appealed to Rollins and Gov. McKeldin for "effective action" on his charges.

Rollins replied that he has no power under the state constitution to intercede in the affairs of state's attorneys.

In answer to Pressman's objections to Queen Anne's County State's Atty. Clayton C. Carter, Rollins told the attorney his only relief was to ask the courts to name a special prosecutor.

Pressman objects to Carter because the state's attorney was a candidate on the ticket of H. C. Byrd, from whom Mahoney is attempting to wrest the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

The attorney made his plea to Rollins and McKeldin after Carter postponed a decision on whether or not he should disqualify himself as an investigator of the charges.

Carter said he is investigating the case and will decide on the basis of an interview tomorrow what his further role will be. He said he had determined that a man who signed an affidavit saying he had been paid to vote for Byrd actually was a voter.

The state's attorney said he will talk to the man tomorrow.

"The evidence xxx is not investigated while the vote-buyers are given time to advise people not to talk," Pressman said in his telegrams to McKeldin and Rollins.

Later in the day, sparks flew as the Board of Election Supervisors started recounting the ballots in the 6th District.

Pressman asked the board to call the election judges of the district for questioning. He charged the judges were not sworn in until late afternoon on election day and that one of them, Mrs. Jula Mae Massey, did not reside in the district.

He said there were more "irregularities in this district than in any other examined." Many persons voted, Pressman charged, who did not live in the district, the county or state.

"A large number of votes in this box are not qualified votes and adding all things together this election is not legal in Queen Annes County," Pressman said.

This brought from William C. Walsh, former attorney general of Maryland and chief counsel for Dr. Byrd, the rejoiner that Pressman "was just seekmg publicity and that the election in this county was no bigger fraud than he (Pressman)."

Pressman pounded on the table and said, "We want our rights."

Raymond Coursey, president of the board, also pounded the table and denied Pressman's request. He said the election officials from the district already had been before the board and their qualifications had been okayed.

The scene quieted for awhile.

But half an hour later, Mahoney—who has been a spectator practically every day since the recount began—arose from the front row seat in the courtroom and stepped inside the railing and asked to be heard by the court.

Coursey told him, "Shut up and get on the other side of the rail or we will call the sheriff and have you put out of the courtroom."

Pressman jumped to his feet and read from a law book that any candidate for office has a right to sit in on a recount of votes.

The recount in Queen Annes by late today had narrowed Byrd's lead from 53 to 25 votes. But with only 379 ballots left to recount, there was little chance that Mahoney would overcome Byrd's lead.

In Talbot County, Mahoney suffered a setback this afternoon. The Board of Election Supervisors threw out 14 votes in the 4th District's 2nd precinct.

Byrd's attorneys had asked that they be ruled invalid because someone other than the judge had initialed them. Mrs. Leila H. Salusbury, precinct judge, told the board the initials were hers but had been placed on the ballots by someone else while she was out to lunch.

Eleven of the 14 ballots were marked for Mahoney. With only two ballot boxes remaining to be recounted, Byrd led Mahoney by 58 votes, compared to 60 in the unofficial tally.

Bel Air, Battling Water Shortage Receives CD Aid

BEL AIR, Md., July 21 (AP) — Emergency water pumping equipment was tentatively made available to Bel Air by Civil Defense officials today as Army trucks continued to carry water into the drought-hit town.

Maryland defense officials said regional federal defense authorities gave tentative approval to use of emergency pumping and filtration equipment, including two miles of 8-inch pipe. Formal approval was expected tomorrow.

The equipment will be used to draw water from nearby Winters Run Creek.

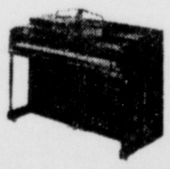

One Bel Air official said the town of 2,600 wasn't "dying of thirst yet" but that the situation was critical with the community short 150,000 gallons of water a day.

Mayor John N. Wilkenson Jr., and the City Council made the emergency request for the equipment. Informal approval was given by State Civil Defense Director Sherley Ewing and Gov. McKeldin.

Governor McKeldin late today signed and Ewing said he mailed an agreement asking the Federal Civil Defense Administration to make available its emergency equipment for Bel Air.

Ewing said he expected to hear something tomorrow.

Murders Will Be Probed By St. Mary's Grand Jury

LEONARDTOWN, Md., July 21 (AP) — State's Atty. Joseph A. Mattingly has announced the St. Mary's County grand jury has been called in special session July 28 to consider two murder cases.

One of the murder charges involves a North Carolina Navy man accused of murdering a WAVE.

The charges are against Carl Willis Strickland, 21-year-old seaman from Rocky Mount, N. C., accused in the slaying of an enlisted WAVE, 26-year-old Irene Marian Conole, former telephone operator from Rochester, N. Y.

The woman's beaten body was found at the edge of the water at Point Lookout, Md., last May 26 and Strickland was arrested later the same day at his home in Rocky Mount.

He has denied the slaying. He said he and the woman had been together the night before and visited several night spots near the Patuxent Naval Air Test Center. Later they picked up a hitch-hiker and Strickland has maintained he left the woman with the hitch-hiker.

Officers have never been able to turn up another man.

The case is one of three to be considered by the jury.

William E. Rudd, 37, Navy enlisted man from San Frrancisco and Winslow, Ariz., is accused of slaying Iona Josephine Davis, 22-year-old wife of his best friend.

Mrs. Davis was found beaten to death April 3rd in quarters she occupied with her husband, James Edward Davis, 22, Navy enlisted man from Akron, O.

Rudd surrendered to police in Washington April 5th.

Probe Of Hicks Death Resumed

LA PLATA, Md., July 21 (AP)— The Charles County Grand Jury had at least 31 more witnesses to hear from as it resumed today its investigation into the death of Louis A. Hicks, 34-year-old crippled war veteran.

The jury has heard from Detective Sgt. G. E. Newcomer, Charles County medical examiner Edward J. Edelen and Ellis Willett, a newspaper carrier, among others.

Hicks was found dead on a Sunday morning last March in his car which had crashed into his house at nearby Port Tobacco.

The case first passed as an accident. It was disclosed after an investigation that the throttle of the car had been taped open and Hicks' wheel chair, in the undamaged trunk of the car, was bent and twisted.

His wife, Dorothy, went to Richmond to live with her father after the death of Hicks. She suffered only minor injuries in the crash, police were told .

Japan's Defense Grows Stronger

Japan's defense posture has been undergoing a gradual metamorphasis since the days of 1946 when shiploads of rifles and small armament were being taken to sea and dumped overside. The Japanese police force, a small constabulary, was organized by Gen. Douglas MacArthur, and increased after the outbreak of the Korean War to a tightly knit force numbering less than 100,000.

It was probably news to most Americans that the Japanese were able to assume some of their own defense problems. Units of the National Safety Force will take over a specific chore, the defense of Hokkaido, the northernmost of the Japanese home islands, later this summer.

The U. S. First Cavalry Division, which has been garrisoning Hokkaido, will be redeployed elsewhere. A half billion dollars worth of American armament already in Japan will be handed over to the safety force.

The Japanese Diet has improved the increase of the safety force into an army with an eventual strength of a quarter of a million men. A navy, in reality a small coast guard, equipped with American patrol ships and landing craft, will also be expanded, and an air force equipped with modern jets and light bombers will be operating within three to four years.

Too often the process of teaching prostrate lands to defend themselves against the Communist menace has been begun too late, as witness the case of Viet Nam. The Russians are poised north of Hokkaido. Instead of asking for trouble, the creation of Japanese military power is insurance of continued co-existence, which disappears when Russian aggression swings into action.

These Days

The New Jersey Case

Former Governor Harold Hoffman, the Rigoletto of the Circus Saints and Sinners, was for many years one of the leading Republicans in New Jersey, and held political positions after he left the governorship. He was a gay extrovert, an excellent raconteur, a brilliant wisecracker and an enormous spendthrift. After Harold Hoffman's sudden death, it was discovered that he had embezzled funds of the bank over which he presided and possibly other funds.

The Hoffman scandal has wracked the Republican organization of New Jersey and has given high hopes to the Democrats. Few Republicans in that state believe that there is any chance of carrying the state in 1954. Worse than the harness-racing scandal in New York State, the Hoffman scandal strikes a blow because it was wholly unexpected. No one even suspected that Harold Hoffman was not an honest official, eking out a difficult existence. He had managed to keep his secret from the public. I had seen Hoffman on many occasions during the past 10 years and he always gave the impression of not having a worry in the world. It was a marvelous performance.

The Harold Hoffman scandal hits hard the candidacy of Clifford Case for the United States Senate. New Jersey Republicans, on the whole, had no desire to nominate Clifford Case. He is an outsider favored by the White House. His affiliations with Paul Hoffman and the Fund for the Republic of the Ford Foundation do not improve his popularity in New Jersey with old-guard Republicans; and the support afforded him by the ADA definitely places him in opposition to those Republicans who believe in local autonomy.

There is an old history of a party split in New Jersey, arising out of the famous alleged double-cross of Senator Robert A. Taft by Governor Alfred Driscoll in the 1952 campaign. Taft was certain that he could carry New Jersey in the primaries and the governor told him that he would be strictly neutral. The governor's emissary was Senator H. Alexander Smith. At the last moment, the governor intervened and Taft lost the state. All the explanations offered by Driscoll and Smith never satisfied the Taft element in New Jersey who, to this day, are antagonistic to the dominant group in the party.

The versions of this particular double-cross are so numerous and varied that it serves no purpose to sit in judgment over them now. Suffice it that it produced a split. The Taft Republicans are responding to the nomination of Clifford Case by opposing his election.

To add fuel to this fire, Clifford Case felt called upon to try to read Senator Joe McCarthy out of the Republican party which, of course, is none of Case's business, that being the proper decision for the Republicans of Wisconsin. Case may feel strongly on the subject but politically it was a foolhardy thing to do.

New Jersey is divided on McCarthy, the line of cleavage being clear and distinct. The Taft element and the old-line Republicans are pro-McCarthy; the New York suburbanites who vote in New Jersey, the Driscoll Republicans and the active Eisenhower Republicans are violently anti-McCarthy. Between them no compromise is possible. Because of the nature of the population of certain cities in New Jersey, an extraordinarily large number of Democrats in New Jersey are pro-McCarthy and while they will not vote for a Republican, they are in a position to stir public feeling.

The unusual situation in New Jersey is that some powerful and influential Republicans are organizing to have Case withdrawn as a candidate. In this effort, they will undoubtedly fail. Some groups are proposing an active campaign to influence Republicans to boycott the election for a United States senator.

The sum total of all this activity is that it is now generally held that Clifford Case will not be elected in New Jersey, despite the support of President Eisenhower. On the other hand, Case has the support of the CIO and other labor leaders. How important this is cannot be estimated because New Jersey labor is essentially Democratic locally, although the Republicans have carried the state for senators. It is doubtful that Case's labor support and the large sums of money at his disposal will offset the split in the Republican party because Republican victories have resulted from adding to the normal Republican vote independent and Democratic elements.

Some Private Industries Once Gave U. S. Secrets To Potential Enemies

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Congressmen who plan to give atomic secrets to private industry under Eisenhower's proposed new atomic energy act might take a look at Justice Department and Senate records to see what private industry did with important secrets in the past.

The record, spelled out in the Truman Committee and Munitions Committee hearings, shows that our potential enemies get access to priceless military secrets, some of them the property of the U. S. Government, as follows:

The Electric Boat Company, now making the atomic submarine, paid commissions to the famed munitions peddler, Sir Basil Zaharoff, to sell submarines around the world; and the U. S. Navy submarine plans were sold to both the Japanese and the Germans around 1914.

The Bausch and Lomb Optical Company made a secret deal with Carl Zeiss of Germany whereby the Germans got the blue prints for the U. S. Navy submarine sights.

Standard Oil of New Jersey made a deal with I. G. Farben of Germany which prevented the United States from developing synthetic rubber for four years.

The Aluminum Corporation of America worked out a monopoly deal with I. G. Farben which kept magnesium away from the American aircraft industry and retarded our production of airplanes.

The Sperry Gyroscope Corporation exchanged valuable patents with German, Italian and Japanese firms, all of them later Axis countries.

The Radio Corporation of America, which had observers attached to the U. S. Army Signal Corps when the Signal Corps developed the priceless secret of radar, hired one of the Signal Corps technicians, William D. Hershberger, and then filed radar patents in Japan and other foreign countries.

After the war the Army asked the Justice Department to examine the case with a view to prosecution. After the war also, RCA hired the recently retired head of the Signal Corps, Gen. Harry Ingles, and the Army promptly lost interest in prosecuting.

This, in brief, is the past record. American industrialists, it is hoped, have attained a higher standard of ethics today, but the atomic energy secrets they would get from the government under the proposed new atomic energy bill are the most valuable in the world. They cost the taxpayer $12,000,000,000 to develop.

Paradoxical Arkansan

Sen. John McClellan, junior senator from Arkansas, whose slow southern drawl and horn-rimmed glasses became known to TV millions during the Army-McCarthy hearings, is a man of puzzling contrasts.

For many years in the Senate McClellan was considered one of McCarthy's stanch supporters. When Democratic senators would line up to count noses regarding an issue dealing with McCarthyism, there were always three colleagues they could not depend on —McCarran of Nevada, Eastland of Mississippi and McClellan of Arkansas, all Democrats. Democratic leaders just never could tell when McClellan would end up voting with Joe.

This was probably because of McClellan's economic ties back in Arkansas. If you look up the clients of McClellan's law firm, Gaughan, McClellan and Gaughan of Camden, you will find that it represents Esso Standard Oil, Tidewater Associated Oil, Seaboard Oil of Delaware, and Carter Oil.

Undoubtedly this explains McClellan's vote for tidelands oil and gives a clue to the overtures which H. L. Hunt, the Texas oil millionaire, has made to McClellan. Hunt, who is a strong backer of McCarthy, a former employer of Mrs. McCarthy, and operates Facts Forum and various TV-radio programs, tried to pressure McClellan at the start of the hearings. Hunt phoned Hamilton Moses, president of Arkansas Power and Light, and told him to have the senator from Arkansas cooperate with the senator from Wisconsin. Moses is very close to McClellan, usually swings his vote on power matters.

This is how the senator from Arkansas has found himself betwixt and between regarding McCarthy. Some of his most powerful friends and political backers were behind McCarthy; yet the Baptists and Methodists of Arkansas were bitterly against him.

This was probably why McClellan, while tangling with McCarthy during the McCarthy hearings, told a reporter for the Arkansas Democrat that personally he liked Joe and had enjoyed a close association with him.

This may also explain why McClellan gave an interview in Little Rock on April 19 stating that he "never had reason to doubt the sincerity of McCarthy in his crusade against communism" and that McCarthy was motivated by the "highest type of Americanism."

That's why many Arkansans who watched their owl-like senator heckle McCarthy during the TV hearings frankly are confused.

Democrats' Mistakes

It's been partially obscured by sensational headlines of housing profits, but the basic trouble with FHA is the fact that the agency was set up by the builders and realtors, administered by the builders and realtors, and run for the benefit of the builders and realtors.

The Democrats deserve plenty of criticism for this setup, but that is no reason for having the Republicans repeat the same mistake.

Indochina Truce: An Hour Of Tragedy For Free World

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON—Communist colonialism is about to be substituted for French colonialism in Indochina. That's the story in brief of the biggest defeat the free world has suffered since the bungling of the Truman-Acheson administration lost China through the withdrawal of moral support from the Chinese Nationalist government at a critical moment.

Now 10,000,000 people are to be handed over to the Communists in Vietnam and another 12,000,000 will come under Communist control in a few months in the rest of the area, along with the rich rice-growing delta and other natural resources of tremendous importance in the march of Communist imperialism.

The governments of France and Britain helped to engineer what amounts to a fateful surrender. The United States is disassociating itself from the settlement but, in deference to its allies, has given the wholly superfluous promise that it will not attempt to disturb the agreement.

Relief In 1938 Too

"Peace," said Secretary of State Dulles at the opening of the Geneva Conference on April 28 last, "is always easy to achieve—by surrender. Unity is also easy to achieve—by surrender. The hard task, the task that confronts us, is to combine peace and unity with freedom."

There will be sighs of relief that the eight-year war in Indochina is over. There were similar sighs of relief when the Korean armistice was signed last year and, indeed, there were similar expressions of popular satisfaction in 1938 when the Chamberlain government made the deal with Hitler whereby a large segment of Czechoslovakian territory was surrendered.

Then it was that many Britons said: "After all, why should we worry about a few million Czechs?" But in a year they were fighting in a world war to retrieve that mistake.

Today in many parts of the free world, including this country, the same sort of comment is heard: "Why should we worry about a few million Asians?"

But if the peace of the world is disturbed by reason of an arrogant action of the Communist imperialists as they become convinced that there never will be any real resistance to further aggression, then it will not be a few million Asians but many millions of Europeans and Americans who could become involved in a global conflict.

Not A Victory

For the defeat incurred by the free world cannot be glossed over in spite of the fact that, whenever any fighting comes to an end in any area of the world, there is always a tendency to feel that some progress has been made. The stoppage of fighting in 1918 and in 1945 followed a clear victory in each case by the Allies against the aggressor. The Indochina truce, like the Korean armistice, is not a victory but a readiness to compromise with aggressors and to sanction their continued hold on many million more people who are to become enslaved.

Were there any alternatives? The responsibility for what has happened must be placed on the peace-at-any-price politicians in France who constantly undermined the morale of their own troops and gave the Communists their opportunity to convert a haphazard and weak movement of Nationalist rebels into a full-fledged military operation wherein Red China supplied much manpower and Soviet Russia furnished much equipment to thwart the highly trained French army.

Throughout Asia the white man now will lose face. The nations which might have been encouraged to become our allies may hesitate. The chances of making an effective Southeast Asia pact depend entirely on whether the French government means to complete the scuttling of Indochina and whether the British will wait until the conflagration touches Malaya before begging the United States to save them.

Indochina could have been kept from the Communists if the French had been willing to internationalize the war. But, while outwardly they wanted American military aid, actually they feared it would prolong their own participation. Premier Mendes-France came into office to liquidate an already bad situation. The French nation had wearied of eight years of war and was ready to call it quits. The premier announced to the world that he was ready to make a deal —and the Communists exacted a high price.

Advancing To Biggest Triumph

So now, with Red China in the process of virtually annexing North Korea in defiance of the U. N. resolution declaring her an aggressor and with a virtual annexation of the rich areas of Indochina, the Communist coalition is advancing to its biggest triumph. The net effect on Japan and on Indonesia, Burma and Thailand will be as discouraging as it will be to the enslaved peoples of Poland, Czechoslovakia, Bulgaria, Romania, Hungary, Latvia, Lithuania and Esthonia—all of which just a few years ago were free countries.

Plainly the trend in Europe on the part of America's allies is toward further surrender to Communist imperialism. This is ominous because some day the Allies will wake up to the imperative need of taking a stand. The Communists will think it is a bluff, as they have regarded every action of recent months. In the end, a third world war can come because there will be no way to avoid a showdown of arms. The Indochina truce, like the so-called peace at Munich, may not prove a harbinger of peace but a precursor of war. It is an hour of great tragedy for the free world.

Baering Down On The News

The Fiddle Faddlers

By Joseph And Stewart Alsop

WASHINGTON

The Pentagon has convincing evidence that the Soviets are now quantity-producing an efficient guided missile capable of being fitted with an atomic or hydrogen warhead, and with enough range to hit any of our overseas airbases except those in Spain and the Mediterranean.

The Pentagon also has probable evidence of a still larger Soviet guided missile, most likely built around the powerful new M-103 rocket engine that the Soviet engineers have perfected. With a range of 1,800 miles, this missile will bring all our trans-Atlantic and trans-Pacific airbases under fire.

Very recently, hard information has been received of a large order placed in Eastern Europe, for special rail cars apparently designed to transport missiles of the larger, longer-range type. This new development, if correctly interpreted, indicates that these missiles are also entering the phase of quantity production.

Such facts as these, in turn, are clear proof that this country is now being treated to an unconscionable amount of fiddle-faddle by its leaders. The kind of thing that the official leadership encourages, and we poor boobs generally fall for, was well illustrated the other day by the Joint Congressional Committee's report on the new atomic energy bill.

"America's preponderance in atomic weapons," smugly declared the committee, "can . . . serve emphatic notice on the Soviet dictators that any attempt . . . to push further anywhere into the free world, would be foredoomed to failure."

Maginot-Line Thinking

Those words were written when the Soviet dictators were finishing a most successful push in Indochina. But that is not the worst of their implied untruths. Their worst untruth is the idea that large numbers of A- and H-bombs, in and of themselves, will always give this country the whip hand in the struggle for the world. This idea is the true "Maginot-line thinking" of the postwar period.

In fact, of course, the Soviet and American A- and H-bomb stockpiles are only one element in the balance of air-atomic power. A-bombs and H-bombs which cannot be delivered are mere expensive toys. In the era of plentiful stocks of the absolute weapons, the ability to deliver the weapons is obviously more important than the weapons themselves.

Nearly a year has passed since the Soviets tested their H-bomb with lithium hydride core, capable of being produced rather rapidly and in large numbers. There is no doubt at all that the Soviets already possess enough A-bombs to inflict terrible wounds on this country. In 18, or 24, or 36 months —for the time is not long—the Soviet A-and H-bomb stockpile will be in the plentiful class.

This in turn confers a somewhat lurid future meaning on the two Soviet guided missiles referred to above. For when the Kremlin has enough A- and H-bombs in stock, the missiles can then be fitted with atomic or hydrogen warheads. And when and if that is done, our overseas airbases will, in effect, cease to be dependable assets.

This physical vulnerability of the bases is still quite largely in the future. In the present, however, there is another tendency of almost equal importance. As the Indochinese affair has shown, our allies are less and less willing to risk a collision of will with the Kremlin, because of their growing fear of Soviet air-atomic strength. That means that many of our overseas bases are also politically vulnerable.

Threat To Overseas Airbases

No secrets will be revealed to the enemy, but no doubt Americans will be surprised to learn, that the loss of our overseas airbases from any cause, whether military or political, will be the exact equivalent of the physical destruction of approximately 60 per cent of the Strategic Air Command.

General Curtiss LeMay's great force has been planned just big enough to do its job from the overseas airbases. Last year, the Eisenhower administration actually cut back SAC growth, on the ground that SAC did not need extra long range air groups.

SAC now mainly relies on its superb medium rangebomber, the B-47. These planes can reach Soviet targets from American bases, but only by the difficult, dangerous and time-consuming process of double air-refuelling. If this expedient has to be resorted to, the B-47s will only be able to make about 40 per cent as many sorties as they could from the overseas bases. Obviously, cutting the number of possible sorties is just like cutting the number of available aircraft.

The Pentagon has effectively admitted the danger to our overseas airbases, by giving SAC a big tanker program, to increase air-refuelling capacity. But no steps are planned to give SAC more bombers, or to speed B-47 production, which could be doubled in six months. And so the threat to our overseas airbases threatens to weaken our over-all air-atomic power, at the very moment when Soviet air-atomic power is rapidly and formidably increasing.

Sudden Deafness May Be Caused By Emotional Upset

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

The Canadian surgeon, Dr. Norman Bethune, was operating during the Japanese-Chinese war when suddenly he became deaf. He laid down the scalpel, removed his gown, instructed his assistant to continue, and left the operating room. This sudden deafness was a terrifying experience and the doctor asked himself: "Would he never hear more music, no more voices of friends, no more sounds of fields, bugle calls, laughter? He attempted to visualize his future in a silent world.

According to Dr. Richard R. Lehmann, of Otisville, N. Y., Bethune was emoitonally disturbed during the operation and deafness probably was due to spasm of the blood vessel that supplies the hearing centers. The surgeon had been at the front with guerilla fighters, had lost considerable weight, and suffered from malnutrition and vitamin deficiencies. Spasms subsided as fast as it came. On awakening the next morning, he found that hearing had returned in his left ear.

Sudden deafness is baffling, more so because the cause frequently escapes detection. The problem is easily solved when the individual is taking drugs such as quinine, salicylates, or streptomycin or has consumed too much alcohol or tobacco. In such instances, impairment is of short duration and disappears as soon as the situation is corrected.

Deafness also accompanies an acute head cold when the eustachian tubes become blocked. The application of astringents to the back of the throat shrinks the membranes, the tubes open, and hearing is restored. In other instances the ear nerves are thrown out of commission by the spread of a viral infection from the throat. The hearing nerve also is affected by a blood clot and by hemorrhage resulting from stroke or injury.

During World War I, many soldiers became deaf during the height of battle. If a shell had exploded nearby, concussion was thought to be responsible. We now know that in many cases, anxiety associated with being near an exploding shell was the cause.

Most victims of this type of psychogenic deafness are under age 40 and loss of hearing may involve one or both ears. It comes immediately in the wake of an emotional upheaval or a severe shock. When several tests are done there is a disproportion between them, indicating that the ear otherwise is sound; it is the mind that refuses to hear because of hysterical disturbances. If the nerve or the sound receptors are affected by disease or degeneration, the results follow a definite pattern.

Yes, but it would be most unusual.

SCAR FORMATION

Mrs. C. writes: Is there a serum that can be injected into an incision to make the scar disappear?

REPLY

No. Hyaluronidase, an enzyme, has been used occasionally to prevent large scars (keloids) from forming around an incision.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

At an exclusive restaurant on 52nd Street, New York, "Have you a reservation?" is the chill formula that send all but "regulars" back out into the cold night. Lucius Beebe tells of one time, however, that the late Robert Capa, the photographer, outwitted the "opposition." He had just gotten off a plane from Europe and was unshaven, dishevelled, and in every respect exactly the kind of customer this fancy "jernt" was wont to frown upon. "Have you a reservation?" the maitre d'hotel asked "Bob" in his most chilling tone. "No," admitted Capa in a very lordly manner, "but Robert Capa, the world's greatest photographer, asked me to meet him here." The major-domo melted. "Come right in sir," he beamed. "Mr. Capa hasn't arrived yet, but we're expecting him any minute."

Cooperating States Report Slow Down Drive Saves Lives

Reports from the 24 states participating in the 1954 summertime highway safety campaign, Slow Down and Live, show a reduction of nearly seven per cent in traffic deaths for the recent Fourth of July weekend as compared to the same holiday last year.

Maryland and West Virginia were numbered along with five other states, Alabama, Maine, New Hampshire, New Jersey and Texas as holding even with the toll of 1953.

The holiday weekend this year covered a period of three days while Independence Day of 1953 involved only a two-day period.

Highway deaths in the region, which includes every state from Main to Texas, totaled 179 this year in comparison to a total of 192 in 1953.

In Maryland and West Virginia there were five fatalities in both 1954 and 1953. Over in Pennsylvania there were 17 fatalities this year in comparison to 14 last year.

In announcing the figures officials said, "This is a remarkable record in view of the difference in the periods of time covered by the two holidays."

This is the second consecutive 1954 summer holiday during which the Slow Down and Live states showed reductions from the 1953 death figures. During the Memorial Day weekend the states experienced a 16 per cent reduction as compared with last year.

A lawn festival will be held at the Flintstone Methodist Church July 30. Serving will begin at 5.

Chicago Mauls Yanks 15-3; Boston-Tribe Play Another Tie

Trucks Scores 13th Win For The White Sox

Minoso, Groth Get 4 Hits, New York Dropped From Tie

NEW YORK, July 21 (AP) — The Chicago White Sox shoved the New York Yankees a half game behind the pace setting Cleveland Indians today, pounding out a 15-3 victory as Virgil Trucks became the first American League pitcher to win 13 games.

The triumph boosted the third place White Sox to within 4½ games of the Indians, who played their second straight tie with the Boston Red Sox.

Blasting starter Bob Wiesler off the mound with a five-run attack in the first inning, the White Sox went on to amass 19 hits, their largest total of the season, to hand the Yankees one of their worst beatings of the year.

Minnie Minoso and Johnny Groth clubbed four hits each, Groth driving in four runs and Minoso two. Trucks, who fanned six and walked two before retiring with two out and nobody on base in the seventh due to the intense heat, also figured largely in the attack, cracking three hits and driving in a pair of runs.

Rainfall Halts 7-7 Contest In Ninth Inning

Doubleheader Is Set Today; Doby, Rosen, Williams Hit Homers

BOSTON, July 21 (AP) — Jimmy Piersall dashed home with the tying run on Harry Agganis' infield out in the sixth inning as the Boston Red Sox fought league-leading Cleveland to a second straight draw, 7-7, today in a game halted by rain after eight innings.

The standoff, coupled with New York's 15-3 defeat at the hands of the Chicago White Sox, enabled Cleveland to move a half game ahead of the Yanks in the battle for first place in the American League.

Cleveland had just rallied to take a 7-6 lead when Piersall singled to center in the sixth and went to third on Ted Williams' double poked to left field.

Ray Narleski, third Indian hurler, came in to replace Dave Hoskins. He got Agganis to hit a slow hopper but the Tribe had only a play at first as Piersall crossed the plate.

Top Thoroughbreds By 8 To 5 Score

Darkness ended a threatening rally in the seventh inning for the Thoroughbreds and Earl Drenning's Colts won the Pony League opener yesterday at Fort Hill, 8-5, in a game which reverted to the six-inning score.

Committee Hits "Favoritism" Of Name Athletes

Blames Commanders For Pass Privileges

WASHINGTON, July 21 (AP) — A House Armed Services subcommittee which investigated alleged "coddling" of athletes by the Army reported today "a glaring abuse of pass privileges" and too much granting of "compassionate leave."

It pointed the finger of blame, not at the athletes, but at Army field commanders.

The subcommittee, headed by Rep. Hess (R-Ohio), recently concluded public hearings during which it checked the service records of a number of big name athletes, including ballplayers and boxers.

"It simply does not happen," the committee commented in a formal report, "that every time an athlete in the service is scheduled for a public and profitable appearance that he then and there has accumulated the required amount of leave."

The case of Sandy Saddler, featherweight champion, was treated at some length in the report. It said "there was such a fortuitous concert of action and collaboration as to suggest loose conduct amounting to a fraud upon the government which permitted this athlete to engage in a profitable contest, on Army pay and time, while coming from an overseas assignment on 30 days leave, scheduling a fight to occur after his leave would have expired, posting a bond to perform, and then obtaining 15 additional days 'compassionate leave' because his wife had a cold."

That was "a dubious performance," the committee said, and "every GI has a right to complain about that type of favoritism. It is difficult for us to understand how a local commander, having jurisdiction of this individual, for a short time, could publicly commend him for 'outstanding soldierly conduct' while appearing with him in a fight ring."

Army witnesses told the committee during hearings last spring that Saddler was given a 30-day leave from his Army base in Germany through administrative error and that he then got a 15-day extension claiming his wife was sick.

During that extension period, Saddler took part in a fight with Bill Bossio of Pittsburgh, knocking him out in the ninth round of a scheduled 10-rounder.

The committee said Army regulations had been used in many cases to retain the services of "name athletes" and to keep them in "plush assignments."

In the matter of "compassionate leave," the committee said, there "ought to be the same rule for athletes and name entertainers that there is for every other GI," since "all have mothers or wives or families or children."

The committee called for "corrective administrative action" to prevent further abuses.

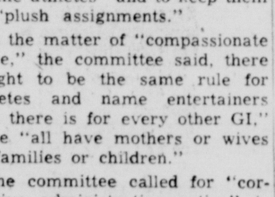

Mays Misses First Game For New York

CHICAGO, July 21 (AP)—Centerfielder Willie Mays missed his first game of the season today as the National League pace-setting New York Giants opened a two-game series against the Chicago Cubs.

Mays flew to Fairfield, Ala., last night from Cincinnati to attend the funeral of his aunt, Mrs. Sarah Mays, who died Saturday. Willie may also miss tomorrow's game.

"Porky" Oliver Shoots 66 To Lead PGA Qualifiers

Match Play To Begin At St. Paul Friday

ST. PAUL, Minn., July 21 (AP)—Ed (Porky) Oliver, plagued by a bum kidney and a prolonged slump, snapped out of it today with a bristling five-under-par 66 to take the first round qualifying lead in the Professional Golfers Association Tournament.

The popular round man from Lemont, Ill., put on an exhibition of phenomenal putting over the sun-baked Keller club course for a two-stroke edge over Cary Middlecoff and a pair of weather-beaten old-timers, Johnny Revolta, 43, and Orville White, 47.

The second round in the 36-hole qualifying test is scheduled tomorrow when the field will be reduced from 135 to 64 for match play eliminations beginning Friday.

Tricky zephyrs played around the 6,652-yard public links layout but failed to throw many of the country's leading professionals.

There were six players, including U. S. champion Ed Furgol, bracketed at 69 and another half-dozen at 70—all par breakers on this hot, windy day. Par for the Keller course, a flat piece of real estate with few dangers, is 35-36—71.

Sam Snead, three-time champion and prime favorite to snatch a fourth, packed his clothes this morning and was all prepared to pull out of the tournament when his chronic sore neck continued to pain him.

But the slammer came out to the course, anyhow, just to give it a try and made the full tour, finishing with a very respectable 73.

Tied with Furgol at 69 were three well-known circuit performers, Fred Haas, Jackie Burke and Marty Furgol, plus two relative unknowns, Tony Holguin of Midlothian, Ill., and Len Wanger of Cincinnati.

Bracketed at 70 were Lew Worsham, former Open champion, Shelley Mayfield of Chicopee, Mass.; Henry Ransom of Pontiac, Mich.; Max Evans of Detroit, Phil Friel of Nashua, N. H., and Jim Scott of Lebanon, Ind.

Defending champion Walter Burkemo of Franklin, Mich., although exempt from qualifying, made a stab at the medal prize with an opening 74.

CINCINNATI, July 21 (AP) — Carl Erskine, pitching brilliant two-hit ball and retiring the last 23 straight batters to face him, hurled the Brooklyn Dodgers to a 5-1 victory over the Cincinnati Redlegs here tonight. Erskine, who struck out 10, didn't allow a hit after Bob Borkowski hit a home run in the second inning.

Amvets Surge To Nip Schute's Tossers, 7 To 6

Five Runs In 7th Earns Close Win

A five-run surge in the bottom of the seventh gave the league-leading Amvets a 7-6 decision over the runner-up Schute's tossers yesterday at Campobello in a City Softball League engagement.

The Amvets, with ace hurler Jack Stotler ill, sent Johnny Diamond to the mound and the tall lefthander responded with a five-hit job although plagued with wildness which led to most of the Schute's teams runs. Diamond walked 10, five of them in the third when Schute's tallied four times on just one hit.

Trailing 6-2 in their last time at the plate the Amvets got to Jack McLuckie on the mound for Schute's. After Espisito walked with one away, Sell singled, Cunningham was safe on an error, Diamond doubled two runs home, Collins singled home two more, Kauffman reached on another miscue, Fradiska was safe as the Schute's infield committed its third fumble of the inning and Ingram singled home the winning tally.

The win gave the Amvets a full game lead over Schute's with a 16-4 mark. The second placers have a 16-6 record.

Diamond's double was the only extra base hit for the Amvets. The losers collected five scattered singles.

At Stitcher Field the Sport Shoppe made merry at the expense of Narrows Esso, trimming the Essomen 19-5. A 12-run spurt in the sixth broke the game wide open for the winners.

Brindle Long collected four hits for the Sport Shoppe team while Jim Devault smashed a grand slam homer, a double and single. Whitacre had a three-bagger also for the Sport Shoppe. Lewis and Turner shared the losers' four bingles. The scores:

Japan's Defense Grows Stronger

Japan's defense posture has been undergoing a gradual metamorphasis since the days of 1946 when shiploads of rifles and small armament were being taken to sea and dumped overside. The Japanese police force, a small constabulary, was organized by Gen. Douglas MacArthur, and increased after the outbreak of the Korean War to a tightly knit force numbering less than 100,000.

It was probably news to most Americans that the Japanese were able to assume some of their own defense problems. Units of the National Safety Force will take over a specific chore, the defense of Hokkaido, the northernmost of the Japanese home islands, later this summer.

The U. S. First Cavalry Division, which has been garrisoning Hokkaido, will be redeployed elsewhere. A half billion dollars worth of American armament already in Japan will be handed over to the safety force.

The Japanese Diet has improved the increase of the safety force into an army with an eventual strength of a quarter of a million men. A navy, in reality a small coast guard, equipped with American patrol ships and landing craft, will also be expanded, and an air force equipped with modern jets and light bombers will be operating within three to four years.

Too often the process of teaching prostrate lands to defend themselves against the Communist menace has been begun too late, as witness the case of Viet Nam. The Russians are poised north of Hokkaido. Instead of asking for trouble, the creation of Japanese military power is insurance of continued co-existence, which disappears when Russian aggression swings into action.

These Days

The New Jersey Case

Former Governor Harold Hoffman, the Rigoletto of the Circus Saints and Sinners, was for many years one of the leading Republicans in New Jersey, and held political positions after he left the governorship. He was a gay extrovert, an excellent raconteur, a brilliant wisecracker and an enormous spendthrift. After Harold Hoffman's sudden death, it was discovered that he had embezzled funds of the bank over which he presided and possibly other funds.

The Hoffman scandal has wracked the Republican organization of New Jersey and has given high hopes to the Democrats. Few Republicans in that state believe that there is any chance of carrying the state in 1954. Worse than the harness-racing scandal in New York State, the Hoffman scandal strikes a blow because it was wholly unexpected. No one even suspected that Harold Hoffman was not an honest official, eking out a difficult existence. He had managed to keep his secret from the public. I had seen Hoffman on many occasions during the past 10 years and he always gave the impression of not having a worry in the world. It was a marvelous performance.

The Harold Hoffman scandal hits hard the candidacy of Clifford Case for the United States Senate. New Jersey Republicans, on the whole, had no desire to nominate Clifford Case. He is an outsider favored by the White House. His affiliations with Paul Hoffman and the Fund for the Republic of the Ford Foundation do not improve his popularity in New Jersey with old-guard Republicans; and the support afforded him by the ADA definitely places him in opposition to those Republicans who believe in local autonomy.

There is an old history of a party split in New Jersey, arising out of the famous alleged double-cross of Senator Robert A. Taft by Governor Alfred Driscoll in the 1952 campaign. Taft was certain that he could carry New Jersey in the primaries and the governor told him that he would be strictly neutral. The governor's emissary was Senator H. Alexander Smith. At the last moment, the governor intervened and Taft lost the state. All the explanations offered by Driscoll and Smith never satisfied the Taft element in New Jersey who, to this day, are antagonistic to the dominant group in the party.

The versions of this particular double-cross are so numerous and varied that it serves no purpose to sit in judgment over them now. Suffice it that it produced a split. The Taft Republicans are responding to the nomination of Clifford Case by opposing his election.

To add fuel to this fire, Clifford Case felt called upon to try to read Senator Joe McCarthy out of the Republican party which, of course, is none of Case's business, that being the proper decision for the Republicans of Wisconsin. Case may feel strongly on the subject but politically it was a foolhardy thing to do.

New Jersey is divided on McCarthy, the line of cleavage being clear and distinct. The Taft element and the old-line Republicans are pro-McCarthy; the New York suburbanites who vote in New Jersey, the Driscoll Republicans and the active Eisenhower Republicans are violently anti-McCarthy. Between them no compromise is possible. Because of the nature of the population of certain cities in New Jersey, an extraordinarily large number of Democrats in New Jersey are pro-McCarthy and while they will not vote for a Republican, they are in a position to stir public feeling.

The unusual situation in New Jersey is that some powerful and influential Republicans are organizing to have Case withdrawn as a candidate. In this effort, they will undoubtedly fail. Some groups are proposing an active campaign to influence Republicans to boycott the election for a United States senator.

The sum total of all this activity is that it is now generally held that Clifford Case will not be elected in New Jersey, despite the support of President Eisenhower. On the other hand, Case has the support of the CIO and other labor leaders. How important this is cannot be estimated because New Jersey labor is essentially Democratic locally, although the Republicans have carried the state for senators. It is doubtful that Case's labor support and the large sums of money at his disposal will offset the split in the Republican party because Republican victories have resulted from adding to the normal Republican vote independent and Democratic elements.

Some Private Industries Once Gave U. S. Secrets To Potential Enemies

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Congressmen who plan to give atomic secrets to private industry under Eisenhower's proposed new atomic energy act might take a look at Justice Department and Senate records to see what private industry did with important secrets in the past.

The record, spelled out in the Truman Committee and Munitions Committee hearings, shows that our potential enemies get access to priceless military secrets, some of them the property of the U. S. Government, as follows:

The Electric Boat Company, now making the atomic submarine, paid commissions to the famed munitions peddler, Sir Basil Zaharoff, to sell submarines around the world; and the U. S. Navy submarine plans were sold to both the Japanese and the Germans around 1914.

The Bausch and Lomb Optical Company made a secret deal with Carl Zeiss of Germany whereby the Germans got the blue prints for the U. S. Navy submarine sights.

Standard Oil of New Jersey made a deal with I. G. Farben of Germany which prevented the United States from developing synthetic rubber for four years.

The Aluminum Corporation of America worked out a monopoly deal with I. G. Farben which kept magnesium away from the American aircraft industry and retarded our production of airplanes.

The Sperry Gyroscope Corporation exchanged valuable patents with German, Italian and Japanese firms, all of them later Axis countries.

The Radio Corporation of America, which had observers attached to the U. S. Army Signal Corps when the Signal Corps developed the priceless secret of radar, hired one of the Signal Corps technicians, William D. Hershberger, and then filed radar patents in Japan and other foreign countries.

After the war the Army asked the Justice Department to examine the case with a view to prosecution. After the war also, RCA hired the recently retired head of the Signal Corps, Gen. Harry Ingles, and the Army promptly lost interest in prosecuting.

This, in brief, is the past record. American industrialists, it is hoped, have attained a higher standard of ethics today, but the atomic energy secrets they would get from the government under the proposed new atomic energy bill are the most valuable in the world. They cost the taxpayer $12,000,000,000 to develop.

Paradoxical Arkansan

Sen. John McClellan, junior senator from Arkansas, whose slow southern drawl and horn-rimmed glasses became known to TV millions during the Army-McCarthy hearings, is a man of puzzling contrasts.

For many years in the Senate McClellan was considered one of McCarthy's stanch supporters. When Democratic senators would line up to count noses regarding an issue dealing with McCarthyism, there were always three colleagues they could not depend on —McCarran of Nevada, Eastland of Mississippi and McClellan of Arkansas, all Democrats. Democratic leaders just never could tell when McClellan would end up voting with Joe.

This was probably because of McClellan's economic ties back in Arkansas. If you look up the clients of McClellan's law firm, Gaughan, McClellan and Gaughan of Camden, you will find that it represents Esso Standard Oil, Tidewater Associated Oil, Seaboard Oil of Delaware, and Carter Oil.

Undoubtedly this explains McClellan's vote for tidelands oil and gives a clue to the overtures which H. L. Hunt, the Texas oil millionaire, has made to McClellan. Hunt, who is a strong backer of McCarthy, a former employer of Mrs. McCarthy, and operates Facts Forum and various TV-radio programs, tried to pressure McClellan at the start of the hearings. Hunt phoned Hamilton Moses, president of Arkansas Power and Light, and told him to have the senator from Arkansas cooperate with the senator from Wisconsin. Moses is very close to McClellan, usually swings his vote on power matters.

This is how the senator from Arkansas has found himself betwixt and between regarding McCarthy. Some of his most powerful friends and political backers were behind McCarthy; yet the Baptists and Methodists of Arkansas were bitterly against him.

This was probably why McClellan, while tangling with McCarthy during the McCarthy hearings, told a reporter for the Arkansas Democrat that personally he liked Joe and had enjoyed a close association with him.

This may also explain why McClellan gave an interview in Little Rock on April 19 stating that he "never had reason to doubt the sincerity of McCarthy in his crusade against communism" and that McCarthy was motivated by the "highest type of Americanism."

That's why many Arkansans who watched their owl-like senator heckle McCarthy during the TV hearings frankly are confused.

Democrats' Mistakes

It's been partially obscured by sensational headlines of housing profits, but the basic trouble with FHA is the fact that the agency was set up by the builders and realtors, administered by the builders and realtors, and run for the benefit of the builders and realtors.

The Democrats deserve plenty of criticism for this setup, but that is no reason for having the Republicans repeat the same mistake.

Indochina Truce: An Hour Of Tragedy For Free World

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Communist colonialism is about to be substituted for French colonialism in Indochina. That's the story in brief of the biggest defeat the free world has suffered since the bungling of the Truman-Acheson administration lost China through the withdrawal of moral support from the Chinese Nationalist government at a critical moment.

Now 10,000,000 people are to be handed over to the Communists in Vietnam and another 12,000,000 will come under Communist control in a few months in the rest of the area, along with the rich rice-growing delta and other natural resources of tremendous importance in the march of Communist imperialism.

The governments of France and Britain helped to engineer what amounts to a fateful surrender. The United States is disassociating itself from the settlement but, in deference to its allies, has given the wholly superfluous promise that it will not attempt to disturb the agreement.

Relief In 1938 Too

"Peace," said Secretary of State Dulles at the opening of the Geneva Conference on April 28 last, "is always easy to achieve—by surrender. Unity is also easy to achieve—by surrender. The hard task, the task that confronts us, is to combine peace and unity with freedom."

There will be sighs of relief that the eight-year war in Indochina is over. There were similar sighs of relief when the Korean armistice was signed last year and, indeed, there were similar expressions of popular satisfaction in 1938 when the Chamberlain government made the deal with Hitler whereby a large segment of Czechoslovakian territory was surrendered.

Then it was that many Britons said: "After all, why should we worry about a few million Czechs?" But in a year they were fighting in a world war to retrieve that mistake.

Today in many parts of the free world, including this country, the same sort of comment is heard: "Why should we worry about a few million Asians?"

But if the peace of the world is disturbed by reason of an arrogant action of the Communist imperialists as they become convinced that there never will be any real resistance to further aggression, then it will not be a few million Asians but many millions of Europeans and Americans who could become involved in a global conflict.

Not A Victory

For the defeat incurred by the free world cannot be glossed over in spite of the fact that, whenever any fighting comes to an end in any area of the world, there is always a tendency to feel that some progress has been made. The stoppage of fighting in 1918 and in 1945 followed a clear victory in each case by the Allies against the aggressor. The Indochina truce, like the Korean armistice, is not a victory but a readiness to compromise with aggressors and to sanction their continued hold on many million more people who are to become enslaved.

Were there any alternatives? The responsibility for what has happened must be placed on the peace-at-any-price politicians in France who constantly undermined the morale of their own troops and gave the Communists their opportunity to convert a haphazard and weak movement of Nationalist rebels into a full-fledged military operation wherein Red China supplied much manpower and Soviet Russia furnished much equipment to thwart the highly trained French army.

Throughout Asia the white man now will lose face. The nations which might have been encouraged to become our allies may hesitate. The chances of making an effective Southeast Asia pact depend entirely on whether the French government means to complete the scuttling of Indochina and whether the British will wait until the conflagration touches Malaya before begging the United States to save them.

Indochina could have been kept from the Communists if the French had been willing to internationalize the war. But, while outwardly they wanted American military aid, actually they feared it would prolong their own participation. Premier Mendes-France came into office to liquidate an already bad situation. The French nation had wearied of eight years of war and was ready to call it quits. The premier announced to the world that he was ready to make a deal —and the Communists exacted a high price.

Advancing To Biggest Triumph

So now, with Red China in the process of virtually annexing North Korea in defiance of the U. N. resolution declaring her an aggressor and with a virtual annexation of the rich areas of Indochina, the Communist coalition is advancing to its biggest triumph. The net effect on Japan and on Indonesia, Burma and Thailand will be as discouraging as it will be to the enslaved peoples of Poland, Czechoslovakia, Bulgaria, Romania, Hungary, Latvia, Lithuania and Esthonia—all of which just a few years ago were free countries.

Plainly the trend in Europe on the part of America's allies is toward further surrender to Communist imperialism. This is ominous because some day the Allies will wake up to the imperative need of taking a stand. The Communists will think it is a bluff, as they have regarded every action of recent months. In the end, a third world war can come because there will be no way to avoid a showdown of arms. The Indochina truce, like the so-called peace at Munich, may not prove a harbinger of peace but a precursor of war. It is an hour of great tragedy for the free world.

The Fiddle Faddlers

By Joseph And Stewart Alsop

WASHINGTON

The Pentagon has convincing evidence that the Soviets are now quantity-producing an efficient guided missile capable of being fitted with an atomic or hydrogen warhead, and with enough range to hit any of our overseas airbases except those in Spain and the Mediterranean.

The Pentagon also has probable evidence of a still larger Soviet guided missile, most likely built around the powerful new M-103 rocket engine that the Soviet engineers have perfected. With a range of 1,800 miles, this missile will bring all our trans-Atlantic and trans-Pacific airbases under fire.

Very recently, hard information has been received of a large order placed in Eastern Europe, for special rail cars apparently designed to transport missiles of the larger, longer-range type. This new development, if correctly interpreted, indicates that these missiles are also entering the phase of quantity production.

Such facts as these, in turn, are clear proof that this country is now being treated to an unconscionable amount of fiddle-faddle by its leaders. The kind of thing that the official leadership encourages, and we poor boobs generally fall for, was well illustrated the other day by the Joint Congressional Committee's report on the new atomic energy bill.

"America's preponderance in atomic weapons," smugly declared the committee, "can . . . serve emphatic notice on the Soviet dictators that any attempt . . . to push further anywhere into the free world, would be foredoomed to failure."

Maginot-Line Thinking

Those words were written when the Soviet dictators were finishing a most successful push in Indochina. But that is not the worst of their implied untruths. Their worst untruth is the idea that large numbers of A- and H-bombs, in and of themselves, will always give this country the whip hand in the struggle for the world. This idea is the true "Maginot-line thinking" of the postwar period.

In fact, of course, the Soviet and American A- and H-bomb stockpiles are only one element in the balance of air-atomic power. A-bombs and H-bombs which cannot be delivered are mere expensive toys. In the era of plentiful stocks of the absolute weapons, the ability to deliver the weapons is obviously more important than the weapons themselves.

Nearly a year has passed since the Soviets tested their H-bomb with lithium hydride core, capable of being produced rather rapidly and in large numbers. There is no doubt at all that the Soviets already possess enough A-bombs to inflict terrible wounds on this country. In 18, or 24, or 36 months —for the time is not long—the Soviet A-and H-bomb stockpile will be in the plentiful class.

This in turn confers a somewhat lurid future meaning on the two Soviet guided missiles referred to above. For when the Kremlin has enough A- and H-bombs in stock, the missiles can then be fitted with atomic or hydrogen warheads. And when and if that is done, our overseas airbases will, in effect, cease to be dependable assets.

This physical vulnerability of the bases is still quite largely in the future. In the present, however, there is another tendency of almost equal importance. As the Indochinese affair has shown, our allies are less and less willing to risk a collision of will with the Kremlin, because of their growing fear of Soviet air-atomic strength. That means that many of our overseas bases are also politically vulnerable.

Threat To Overseas Airbases

No secrets will be revealed to the enemy, but no doubt Americans will be surprised to learn, that the loss of our overseas airbases from any cause, whether military or political, will be the exact equivalent of the physical destruction of approximately 60 per cent of the Strategic Air Command.

General Curtiss LeMay's great force has been planned just big enough to do its job from the overseas airbases. Last year, the Eisenhower administration actually cut back SAC growth, on the ground that SAC did not need extra long range air groups.

SAC now mainly relies on its superb medium rangebomber, the B-47. These planes can reach Soviet targets from American bases, but only by the difficult, dangerous and time-consuming process of double air-refuelling. If this expedient has to be resorted to, the B-47s will only be able to make about 40 per cent as many sorties as they could from the overseas bases. Obviously, cutting the number of possible sorties is just like cutting the number of available aircraft.

The Pentagon has effectively admitted the danger to our overseas airbases, by giving SAC a big tanker program, to increase air-refuelling capacity. But no steps are planned to give SAC more bombers, or to speed B-47 production, which could be doubled in six months. And so the threat to our overseas airbases threatens to weaken our over-all air-atomic power, at the very moment when Soviet air-atomic power is rapidly and formidably increasing.

Sudden Deafness May Be Caused By Emotional Upset

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

The Canadian surgeon, Dr. Norman Bethune, was operating during the Japanese-Chinese war when suddenly he became deaf. He laid down the scalpel, removed his gown, instructed his assistant to continue, and left the operating room. This sudden deafness was a terrifying experience and the doctor asked himself: "Would he never hear more music, no more voices of friends, no more sounds of fields, bugle calls, laughter? He attempted to visualize his future in a silent world.

According to Dr. Richard R. Lehmann, of Otisville, N. Y., Bethune was emoitonally disturbed during the operation and deafness probably was due to spasm of the blood vessel that supplies the hearing centers. The surgeon had been at the front with guerilla fighters, had lost considerable weight, and suffered from malnutrition and vitamin deficiencies. Spasms subsided as fast as it came. On awakening the next morning, he found that hearing had returned in his left ear.

Sudden deafness is baffling, more so because the cause frequently escapes detection. The problem is easily solved when the individual is taking drugs such as quinine, salicylates, or streptomycin or has consumed too much alcohol or tobacco. In such instances, impairment is of short duration and disappears as soon as the situation is corrected.

Deafness also accompanies an acute head cold when the eustachian tubes become blocked. The application of astringents to the back of the throat shrinks the membranes, the tubes open, and hearing is restored. In other instances the ear nerves are thrown out of commission by the spread of a viral infection from the throat. The hearing nerve also is affected by a blood clot and by hemorrhage resulting from stroke or injury.

During World War I, many soldiers became deaf during the height of battle. If a shell had exploded nearby, concussion was thought to be responsible. We now know that in many cases, anxiety associated with being near an exploding shell was the cause.

Most victims of this type of psychogenic deafness are under age 40 and loss of hearing may involve one or both ears. It comes immediately in the wake of an emotional upheaval or a severe shock. When several tests are done there is a disproportion between them, indicating that the ear otherwise is sound; it is the mind that refuses to hear because of hysterical disturbances. If the nerve or the sound receptors are affected by disease or degeneration, the results follow a definite pattern.

Yes, but it would be most unusual.

No. Hyaluronidase, an enzyme, has been used occasionally to prevent large scars (keloids) from forming around an incision.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

At an exclusive restaurant on 52nd Street, New York, "Have you a reservation?" is the chill formula that send all but "regulars" back out into the cold night. Lucius Beebe tells of one time, however, that the late Robert Capa, the photographer, outwitted the "opposition." He had just gotten off a plane from Europe and was unshaven, dishevelled, and in every respect exactly the kind of customer this fancy "jernt" was wont to frown upon. "Have you a reservation?" the maitre d'hotel asked "Bob" in his most chilling tone. "No," admitted Capa in a very lordly manner, "but Robert Capa, the world's greatest photographer, asked me to meet him here." The major-domo melted. "Come right in sir," he beamed. "Mr. Capa hasn't arrived yet, but we're expecting him any minute."

A recent news note concerned a big steel magnate who just had altered his will for the eleventh time. "Obviously," commented Hy Gardner, "the fellow's a fresh heir fiend."

CHICAGO, July 21 (AP)—Bill Taylor's pinch ninth inning single scored Hank Thompson with the winning run as the league-leading New York Giants defeated the Chicago Cubs, 2-1, in the opener of a two-game series before 12,190 today.

Sal Maglie allowed only four hits as he beat the Cubs a third time for his tenth win against four losses. Bob Rush was the loser, suffering his eleventh loss on a yield of seven hits.

The pace-making Giants launched the winning rally on Thompson's leadoff single. Monte Irvin sacrificed him to second, and Thompson moved to third on Don Mueller's infield tap for the second out.

Dusty Rhodes, sitting in for absent Willie Mays in centerfield, was purposely passed. Taylor batted for Davey Williams and singled through short for the game-winning hit as Thompson scored.

NEW YORK, July 21 (INS) — If you get out to the race track any morning — say, about 6 o'clock — you will find a little bent old man with the keenest bright blue eyes you ever saw directing operations.

That will be Trainer Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons who will celebrate his 80th birthday Friday.

Mr. Fitz, as everybody calls him, has been in racing 70 years. In that time he has been jockey, trainer and owner and has saddled more than 2,000 winners whose earnings crowded the five million dollar mark.

He has raced on all the major and most of the bush tracks in the U. S. and has won virtually every big stake, including the Saratoga Cup nine times. He has had two triple crowns winners — Omaha and Gallant Fox and a third — Kentucky Derby winner, Johnstown.

Mr. Fitz was born on a farm his Dad owned on what later became the old Sheepshead Bay Track. The farm was bought by Leonard Jerome who was the grandfather of Winston Churchill, the present British leader.

Mr. Fitz started out as a stable boy for the famous Dwyer Brothers, Phil and Mike just 70 years ago and it was they who gave him his first chance to ride a race on a horse named Newburgh.

We'd like to tell you that Mr. Fitz won at 100 to 1 but the sad truth is that Mr. Fitz didn't ride his first winner until four years later. That was a horse called Crispin. Oh, yes, Mr. Fitz remembers them all.

He soon got too heavy and then moved into the training end of the game.

Somebody made him a gift of a horse called Poquessing and Mr. Fitz says that nag was the bread winner for the Fitzsimmons family for a long time.

The first stakes winner he ever trained was some 55 years ago when he won the Brewers Handicap with a horse fittingly named Bartender.

From then on the Fitzsimmons fortunes began to rise.

Mr. Fitz considers Man O'War the greatest horse of all time and says the best he ever trained was Gallant Fox, "although Earl Sande, his jockey, always had to watch him because the Fox always thought the race was over whenever he got to the front."

He thinks Johnstown may have been the fastest horse that ever lived but he wound up with breathing trouble.

One of the old gentleman's favorite stories concerns a jumper he trained named Betsy Ross.

"All she could do was jump," he tells you, "but she had no speed. Well, one day I have her in an eight-horse field and she was 100 to 1 which was really a short price on her.

"So what happens? Six of the field fall during the race and the other horse besides mine still standing wins by an eighth of a mile.

"But that horse's jockey has lost his lead pads and doesn't know it so he's disqualified for not carrying the right weight and my horse wins!"

Mr. Fitz is going to retire real soon — say along about 1985. After all, there's no reason for a young fellow to quit in his prime.

Chicago Mauls Yanks 15-3; Boston-Tribe Play Another Tie

Minoso, Groth Get 4 Hits, New York Dropped From Tie

NEW YORK, July 21 (AP) — The Chicago White Sox shoved the New York Yankees a half game behind the pace setting Cleveland Indians today, pounding out a 15-3 victory as Virgil Trucks became the first American League pitcher to win 13 games.

The triumph boosted the third place White Sox to within 4½ games of the Indians, who played their second straight tie with the Boston Red Sox.

Blasting starter Bob Wiesler off the mound with a five-run attack in the first inning, the White Sox went on to amass 19 hits, their largest total of the season, to hand the Yankees one of their worst beatings of the year.

Minnie Minoso and Johnny Groth clubbed four hits each, Groth driving in four runs and Minoso two. Trucks, who fanned six and walked two before retiring with two out and nobody on base in the seventh due to the intense heat, also figured largely in the attack, cracking three hits and driving in a pair of runs.

Rainfall Halts 7-7 Contest In Ninth Inning

Doubleheader Is Set Today; Doby, Rosen, Williams Hit Homers

BOSTON, July 21 (AP) — Jimmy Piersall dashed home with the tying run on Harry Agganis' infield out in the sixth inning as the Boston Red Sox fought league-leading Cleveland to a second straight draw, 7-7, today in a game halted by rain after eight innings.

The standoff, coupled with New York's 15-3 defeat at the hands of the Chicago White Sox, enabled Cleveland to move a half game ahead of the Yanks in the battle for first place in the American League.

Cleveland had just rallied to take a 7-6 lead when Piersall singled to center in the sixth and went to third on Ted Williams' double poked to left field.

Ray Narleski, third Indian hurler, came in to replace Dave Hoskins. He got Agganis to hit a slow hopper but the Tribe had only a play at first as Piersall crossed the plate.

Committee Hits "Favoritism" Of Name Athletes

Blames Commanders For Pass Privileges

WASHINGTON, July 21 (AP) — A House Armed Services subcommittee which investigated alleged "coddling" of athletes by the Army reported today "a glaring abuse of pass privileges" and too much granting of "compassionate leave."

It pointed the finger of blame, not at the athletes, but at Army field commanders.

The subcommittee, headed by Rep. Hess (R-Ohio), recently concluded public hearings during which it checked the service records of a number of big name athletes, including ballplayers and boxers.

"It simply does not happen," the committee commented in a formal report, "that every time an athlete in the service is scheduled for a public and profitable appearance that he then and there has accumulated the required amount of leave."

The case of Sandy Saddler, featherweight champion, was treated at some length in the report. It said "there was such a fortuitous concert of action and collaboration as to suggest loose conduct amounting to a fraud upon the government which permitted this athlete to engage in a profitable contest, on Army pay and time, while coming from an overseas assignment on 30 days leave, scheduling a fight to occur after his leave would have expired, posting a bond to perform, and then obtaining 15 additional days 'compassionate leave' because his wife had a cold."

That was "a dubious performance," the committee said, and "every GI has a right to complain about that type of favoritism. It is difficult for us to understand how a local commander, having jurisdiction of this individual, for a short time, could publicly commend him for 'outstanding soldierly conduct' while appearing with him in a fight ring."

Army witnesses told the committee during hearings last spring that Saddler was given a 30-day leave from his Army base in Germany through administrative error and that he then got a 15-day extension claiming his wife was sick.

During that extension period, Saddler took part in a fight with Bill Bossio of Pittsburgh, knocking him out in the ninth round of a scheduled 10-rounder.

The committee said Army regulations had been used in many cases to retain the services of "name athletes" and to keep them in "plush assignments."

In the matter of "compassionate leave," the committee said, there "ought to be the same rule for athletes and name entertainers that there is for every other GI," since "all have mothers or wives or families or children."

The committee called for "corrective administrative action" to prevent further abuses.

"Porky" Oliver Shoots 66 To Lead PGA Qualifiers

Match Play To Begin At St. Paul Friday

ST. PAUL, Minn., July 21 (AP)—Ed (Porky) Oliver, plagued by a bum kidney and a prolonged slump, snapped out of it today with a bristling five-under-par 66 to take the first round qualifying lead in the Professional Golfers Association Tournament.

The popular round man from Lemont, Ill., put on an exhibition of phenomenal putting over the sun-baked Keller club course for a two-stroke edge over Cary Middlecoff and a pair of weather-beaten old-timers, Johnny Revolta, 43, and Orville White, 47.

The second round in the 36-hole qualifying test is scheduled tomorrow when the field will be reduced from 135 to 64 for match play eliminations beginning Friday.

Tricky zephyrs played around the 6,652-yard public links layout but failed to throw many of the country's leading professionals.

There were six players, including U. S. champion Ed Furgol, bracketed at 69 and another half-dozen at 70—all par breakers on this hot, windy day. Par for the Keller course, a flat piece of real estate with few dangers, is 35-36—71.

Sam Snead, three-time champion and prime favorite to snatch a fourth, packed his clothes this morning and was all prepared to pull out of the tournament when his chronic sore neck continued to pain him.

But the slammer came out to the course, anyhow, just to give it a try and made the full tour, finishing with a very respectable 73.

Tied with Furgol at 69 were three well-known circuit performers, Fred Haas, Jackie Burke and Marty Furgol, plus two relative unknowns, Tony Holguin of Midlothian, Ill., and Len Wanger of Cincinnati.

Bracketed at 70 were Lew Worsham, former Open champion, Shelley Mayfield of Chicopee, Mass.; Henry Ransom of Pontiac, Mich.; Max Evans of Detroit, Phil Friel of Nashua, N. H., and Jim Scott of Lebanon, Ind.

Amvets Surge To Nip Schute's Tossers, 7 To 6

Five Runs In 7th Earns Close Win

A five-run surge in the bottom of the seventh gave the league-leading Amvets a 7-6 decision over the runner-up Schute's tossers yesterday at Campobello in a City Softball League engagement.

The Amvets, with ace hurler Jack Stotler ill, sent Johnny Diamond to the mound and the tall lefthander responded with a five-hit job although plagued with wildness which led to most of the Schute's teams runs. Diamond walked 10, five of them in the third when Schute's tallied four times on just one hit.

Trailing 6-2 in their last time at the plate the Amvets got to Jack McLuckie on the mound for Schute's. After Espisito walked with one away, Sell singled, Cunningham was safe on an error, Diamond doubled two runs home, Collins singled home two more, Kauffman reached on another miscue, Fradiska was safe as the Schute's infield committed its third fumble of the inning and Ingram singled home the winning tally.

The win gave the Amvets a full game lead over Schute's with a 16-4 mark. The second placers have a 16-6 record.

Diamond's double was the only extra base hit for the Amvets. The losers collected five scattered singles.

At Stitcher Field the Sport Shoppe made merry at the expense of Narrows Esso, trimming the Essomen 19-5. A 12-run spurt in the sixth broke the game wide open for the winners.

Brindle Long collected four hits for the Sport Shoppe team while Jim Devault smashed a grand slam homer, a double and single. Whitacre had a three-bagger also for the Sport Shoppe. Lewis and Turner shared the losers' four bingles. The scores:

HOLLYWOOD, July 21—(INS)—Norman Taurog who has developed more child stars than any other director before turning his talents to those crazy kids—Martin and Lewis—returns to the field of children again in the story just bought for his independent company, "The Innocent Knights."

Taurog plans to make this in France with the charming little French actor, Christian Fourcade.

Remember the wide-eyed and wistful Christian with Bing Crosby in "Little Boy Lost?" After the Crosby picture, Master Fourcade returned to Paris where he's been emoting in French films.

To get back to "The Innocent Knights," it's a Viking Press Novel written by Gil Buhet, about a group of French schoolboys who run away from school and hide out in an abandoned castle—haunted, of course.

Amanda Blake's wedding to Don Whitman, TV director, scheduled for Aug. 22, is off, out and cancelled!

On the set of "The Glass Slipper," her movie at MGM, Amanda confirmed her broken engagement.

Years ago, the Ibanez novel about a bullfighter was one of Valentino's greatest hits. Rick would naturally play the Valentino role.

"It's a big temptation," he said, "but there are a couple of big factors standing in the way. First, I've been away from Georgianna and my children for months making 'A Matter of Life and Death' and 'Green Shadows' in Mexico. Second, I have pictures pending at MGM and U-I."

For whatever reason singer Yma Sumac was "detained" 'at Ellis Island, the all clear signal must have gone out because Yma is singing the Peruvian national anthem on the steps of Los Angeles City Hall on July 28!

Benay Venuta, who is in the cast of "Hazel Flagg" in Dallas, writes a rave about Pat Crowley, the star, and how completely she's taken over the Texans.

"Pat is just great," pens Benay, "and this appearance should lead to Broadway offers if Paramount will give her the okay. In addition to her performance, she's doing a fine job for Hollywood — such a lady and such fresh young charm.

"We are having fun here being entertained by all the Marcuses. Oh, yes — Don Ameche, our male star, is a big surprise and looks not a day older than a snappy 29."

Judy Garland and Sid Luft plane out TWA for Europe on Aug. 7 to be gone six weeks as the plane, hotel and house guests of boss Jack Warner.

Congratulations to "Oklahoma" for getting brilliant designer Orry-Kelly as costume supervisor on the musical-movie.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

The grand entrance that makes such an impression on stage or screen is out of place in everyday life. No charming, well-bred woman submits to the temptation to arrive late, or with exaggerated airs.

Lateness is a mark of carelessness — or selfishness. If you are affected in dress or manner, too often, people will mark you down as insincere. Remember, then, that etiquette frowns upon the theatrical entrance that combines lateness with affectation!

You are allowed a reasonable margin of minutes for any social engagement. When lunching or dining with another woman, 5 or 10 minutes' lateness is permissable. When you dine with a man, you may arrive as much as 15 minutes late and still be living up to the "acceptable" rules of punctuality. But don't you dislike having to wait for someone else? Why cause someone else to wait for you? Let your conscience be your tardiness guide.

Dinners And Dances

If you are more than 15 or 20 minutes late to a small dinner party, or tardy by more than half an hour in your arrival at a large dinner gathering, apologies are due your hostess, and your reason for lateness should be honest.

When you are invited to a tea or cocktail party where only a few guests are expected, don't arrive more than 15 or 20 minutes beyond the appointed hour. When a definite time limit is set for such a party to which many are invited, you may properly arrive any time from 15 minutes after the first hour mentioned, to half an hour before the function's scheduled end. You may be as much as an hour late in arriving at a dance (or other large evening affair) unless entertainment is scheduled for the early evening.

When you do arrive, arrive without fuss. No display of affection for the hostess is necessary. Greet those giving the party — hostess first, then the host — before speaking to the other guests.

Exits, Too

Exit, like entrance, should be casual. When you must leave, simply thank your hostess for a pleasant time and don't prolong the leave-taking. You may want to say goodbye to all the guests at a small party. But if the gathering is large, confine your exit line to your hosts and those in the immediate conversation group.

There's only one hard-and-fast rule about the timing of your goodbyes: if the party includes a guest of honor, you don't leave before the special guest does. Otherwise, you may set your own timetable — so long as you don't overstay your welcome.

Goodbyes said, don't linger. Your host and hostess have other guests to see off, and they won't thank you for standing in the doorway to be sure everyone else knows that you are about to leave.

TEN SECRETS OF CHARM

You are welcome, free of charge, to the reminder card, TEN SECRETS OF CHARM. It lists ten points to remember as milestones along the road to greater charm. Carry it with you and you won't overlook any of the ways you impress all who come in contact with you. Write to Secrets of Charm in care of this newspaper and enclose a stamped, self-addressed return envelope.

Tomorrow — There's a right way to dress.

Taylor's Pinch Hit Wins Game For Giants, 2-1

Maglie Bests Rush Of Chicago In Duel

CHICAGO, July 21 (AP)—Bill Taylor's pinch ninth inning single scored Hank Thompson with the winning run as the league-leading New York Giants defeated the Chicago Cubs, 2-1, in the opener of a two-game series before 12,190 today.

Sal Maglie allowed only four hits as he beat the Cubs a third time for his tenth win against four losses. Bob Rush was the loser, suffering his eleventh loss on a yield of seven hits.

The pace-making Giants launched the winning rally on Thompson's leadoff single. Monte Irvin sacrificed him to second, and Thompson moved to third on Don Mueller's infield tap for the second out.

Dusty Rhodes, sitting in for absent Willie Mays in centerfield, was purposely passed. Taylor batted for Davey Williams and singled through short for the game-winning hit as Thompson scored.

By PAT ROBINSON

NEW YORK, July 21 (INS) — If you get out to the race track any morning — say, about 6 o'clock — you will find a little bent old man with the keenest bright blue eyes you ever saw directing operations.

That will be Trainer Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons who will celebrate his 80th birthday Friday.

Mr. Fitz, as everybody calls him, has been in racing 70 years. In that time he has been jockey, trainer and owner and has saddled more than 2,000 winners whose earnings crowded the five million dollar mark.

He has raced on all the major and most of the bush tracks in the U. S. and has won virtually every big stake, including the Saratoga Cup nine times. He has had two triple crowns winners — Omaha and Gallant Fox and a third — Kentucky Derby winner, Johnstown.

Mr. Fitz was born on a farm his Dad owned on what later became the old Sheepshead Bay Track. The farm was bought by Leonard Jerome who was the grandfather of Winston Churchill, the present British leader.

Mr. Fitz started out as a stable boy for the famous Dwyer Brothers, Phil and Mike just 70 years ago and it was they who gave him his first chance to ride a race on a horse named Newburgh.

We'd like to tell you that Mr. Fitz won at 100 to 1 but the sad truth is that Mr. Fitz didn't ride his first winner until four years later. That was a horse called Crispin. Oh, yes, Mr. Fitz remembers them all.

He soon got too heavy and then moved into the training end of the game.

Somebody made him a gift of a horse called Poquessing and Mr. Fitz says that nag was the bread winner for the Fitzsimmons family for a long time.

The first stakes winner he ever trained was some 55 years ago when he won the Brewers Handicap with a horse fittingly named Bartender.

From then on the Fitzsimmons fortunes began to rise.

Mr. Fitz considers Man O'War the greatest horse of all time and says the best he ever trained was Gallant Fox, "although Earl Sande, his jockey, always had to watch him because the Fox always thought the race was over whenever he got to the front."

He thinks Johnstown may have been the fastest horse that ever lived but he wound up with breathing trouble.

One of the old gentleman's favorite stories concerns a jumper he trained named Betsy Ross.

"All she could do was jump," he tells you, "but she had no speed. Well, one day I have her in an eight-horse field and she was 100 to 1 which was really a short price on her.

"So what happens? Six of the field fall during the race and the other horse besides mine still standing wins by an eighth of a mile.

"But that horse's jockey has lost his lead pads and doesn't know it so he's disqualified for not carrying the right weight and my horse wins!"

Mr. Fitz is going to retire real soon — say along about 1985. After all, there's no reason for a young fellow to quit in his prime.

BEWARE THOSE MAXIMS

YOU CAN hardly give better advice to a relatively new bridge devotee than that he beware of those ancient maxims that have come down to us from the days of whist. They are all right in their proper place, and when understood thoroughly, but slavish observance of any of them can cost you thousands of points in the long run. One of those most abused is the admonition to "lead through strength," which is worse than no guide at all unless accompanied by the other part of the injunction, "and up to weakness."

(Dealer: South. Neither side vulnerable.)

South	West	North	East
1 ♦	2 ♣	Pass	2 ♠
2 NT	Pass	3 ♥	Pass
3 NT

South's bidding can be justified solely by his confidence in all of the other players—the keenness of his own partner and the ineptness of his opponents. He proved right on all counts.

West had heard about leading "through strength," so opened the dummy's suit, sure his partner "had something" in it. He did, and it was immediately put under the hammer as the heart 2, 9, Q and A piled up on the first trick. The heart 7 to the 10 drove out the K. East returned the club J, the A winning, and the spade 8 was offered, much too late. The K won it, four heart tricks followed and the declarer eked out his game, with five tricks in hearts and two in each black suit.

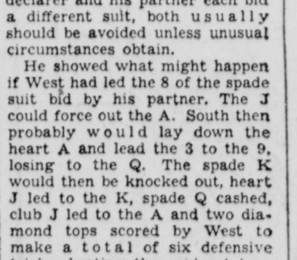

It was then that West learned, from South, that the suit bid by the dummy is usually the very worst to open, as it launches the declarer upon his own probable plan, to set up that suit before the side re-entries for it are knocked out.

South told West that, when the declarer and his partner each bid a different suit, both usually should be avoided unless unusual circumstances obtain.

He showed what might happen if West had led the 8 of the spade suit bid by his partner. The J could force out the A. South then probably would lay down the heart A and lead the 3 to the 9, losing to the Q. The spade K would then be knocked out, heart J led to the K, spade Q cashed, club J led to the A and two diamond tops scored by West to make a total of six defensive tricks, beating the contract two.

Tomorrow's Problem

(Dealer: North. Neither side vulnerable.)

If East bids 1-Spade, South 2-Hearts and West 2-Spades, what would you do in the North?

"Oh, it has lots of uses. Now suppose your husband wanted to find a word to describe that hat you're wearing."

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Dorothy Manners

(Substituting for vacationing Louella Parsons)

HOLLYWOOD, July 21—(INS)—Norman Taurog who has developed more child stars than any other director before turning his talents to those crazy kids—Martin and Lewis—returns to the field of children again in the story just bought for his independent company, "The Innocent Knights."

Taurog plans to make this in France with the charming little French actor, Christian Fourcade.

Remember the wide-eyed and wistful Christian with Bing Crosby in "Little Boy Lost?" After the Crosby picture, Master Fourcade returned to Paris where he's been emoting in French films.

To get back to "The Innocent Knights," it's a Viking Press Novel written by Gil Buhet, about a group of French schoolboys who run away from school and hide out in an abandoned castle—haunted, of course.

Amanda Blake's wedding to Don Whitman, TV director, scheduled for Aug. 22, is off, out and cancelled!

On the set of "The Glass Slipper," her movie at MGM, Amanda confirmed her broken engagement.

Ran into Ricardo Montalban, looking tan and healthy after making two pictures in Mexico, and he tells me he's flirting with an offer from Jorge Garcia Besne to make — re-make, rather, "Blood and Sand" in Madrid.

Years ago, the Ibanez novel about a bullfighter was one of Valentino's greatest hits. Rick would naturally play the Valentino role.

"It's a big temptation," he said, "but there are a couple of big factors standing in the way. First, I've been away from Georgianna and my children for months making 'A Matter of Life and Death' and 'Green Shadows' in Mexico. Second, I have pictures pending at MGM and U-I."

For whatever reason singer Yma Sumac was "detained' 'at Ellis Island, the all clear signal must have gone out because Yma is singing the Peruvian national anthem on the steps of Los Angeles City Hall on July 28!

Benay Venuta, who is in the cast of "Hazel Flagg" in Dallas, writes a rave about Pat Crowley, the star, and how completely she's taken over the Texans.

"Pat is just great," pens Benay, "and this appearance should lead to Broadway offers if Paramount will give her the okay. In addition to her performance, she's doing a fine job for Hollywood — such a lady and such fresh young charm.

"We are having fun here being entertained by all the Marcuses. Oh, yes — Don Ameche, our male star, is a big surprise and looks not a day older than a snappy 29."

Hollywood in shorts:

Veronica Lake is all over New York with Joe McCarthy — the songwriter, not the senator!

Debbie Reynolds and Lori Nelson launch their new dress styles for the fashion editors in West Los Angeles this week. The dresses designed by Debbie's mother are for girls between the ages of 11 and 15 who find it difficult getting chic little numbers for themselves.

Judy Garland and Sid Luft plane out TWA for Europe on Aug. 7 to be gone six weeks as the plane, hotel and house guests of boss Jack Warner.

Those popular Texans, Bess and Joe Olsan, move to La Jolla and the Del Mar season now that Hollywood Park locks up this weekend.

Julia Adams and George Nader a House of Murphy duet for dinner.

Among those milling around and cocktailing at the opening of Betty Bowman's Pacific Palisades Interiors Studio Tuesday were Marg and Gower Champion, Janet Leigh and Tony Curtis, Alexis Smith and Craig Stevens and Aldo Ray and Jeff Donnell.

That's all.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

The grand entrance that makes such an impression on stage or screen is out of place in everyday life. No charming, well-bred woman submits to the temptation to arrive late, or with exaggerated airs.

Lateness is a mark of carelessness — or selfishness. If you are affected in dress or manner, too often, people will mark you down as insincere. Remember, then, that etiquette frowns upon the theatrical entrance that combines lateness with affectation!

You are allowed a reasonable margin of minutes for any social engagement. When lunching or dining with another woman, 5 or 10 minutes' lateness is permissable. When you dine with a man, you may arrive as much as 15 minutes late and still be living up to the "acceptable" rules of punctuality. But don't you dislike having to wait for someone else? Why cause someone else to wait for you? Let your conscience be your tardiness guide.

Dinners And Dances

If you are more than 15 or 20 minutes late to a small dinner party, or tardy by more than half an hour in your arrival at a large dinner gathering, apologies are due your hostess, and your reason for lateness should be honest.

When you are invited to a tea or cocktail party where only a few guests are expected, don't arrive more than 15 or 20 minutes beyond the appointed hour. When a definite time limit is set for such a party to which many are invited, you may properly arrive any time from 15 minutes after the first hour mentioned, to half an hour before the function's scheduled end. You may be as much as an hour late in arriving at a dance (or other large evening affair) unless entertainment is scheduled for the early evening.

When you do arrive, arrive without fuss. No display of affection for the hostess is necessary. Greet those giving the party — hostess first, then the host — before speaking to the other guests.

Exits, Too

Exit, like entrance, should be casual. When you must leave, simply thank your hostess for a pleasant time and don't prolong the leave-taking. You may want to say goodbye to all the guests at a small party. But if the gathering is large, confine your exit line to your hosts and those in the immediate conversation group.

There's only one hard-and-fast rule about the timing of your goodbyes: if the party includes a guest of honor, you don't leave before the special guest does. Otherwise, you may set your own timetable — so long as you don't overstay your welcome.

Goodbyes said, don't linger. Your host and hostess have other guests to see off, and they won't thank you for standing in the doorway to be sure everyone else knows that you are about to leave.

TEN SECRETS OF CHARM

You are welcome, free of charge, to the reminder card, TEN SECRETS OF CHARM. It lists ten points to remember as milestones along the road to greater charm. Carry it with you and you won't overlook any of the ways you impress all who come in contact with you. Write to Secrets of Charm in care of this newspaper and enclose a stamped, self-addressed return envelope.

BEWARE THOSE MAXIMS

YOU CAN hardly give better advice to a relatively new bridge devotee than that he beware of those ancient maxims that have come down to us from the days of whist. They are all right in their proper place, and when understood thoroughly, but slavish observance of any of them can cost you thousands of points in the long run. One of those most abused is the admonition to "lead through strength," which is worse than no guide at all unless accompanied by the other part of the injunction, "and up to weakness."

	♠ K5 ♥ J109654 ♦ 1082 ♣ Q9
♠ 876 ♥ 2 ♦ AK65 ♣ A653 2	N W E S	♠ QJ92 ♥ KQ8 ♦ J94 ♣ J74
	♠ A1043 ♥ A73 ♦ Q73 ♣ K108

(Dealer: South. Neither side vulnerable.)

2 NT	Pass	3 ♥	Pass

South's bidding can be justified solely by his confidence in all of the other players—the keenness of his own partner and the ineptness of his opponents. He proved right on all counts.

West had heard about leading "through strength," so opened the dummy's suit, sure his partner "had something" in it. He did, and it was immediately put under the hammer as the heart 2, 9, Q and A piled up on the first trick. The heart 7 to the 10 drove out the K. East returned the club J, the A winning, and the spade 8 was offered, much too late. The K won it, four heart tricks followed and the declarer eked out his game, with five tricks in hearts and two in each black suit.

It was then that West learned, from South, that the suit bid by the dummy is usually the very worst to open, as it launches the declarer upon his own probable plan, to set up that suit before the side re-entries for it are knocked out.

South told West that, when the declarer and his partner each bid a different suit, both usually should be avoided unless unusual circumstances obtain.

He showed what might happen if West had led the 8 of the spade suit bid by his partner. The J could force out the A. South then probably would lay down the heart A and lead the 3 to the 9, losing to the Q. The spade K would then be knocked out, heart J led to the K, spade Q cashed, club J led to the A and two diamond tops scored by West to make a total of six defensive tricks, beating the contract two.

If East bids 1-Spade, South 2-Hearts and West 2-Spades, what would you do in the North?

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

In the Circuit Court for Allegany Co., Md., No. 23,697 Equity. William L. Lindner and Margaret Lindner, his wife, and Josephine Rice widow, Vs. Catherine G. Shuck and Frank Shuck, her husband, of Bedford, Penna., and Gretchen L. Fletcher, widow, of Bedford, Penna.

The object and purpose of this suit is to obtain a decree in the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland, appointing a Trustee to sell the real estate located in Cumberland, Allegany County, Maryland, owned as tenants in common by William L. Lindner, Josephine Rice, Catherine G. Shuck and Gretchen L. Fletcher; all of the respondents hereto being non-residents of the State of Maryland and residents of the State of Pennsylvania.

The Bill states that by deed dated August 29, 1933, and recorded in Liber 170, folio 13, one of the Land Records of Allegany County, Maryland, Charles G. Watson and William A. Gunter, Trustees, conveyed to William L. Lindner, Mary A. Lindner, Josephine Rice, Gretchen L. Fletcher and Catherine G. Shuck two parcels of real estate located near Cumberland on the Northern side of the Baltimore Turnpike Road leading from Cumberland to Baltimore.

That the said Mary A. Lindner died seized and possessed of an undivided one-fifth interest therein, intestate, on December 11, 1944, and that some of the heirs at law of the said Mary A. Lindner, deceased, namely, Claude W. Lindner, Hilda M. Townsend, Joeadd T. Lindner and Leona Thielen, children of her deceased brother, Thomas Lindner, conveyed their undivided interest in said properties to William L. Lindner by deed dated November 21, 1945, and recorded in Liber 210, folio 678, one of the Land Records aforesaid. Certified copies of both of the aforesaid deeds being filed with the Bill of Complaint as part thereof.

The Bill further states that the interests of the different parties to this suit in said parcels of real estate are by virtue of the aforegoing deeds as follows: William L. Lindner—7/25; Josephine Rice—6/25; Catherine G. Shuck—6/25; and Gertrude L. Fletcher—6/25.

The Bill further states that the properties are not susceptible of partition without material loss and injury to the parties entitled to interests therein; and that, in order to make division of said interests, it will be necessary to have the real estate sold and the proceeds divided amongst the parties according to their several interests.

The Bill then prays that a decree be passed for the sale of the real estate and a division of the proceeds among those entitled thereto.

It is thereupon this 14th day of July, 1954, by the Circuit Court for Allegany County, in Equity, ordered that notice be given Catherine G. Shuck and Frank Shuck, her husband, and Gretchen L. Fletcher, widow, all non-residents of the State of Maryland, by causing a copy of this order to be published once a week for at least four successive weeks on or before the 16th day of August, 1954, in some newspaper published in Allegany County, warning them and each of them to be and appear in this Court on or before the 2nd day of September, 1954, and answer the premises and abide by and perform such decree as the Court may deem proper.

Market Advances With Oils And Steels Leading Rally

NEW YORK, July 21 (AP) — The Stock Market swung to the upside today with a broad rally led by the oils and steels.

Some oil shares gained three points or more. Among the steels, advances of a point were common. Except for the aircrafts, other sections of the list were higher.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced 70 cents to $130.20. The industrials gained $1.10 and the rails 60 cents. The utility component edged up 20 cents to a new 1954 high of $63. Contributing to this was a rise of 1¼ points in American Telephone.

This was the first advance in the averages since last Thursday. Volume today totaled 2,510,000 shares against 2,580,000 yesterday.

Among the oil shares, Amerada and Cities Service were up better than three points, while Standard Oil (NJ), Texas Co., Gulf, Socony-Vacuum and Texas Pacific Land Trust also scored good gains. Royal Dutch Petroleum, listed yesterday, was down 1⅜ at 57⅜.

Buying in steels also was impressive. Gains of more than a point were registered by U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Republic, Youngstown and Sharon.

Crosstown Funds Sought If City Rejects Plan

Kimble Wants Money Spent In County

Senate Minority Leader Robert B. Kimble said yesterday that if Cumberland turns down the crosstown expressway plan he will introduce legislation providing that the $10,000,000 set aside for the local traffic program be allocated to improving Route 40 between Hancock and Cumberland.

He said studies are now being made for modernizing Polish and Martin's Mountains and that the State Roads Commission will present a report to the Legislative Council in October on the total cost of remodeling the historic route.

The report, he added, will establish the cost of a three-lane highway over the two mountains and for the cost of completing the modernization of the Hancock-Cumberland segment of the highway.

Decision Will Be Made

Senator Kimble said that by the time this report is presented, Cumberland will have decided on whether or not to accept the crosstown bridge plan.

"It is up to the Mayor and Council and the people of Cumberland," he said, adding, "They have it, and if they don't want it, I will see that Allegany County does not lose the funds allocated for the work."

He said that in the event Cumberland turns down the plan, he will immediately ask Governor McKeldin to instruct the Maryland State Roads Commission to hold the $10,000,000 for the use of Allegany County.

Wants Money Here

The next step, he added, would be to come to an agreement on the best way to use the funds.

He said it would then be necessary to receive authorization in the General Assembly for the change in formula which would allow the money to be kept here.

Under the 12-year-plan, the SRC cannot go over or under five per cent of mileage scheduled during any four-year phase.

There might be, he added, some other feasible plan which could be developed for Cumberland and at less expense, adding he is not able to follow the SRC's "take it or leave it" stand on the crosstown route.

He said that if Cumberland does not take work scheduled under the present formula—based on mileage—the money would be reallocated unless Allegany County legislators stepped in to keep the money in this county. He said he is confident the Allegany County Delegation would join him in efforts to keep the money here.

If the expressway plan is turned down now but this or some other program later decided upon after the $10,000,000 is committed to county needs, it would be necessary, he added, for the General Assembly to increase Allegany County's allocation under the 12-year plan.

Although Senator Kimble did not say so, under the 12-year-plan, $10,000,000 has already been allocated to Allegany County, which means that with $10,000,000 taken from expressway funds $20,000,000 would be spent in the county and little or none in the city.

Conference Planned

Senator Kimble said that following the October meeting of the Legislative Council, he will bring the legislators over the Hancock-Cumberland section of Route 40 so they can see just what is planned.

The Western Maryland tour, he added, will culminate in a joint meeting in Cumberland on the Route 40 improvement plan.

Attending, he said, will be the Legislative Council, the Route 40 Association, the Board of Allegany County Commissioners, the State Roads Commission and Governor Theodore R. McKeldin.

Senator Kimble said that if all of these parties can be brought together he is confident a satisfactory program can be worked out.

Marple Submits Petitions

1,402 Petitioners Endorse Marple For County Post

Independent Enters Five-Man Contest

A. Lee Marple, 41-year-old Cumberland business man, established what is believed to be a precedent in Allegany County politics when he submitted petitions signed by 1,402 persons so that he can run as an independent candidate for county commissioner in the November 2 general election.

Marple handed the petitions to William A. Wilson, chairman of the County Board of Election Supervisors, yesterday afternoon at the board's office in the Court House basement. All of the signers assert that they are registered voters in Allegany County and agree to support the independent candidate in the forthcoming election.

Check Not Needed

Wilson explained after the business man turned in his petitions that the election board is not required to check all of the signatures to determine whether they actually are qualified county voters. He said that court decisions elsewhere in Maryland had established that procedure. Anyone who signed the petition as a qualified voter and actually is not may be prosecuted however.

Marple submitted his petitions in compliance with Section 146 A (a) of the Registration and Election Laws of Maryland. They specify that a certificate of nomination for an independent candidate must be filed with the Board of Election Supervisors on or before the fourth Monday in July. Next Monday is the deadline. He had almost twice as many signatures as the 750 required under another section of the election laws.

His action assures a five-man contest in November for the three county commissioner positions. The others are the three Republicans nominated June 28, Charles N. (Jerry) Wilkinson, a former commissioner, and William H. Lemmert and James Orr, incumbents, and James P. Russell of Mt. Savage, the Democratic candidate.

Second Attempt

This will be Marple's second political venture this year. He was third in a four-way race for mayor of Cumberland in the June 1 primary election. That was his first try for public office.

"If elected, I intend to use my best judgment with consideration to all but with the interest of Allegany County foremost in my mind. I make no promises as to what I will do if I am elected. I stand for justice, honesty and consideration to all and their problems . . .

"I think it my duty to fight for Allegany County and the people who made me what I am today. I want to continue life and business in Cumberland and Allegany County and to do so I must do my part now to make this county a better and more prosperous county. We must look and go ahead, find more work and industry for the future. We must not over tax the people, must have good clean business management with equal rights to all. We must work together to help each other, have faith in God and faith in one another."

Always Independent

Marple, who has been a registered independent ever since he reached his 21st birthday, explained that by so doing he has sacrificed his right to vote in state and county primary elections. However, he added, he has voted regularly in general elections for the man he considered best qualified, whether Republican or Democrat.

Born in South Cumberland in 1913, Marple attended LaVale School and Greene Street Junior High School and began working at the age of 16. He later attended night school at Allegany, where he learned different trades.

He was employed at Celanese until going into the jewelry business 17 years ago in the building at 234 North Centre Street which

MRS. IRENE TWIGG

MISS COLLEEN KREGER

Two County Women Named High School Teachers

Two appointments to teaching positions in Allegany County schools were announced yesterday by Richard T. Rizer, assistant superintendent.

Mrs. Irene Twigg, of 119 Main Street, Westernport, has been assigned to Bruce High School in that community where she will teach English in the ninth and tenth grades.

She will replace Miss Dorothy Stahl, who resigned to accept a teaching position in Pennsylvania. Mrs. Twigg, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas V. McGuire, Westernport, had been teaching in Sherwood High School, Sandy Springs, for the past three years and for four years taught the seventh grade at Beall Elementary School, Frostburg.

A graduate of St. Peter's High School, Westernport in 1943, she was graduated from Potomac State College, Keyser, and received her Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of Maryland in 1947.

She has done graduate work at Penn State and at the University of Maryland. She majored in English with a minor in Social Studies.

In the other appointment, Miss Coleen Kreger, of Bowling Green, who was graduated from Frostburg State Teachers College, Frostburg, this past June, has been assigned as an additional teacher at Allegany High School.

She will teach English in the seventh and ninth grades at Allegany. Miss Kreger received a Bachelor of Science degree at Frostburg. Before entering State Teachers she attended Fort Hill and graduated from Allegany High School in 1950.

Miss Kreger acted as councilor at Camp Mistymount near Thurmont from June 12 to July 12 of this year. The camp was sponsored by the Girl Scouts of Washington County. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl D. Kreger, Bowling Green.

City Sinking Fund Totals $2,653,555

Henderson Avenue Bonds Are Retired

The city's Sinking Fund, set up to retire term bonds, totaled $2,653,555.98 on June 30, according to Arthur B. Gibson, city auditor.

Needed to meet remaining term bonds is $1,275,000 in the city's general fund, and $2,705,000 in the water operating fund.

The sinking fund totaled $2,519,104.27 on July 1, 1953. Of this, $1,221,745.66 was applicable to term bonds in the general fund, and $1,397,358.61 for term bonds in the water department operating fund.

Interest Is Added

During the 1953-54 fiscal year, the fund was augmented by $61,251.68 — the net earnings reported by the sinking fund trustees, John H. Mosner and Charles G. Holzshu, plus $73,200.03 placed in the fund from general and water funds.

During the 1953-54 fiscal year, the fund was decreased by the payment of $100,000 of Front Street Improvement Bonds of 1934, which were retired on June 1.

Gibson said it is interesting to note that this $100,000 was the city's contribution toward the Henderson Avenue bypass built here in 1934.

The new route was named Henderson Boulevard for the late Judge Robert R. Henderson. City officials later changed the designation to avenue since stops had to be provided at railroad crossings.

Henderson Avenue is still maintained by the State Roads Commission, which is asking the city to take over maintenance in connection with the proposed crosstown expressway program.

Gibson said questions have been raised as to whether or not city maintenance would be a liability.

City Engineer C. R. Nuzum has pointed out he believes additional state revenues from the mileage—which would have been $799.33 this year—would be sufficient to maintain the avenue.

Center Will Aid Firms Seeking Federal Work

Procurement Specialist Will Be In Charge

This was revealed yesterday by the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce, a cooperative office of the U. S. Department of Commerce.

Formerly, local bidders were required to travel to many locations throughout the state in order to find out what opportunities existed to supply the government.

Will Supply Data

Now, complete information can be obtained at the Government Procurement Information Center, Small Business Administration, Calvert Building, corner St. Paul and Fayette Streets, Baltimore 2.

Anthony Saeli, manager of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce, said complete bid sets, plans and specifications may be inspected on all current procurement, from all government purchasing offices, military and civilian, located in Maryland.

A trained procurement specialist will be in attendance at the center to advise local bidders on specific procurement problems, Monday through Friday, from 8:30 a. m. to 5 p. m.

On behalf of Harry A. Barron, manager of the Maryland District Office of Small Business Administration, Saeli invited manufacturers and suppliers of the Cumberland area to avail themselves of this service.

Pamphlets Available

Saeli also announced that various pamphlets describing services provided by the Small Business Administration are available at the offices of the local Chamber. Among the material are lists of management aids issued by the Administration and sample forms for the registration of industrial facilities.

Registration of facilities, Saeli said, will place local manufacturers and suppliers on the bidder's notification list for items suitable for them to supply.

Just recently the Ideal Office Supply Company, 620 Columbia Avenue, received a government contract to service and repair government typewriters in Cumberland.

Rep. Hyde Urges Plan To Assist Distress Areas

Would Aid County To Attract Industry

Rep DeWitt S. Hyde has asked the Public Works Committee for favorable action on a bill to authorize federal loans to assist communities such as Cumberland to build modern industrial plants.

In a letter to Rep George A. Dondero, chairman of the Public Works Committee, Rep. Hyde pointed out that Allegany County has been listed as a distress area for some time and is urgently in need of a new industry.

There is a large surplus of highly skilled labor in the county, he said, which can and should be used by some progressive industry.

In a community the size of Cumberland, he explained, the procurement of sufficient capital to provide the required facilities is a major obstacle in attracting new industries.

He added he believes the bill, H. R. 9137, offers an excellent solution to overcoming this financial obstacle.

"We know," he said, "that when hardship areas such as Cumberland are given a boost, they react to the benefit of other areas."

The only changes Rep. Hyde suggested in the bill was a provision that proper recognition be given the local industrial development groups and to make it clear that any new industry would not have to be located within the city limits of the city eligible for assistance, so long as the plant is located within a reasonable radius.

15-Year Old Boy Detained In Two Thefts Within City

A local 15-year-old boy is being detained in the detention quarters at Allegany County Infirmary in connection with two thefts which occurred here during the past few days.

Lt. James E. Van, who took the boy into custody yesterday, said another youth is expected to be picked up today in connection with the thefts.

On Sunday, Russell J. Myers, owner of the Federal Printing Company, 257 Columbia Street, reported to police that a steel box containing $4, car keys and a couple coupon books had been taken from his business establishment.

The box was found by two small girls Tuesday night in a shed at the rear of Columbia Street. Lt. Van said the boy signed a statement admitting, the theft.

Police received a call Tuesday that $27 was taken from a purse belonging to Mrs. Elizabeth Hite, of 708 North Mechanic Street. She said that someone entered her home by a rear door while she was sitting on her front porch Monday night and removed the money from the purse in a dining room buffet.

The youth picked up yesterday, admitted taking the $27 from Mrs. Hite. He and his companion, Van said, had spent the money.

Police report the stolen 1950 Ford sedan of George E. Webb, 705 North Mechanic Street, was recovered in Washington, Pa.

According to Detective Leo E. P. Law, the thief overlooked $45 in cash in a dashboard compartment. However, a Comet camera was missing.

The vehicle was taken early Saturday from North Mechanic Street.

Surplus Food Distribution Is Being Made

In Midland Today; Frostburg Friday

The current distribution of surplus food for the month of July to the county's needy families is proceeding on schedule, according to J. Walker Chapman, county roads supervisor, who has charge.

The food trucks will be in Midland today and at Frostburg tomorrow, as previously scheduled, according to Chapman.

Tuesday at Barton, 158 families representing 478 people received their allotments.

He also noted that the registration for the August distribution has been completed and registrations for that month are closed.

The Welfare Board, Salvation Army, Red Cross and Associated Charities will undertake a registration for September shipments, early in August. The Red Cross has indicated that its registration for September certification will be held August 3, 4 and 5, in the communities where registrations were previously held. After August 5, it will be impossible to enroll for the September allotment.

Chapman said this month's distribution is being handled very promptly and efficiently and progress has been made in methods of operation to cause as little waiting and inconvenience as possible.

Persons not certified and who did not register in June for this month's distribution cannot receive the surplus commodities. Chapman explained only enough commodities are shipped here by the federal government to cover the certificates which have been filed.

Election Expense Statements Filed

Election expense statements incurred by two Republican candidates in the June 28 Primary were filed yesterday in the office of Joseph E. Boden, clerk of Allegany County Circuit Court.

J. William Beck, of Westernport, unsuccessful candidate for nomination to the office of Allegany County Commissioner, submitted an expense statement totaling $154.11.

His expenses included filing fee, $25; large poster cards, $43.96; small cards, $20.15; stickers, $15; matches, $35 and miscellaneous advertising, $15.

E. A. Cromwell, who unsuccessfully sought nomination to the House of Delegates on the Republican ticket, submitted a statement totaling $111.34, which included filing fee, $25; cards, $69.34, and advertising, $17.

Allegany County Without Traffic Deaths In June

Allegany County was highway death free during the month of June according to a report compiled by the Maryland State Police.

In neighboring Garrett County, one fatal accident was reported and the total for the entire state including Baltimore City was 57 deaths resulting from 36 fatal collisions. Police agencies throughout the state investigated 2,668 traffic mishaps during June. Personal injuries were sustained by 1,227 persons in 881 of the collisions.

Col. Elmer F. Munshower, superintendent of Maryland State Police, commenting on the accident picture in Maryland asked that motorists and pedestrians alike be more courteous. Violation of the rules of the road is a prelude to disaster, so are gross carelessness and the wilful abuse of highway etiquette, Munshower added.

Council To Confer With SRC Officials

The Mayor and Council will go to Baltimore early today to confer with the Maryland State Roads Commission on the crosstown expressway program.

They will be accompanied by Thomas B. Finan, city attorney, and C. R. Nuzum, city engineer.

The meeting, scheduled at 10 a. m. in the SRC offices, is due to find up at 11:30 a. m. because of other commitments by the State Roads Commission.

1,000 Inspect New $32,000 Bus Here

Residents of Cumberland were given an opportunity yesterday to inspect the latest in bus transportation when a brand new $32,000 diesel powered Blue Ridge bus was parked on North Centre Street, just off Baltimore Street.

The modern bus, which will be on the express run from Washington to Pittsburgh by way of Cumberland, has an exterior styling of polished surface-hardened aluminum, new interior styling with large capacity package racks, individual reading lamps and wide reclining foam rubber seats.

William S. Huyett Jr., eastern division passenger agent, Hagerstown, said that well over 1,000 persons here viewed the new bus which has been on display at Washington, Brownsville and Uniontown, Pa. It left yesterday for showing in Hagerstown and Frederick. The Blue Ridge Bus Lines has purchased five such buses from General Motors. Frank Barr, Washington, Pa., western division passenger agent, is also traveling with one of the new buses.

Clinic Set Today

The Health Department will hold a child hygiene clinic today at 10 a. m. in Frostburg.

Informations Filed Against Two Local Men

Two separate criminal informations were filed in Allegany County Circuit Court yesterday by State's Attorney Paul M. Fletcher in rape and statutory rape cases.

Victor C. Whitaker, 29, of 251 Columbia Street, is charged with the statutory rape of his 11-year-old stepdaughter on July 2. A tentative trial has been set tomorrow at 1:30 p.m. before Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris at the Court House here.

A petition for immediate trial was filed with the information by Earl E. Manges, attorney for the defendant. Whitaker was taken into custody last Friday by Lt. James E. Van, of the City Police Detective Bureau, and County Investigator Edwin R. Lilya, after a complaint had been received from the defendant's wife.

In the other criminal information, Lester W. Davis, about 27, the father of five children, is charged with the crime of rape, also a felony.

He waived the right to indictment by the grand jury and asked for an immediate trial. No date has been set for the trial, according to Estel C. Kelley, court-appointed attorney for the defendant.

Davis, who was taken into custody on June 8 by city police is charged with the rape of a nine-year-old girl in Constitution Park. He has been detained in Allegany County jail since his apprehension in the park.

Hercules Reports $2.58 Dividend

Hercules Powder Company reported for the six months ended June 30, 1954, net income equal after payment of preferred dividends, to $2.58 a share on 2,684,508 shares of common stock outstanding.

Net income in the first six months of 1953 was equal to $2.44 a share on 2,677,937 shares of common stock then outstanding.

For the second quarter of 1954, net income was equal after payment of preferred dividends, to $1.37 a share on common stock. This compares with net income in the second quarter of 1953 equal to $1.28 a share.

Net sales and operating revenues for the six months' period were $92,149,029, compared with $99,968,791 for the corresponding 1953 period.

Davis Church To Sponsor New Cub Pack

A Cub Pack has been organized at Davis Memorial Methodist Church, according to William T. Allee, commissioner of the Cumberland District of Potomac Council, BSA.

Final plans for the new unit, to be known as Cub Pack 78, were formed at a meeting held at the church Monday night. The council was represented by Allee and Carl Wagner, organization and extension committeeman. Ivan Hall, chairman of the organization and extension committee, was also instrumental in the formation of the pack.

Stanley L. Walker is cubmaster of the unit, Carl Bierman will serve as assistant cubmaster, and George R. Stimmel is chairman of the pack committee, which is comprised of D. C. Gainer, advancement; J. C. Newcomb, secretary; Asa Fresh, treasurer; and Luther Long and William Welling, activities.

The Den mothers are Mrs. June Stimmel, Mrs. Emma Rowley, Mrs. Hazel Owens, Mrs. Myrtle Merritt, and Mrs. Mildred Bierman.

At present, 18 boys are registered in the pack and a number of additional members are expected to join.

Md. Peach Crop Up This Year

A Maryland peach crop of 468,000 bushels is predicted by Charles W. Porter, fruit and vegetable marketing specialist in the Department of Markets at the University of Maryland.

This would be 23 per cent more then the 1953 Maryland crop but slightly below the 10-year average.

The peaches are starting to roll to market now and for the occasion the National Peach Council has proclaimed this week as National Peach Week.

Among the better varieties of peaches grown in Maryland, in order of trees in production, are Elberta, Halehaven, Golden Jubilee, J. H. Hale and Georgia Belle. Peaches are especially favored as a summertime food because they are comparatively low in calories. The fruit ranks high, however, as a source of vitamins and minerals.

Rain Drives Sunshine Campers Indoors

The Weather

A good soaking rain hit Cumberland yesterday morning to start the day off but during the afternoon the sun shone through now and then. However, it was a little "close" during the course of the day. Forecast for today is generally fair and moderate temperatures. The official high temperature yesterday was 80 degrees with a low of 64 degrees. At 8:30 p. m. the mercury registered 73 degrees and humidity at 6 p. m. was 87 per cent. The amount of rainfall was .17 inches.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

In the Circuit Court for Allegany Co., Md., No. 23,697 Equity. William L. Lindner and Margaret Lindner, his wife, and Josephine Rice widow, Vs. Catherine G. Shuck and Frank Shuck, her husband, of Bedford, Penna., and Gretchen L. Fletcher, widow, of Bedford, Penna.

The object and purpose of this suit is to obtain a decree in the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland, appointing a Trustee to sell the real estate located in Cumberland, Allegany County, Maryland, owned as tenants in common by William L. Lindner, Josephine Rice, Catherine G. Shuck and Gretchen L. Fletcher; all of the respondents hereto being non-residents of the State of Maryland and residents of the State of Pennsylvania.

The Bill states that by deed dated August 29, 1933, and recorded in Liber 170, folio 13, one of the Land Records of Allegany County, Maryland, Charles G. Watson and William A. Gunter, Trustees, conveyed to William L. Lindner, Mary A. Lindner, Josephine Rice, Gretchen L. Fletcher and Catherine G. Shuck two parcels of real estate located near Cumberland on the Northern side of the Baltimore Turnpike Road leading from Cumberland to Baltimore.

That the said Mary A. Lindner died seized and possessed of an undivided one-fifth interest therein, intestate, on December 11, 1944, and that some of the heirs at law of the said Mary A. Lindner, deceased, namely, Claude W. Lindner, Hilda M. Townsend, Joeadd T. Lindner and Leona Thielen, children of her deceased brother, Thomas Lindner, conveyed their undivided interest in said properties to William L. Lindner by deed dated November 21, 1945, and recorded in Liber 210, folio 678, one of the Land Records aforesaid. Certified copies of both of the aforesaid deeds being filed with the Bill of Complaint as part thereof.

The Bill further states that the interests of the different parties to this suit in said parcels of real estate are by virtue of the aforegoing deeds as follows: William L. Lindner—7.25; Josephine Rice—6.25; Catherine G. Shuck—6.25; and Gertrude L. Fletcher—6.25.

The Bill further states that the properties are not susceptible of partition without material loss and injury to the parties entitled to interests therein; and that, in order to make division of said interests, it will be necessary to have the real estate sold and the proceeds divided amongst the parties according to their several interests.

It is thereupon this 14th day of July, 1954, by the Circuit Court for Allegany County, in Equity, ordered that notice be given Catherine G. Shuck and Frank Shuck, her husband, and Gretchen L. Fletcher, widow, all non-residents of the State of Maryland, by causing a copy of this order to be published once a week for at least four successive weeks on or before the 16th day of August, 1954, in some newspaper published in Allegany County, warning them and each of them to be and appear in this Court on or before the 2nd day of September, 1954, and answer the premises and abide by and perform such decree as the Court may deem proper.

Market Advances With Oils And Steels Leading Rally

NEW YORK, July 21 (AP) — The Stock Market swung to the upside today with a broad rally led by the oils and steels.

Some oil shares gained three points or more. Among the steels, advances of a point were common. Except for the aircrafts, other sections of the list were higher.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced 70 cents to $130.20. The industrials gained $1.10 and the rails 60 cents. The utility component edged up 20 cents to a new 1954 high of $63. Contributing to this was a rise of 1¼ points in American Telephone.

This was the first advance in the averages since last Thursday. Volume today totaled 2,510,000 shares against 2,580,000 yesterday.

Among the oil shares, Amerada and Cities Service were up better than three points, while Standard Oil (NJ), Texas Co., Gulf, Socony-Vacuum and Texas Pacific Land Trust also scored good gains. Royal Dutch Petroleum, listed yesterday, was down 1⅜ at 57⅜.

Buying in steels also was impressive. Gains of more than a point were registered by U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Republic, Youngstown and Sharon.

Crosstown Funds Sought If City Rejects Plan

Kimble Wants Money Spent In County

Senate Minority Leader Robert B. Kimble said yesterday that if Cumberland turns down the crosstown expressway plan he will introduce legislation providing that the $10,000,000 set aside for the local traffic program be allocated to improving Route 40 between Hancock and Cumberland.

He said studies are now being made for modernizing Polish and Martin's Mountains and that the State Roads Commission will present a report to the Legislative Council in October on the total cost of remodeling the historic route.

The report, he added, will establish the cost of a three-lane highway over the two mountains and for the cost of completing the modernization of the Hancock-Cumberland segment of the highway.

Decision Will Be Made

Senator Kimble said that by the time this report is presented, Cumberland will have decided on whether or not to accept the crosstown bridge plan.

"It is up to the Mayor and Council and the people of Cumberland," he said, adding, "They have it, and if they don't want it, I will see that Allegany County does not lose the funds allocated for the work."

He said that in the event Cumberland turns down the plan, he will immediately ask Governor McKeldin to instruct the Maryland State Roads Commission to hold the $10,000,000 for the use of Allegany County.

Wants Money Here

The next step, he added, would be to come to an agreement on the best way to use the funds.

He said it would then be necessary to receive authorization in the General Assembly for the change in formula which would allow the money to be kept here.

Under the 12-year-plan, the SRC cannot go over or under five per cent of mileage scheduled during any four-year phase.

There might be, he added, some other feasible plan which could be developed for Cumberland and at less expense, adding he is not able to follow the SRC's "take it or leave it" stand on the crosstown route.

He said that if Cumberland does not take work scheduled under the present formula—based on mileage—the money would be reallocated unless Allegany County legislators stepped in to keep the money in this county. He said he is confident the Allegany County Delegation would join him in efforts to keep the money here.

If the expressway plan is turned down now but this or some other program later decided upon after the $10,000,000 is committed to county needs, it would be necessary, he added, for the General Assembly to increase Allegany County's allocation under the 12-year plan.

Although Senator Kimble did not say so, under the 12-year-plan, $10,000,000 has already been allocated to Allegany County, which means that with $10,000,000 taken from expressway funds $20,000,000 would be spent in the county and little or none in the city.

Conference Planned

Senator Kimble said that following the October meeting of the Legislative Council, he will bring the legislators over the Hancock-Cumberland section of Route 40 so they can see just what is planned.

The Western Maryland tour, he added, will culminate in a joint meeting in Cumberland on the Route 40 improvement plan.

Attending, he said, will be the Legislative Council, the Route 40 Association, the Board of Allegany County Commissioners, the State Roads Commission and Governor Theodore R. McKeldin.

Senator Kimble said that if all of these parties can be brought together he is confident a satisfactory program can be worked out.

Marple Submits Petitions

A. Lee Marple, Cumberland business man, left, is shown submitting petitions signed by 1,402 persons to William A. Wilson, chairman of the Allegany County Board of Election Supervisors, so that he can enter the race for county commissioner as an independent candidate. A registered independent, Marple needed 750 signatures for his petitions. Next Monday is the deadline for such independent candidacies to be file. Political observers say Marple is the first independent candidate in a county election as far back as they can remember.

1,402 Petitioners Endorse Marple For County Post

Independent Enters Five-Man Contest

A. Lee Marple, 41-year-old Cumberland business man, established what is believed to be a precedent in Allegany County politics when he submitted petitions signed by 1,402 persons so that he can run as an independent candidate for county commissioner in the November 2 general election.

Marple handed the petitions to William A. Wilson, chairman of the County Board of Election Supervisors, yesterday afternoon at the board's office in the Court House basement. All of the signers assert that they are registered voters in Allegany County and agree to support the independent candidate in the forthcoming election.

Check Not Needed

Wilson explained after the business man turned in his petitions that the election board is not required to check all of the signatures to determine whether they actually are qualified county voters. He said that court decisions elsewhere in Maryland had established that procedure. Anyone who signed the petition as a qualified voter and actually is not may be prosecuted however.

Marple submitted his petitions in compliance with Section 146 A (a) of the Registration and Election Laws of Maryland. They specify that a certificate of nomination for an independent candidate must be filed with the Board of Election Supervisors on or before the fourth Monday in July. Next Monday is the deadline. He had almost twice as many signatures as the 750 required under another section of the election laws.

His action assures a five-man contest in November for the three county commissioner positions. The others are the three Republicans nominated June 28, Charles N. (Jerry) Wilkinson, a former commissioner, and William H. Lemmert and James Orr, incumbents, and James P. Russell of Mt. Savage, the Democratic candidate.

Second Attempt

This will be Marple's second political venture this year. He was third in a four-way race for mayor of Cumberland in the June 1 primary election. That was his first try for public office.

After submitting his petition, Marple released a statement outlining some of his views in the campaign. It read in part:

"If elected, I intend to use my best judgment with consideration to all but with the interest of Allegany County foremost in my mind. I make no promises as to what I will do if I am elected. I stand for justice, honesty and consideration to all and their problems . . .

"I think it my duty to fight for Allegany County and the people who made me what I am today. I want to continue life and business in Cumberland and Allegany County and to do so I must do my part now to make this county a better and more prosperous county. We must look and go ahead, find more work and industry for the future. We must not over tax the people, must have good clean business management with equal rights to all. We must work together to help each other, have faith in God and faith in one another."

Always Independent

Marple, who has been a registered independent ever since he reached his 21st birthday, explained that by so doing he has sacrificed his right to vote in state and county primary elections. However, he added, he has voted regularly in general elections for the man he considered best qualified, whether Republican or Democrat.

Born in South Cumberland in 1913, Marple attended LaVale School and Greene Street Junior High School and began working at the age of 16. He later attended night school at Allegany, where he learned different trades.

He was employed at Celanese until going into the jewelry business 17 years ago in the building at 234 North Centre Street which

MRS. IRENE TWIGG

MISS COLLEEN KREGER

Two County Women Named High School Teachers

Two appointments to teaching positions in Allegany County schools were announced yesterday by Richard T. Rizer, assistant superintendent.

Mrs. Irene Twigg, of 119 Main Street, Westernport, has been assigned to Bruce High School in that community where she will teach English in the ninth and tenth grades.

She will replace Miss Dorothy Stahl, who resigned to accept a teaching position in Pennsylvania. Mrs. Twigg, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas V. McGuire, Westernport, had been teaching in Sherwood High School, Sandy Springs, for the past three years and for four years taught the seventh grade at Beall Elementary School, Frostburg.

A graduate of St. Peter's High School, Westernport in 1943, she was graduated from Potomac State College, Keyser, and received her Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of Maryland in 1947.

She has done graduate work at Penn State and at the University of Maryland. She majored in English with a minor in Social Studies.

In the other appointment, Miss Coleen Kreger, of Bowling Green, who was graduated from Frostburg State Teachers College, Frostburg, this past June, has been assigned as an additional teacher at Allegany High School.

She will teach English in the seventh and ninth grades at Allegany. Miss Kreger received a Bachelor of Science degree at Frostburg. Before entering State Teachers she attended Fort Hill and graduated from Allegany High School in 1950.

Miss Kreger acted as councilor at Camp Mistymount near Thurmont from June 12 to July 12 of this year. The camp was sponsored by the Girl Scouts of Washington County. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl D. Kreger, Bowling Green.

City Sinking Fund Totals $2,653,555

Henderson Avenue Bonds Are Retired

The city's Sinking Fund, set up to retire term bonds, totaled $2,653,555.98 on June 30, according to Arthur B. Gibson, city auditor.

The fund included $1,178,420.47 earmarked for the retirement of general fund bonds, and $1,475,135.51 for the water operating fund.

Needed to meet remaining term bonds is $1,275,000 in the city's general fund, and $2,705,000 in the water operating fund.

The sinking fund totaled $2,619,104.27 on July 1, 1953. Of this, $1,221,745.66 was applicable to term bonds in the general fund, and $1,397,358.61 for term bonds in the water department operating fund.

Interest Is Added

During the 1953-54 fiscal year, the fund was augmented by $61,251.68 — the net earnings reported by the sinking fund trustees, John H. Mosner and Charles G. Holzshu, plus $73,200.03 placed in the fund from general and water funds.

Net earnings on the fund from last year represented a return of 2.34 per cent on the investment.

During the 1953-54 fiscal year, the fund was decreased by the payment of $100,000 of Front Street Improvement Bonds of 1934, which were retired on June 1.

Gibson said it is interesting to note that this $100,000 was the city's contribution toward the Henderson Avenue bypass built here in 1934.

The new route was named Henderson Boulevard for the late Judge Robert R. Henderson. City officials later changed the designation to avenue since stops had to be provided at railroad crossings.

Henderson Avenue is still maintained by the State Roads Commission, which is asking the city to take over maintenance in connection with the proposed crosstown expressway program.

Gibson said questions have been raised as to whether or not city maintenance would be a liability.

City Engineer C. R. Nuzum has pointed out he believes additional state revenues from the mileage—which would have been $799.33 this year—would be sufficient to maintain the avenue.

Center Will Aid Firms Seeking Federal Work

Procurement Specialist Will Be In Charge

Cumberland manufacturers and suppliers desiring to bid for government contracts may now obtain complete information at a central information office in Baltimore.

This was revealed yesterday by the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce, a cooperative office of the U. S. Department of Commerce.

Formerly, local bidders were required to travel to many locations throughout the state in order to find out what opportunities existed to supply the government.

Will Supply Data

Now, complete information can be obtained at the Government Procurement Information Center, Small Business Administration, Calvert Building, corner St. Paul and Fayette Streets, Baltimore 2.

Anthony Saeli, manager of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce, said complete bid sets, plans and specifications may be inspected on all current procurement, from all government purchasing offices, military and civilian, located in Maryland.

A trained procurement specialist will be in attendance at the center to advise local bidders on specific procurement problems, Monday through Friday, from 8:30 a. m. to 5 p. m.

On behalf of Harry A. Barron, manager of the Maryland District Office of Small Business Administration, Saeli invited manufacturers and suppliers of the Cumberland area to avail themselves of this service.

Pamphlets Available

Saeli also announced that various pamphlets describing services provided by the Small Business Administration are available at the offices of the local Chamber. Among the material are lists of management aids issued by the Administration and sample forms for the registration of industrial facilities.

Registration of facilities, Saeli said, will place local manufacturers and suppliers on the bidder's notification list for items suitable for them to supply.

Just recently the Ideal Office Supply Company, 620 Columbia Avenue, received a government contract to service and repair government typewriters in Cumberland.

Rep. Hyde Urges Plan To Assist Distress Areas

Would Aid County To Attract Industry

Rep DeWitt S. Hyde has asked the Public Works Committee for favorable action on a bill to authorize federal loans to assist communities such as Cumberland to build modern industrial plants.

In a letter to Rep George A. Dondero, chairman of the Public Works Committee, Rep. Hyde pointed out that Allegany County has been listed as a distress area for some time and is urgently in need of a new industry.

There is a large surplus of highly skilled labor in the county, he said, which can and should be used by some progressive industry.

In a community the size of Cumberland, he explained, the procurement of sufficient capital to provide the required facilities is a major obstacle in attracting new industries.

He added he believes the bill, H. R. 9137, offers an excellent solution to overcoming this financial obstacle.

"We know," he said, "that when hardship areas such as Cumberland are given a boost, they react to the benefit of other areas."

The only changes Rep. Hyde suggested in the bill was a provision that proper recognition be given the local industrial development groups and to make it clear that any new industry would not have to be located within the city limits of the city eligible for assistance, so long as the plant is located within a reasonable radius.

15-Year Old Boy Detained In Two Thefts Within City

A local 15-year-old boy is being detained in the detention quarters at Allegany County Infirmary in connection with two thefts which occurred here during the past few days.

Lt. James E. Van, who took the boy into custody yesterday, said another youth is expected to be picked up today in connection with the thefts.

On Sunday, Russell J. Myers, owner of the Federal Printing Company, 257 Columbia Street, reported to police that a steel box containing $4, car keys and a couple coupon books had been taken from his business establishment.

The box was found by two small girls Tuesday night in a shed at the rear of Columbia Street. Lt. Van said the boy signed a statement admitting, the theft.

Police received a call Tuesday that $27 was taken from a purse belonging to Mrs. Elizabeth Hite, of 708 North Mechanic Street. She said that someone entered her home by a rear door while she was sitting on her front porch Monday night and removed the money from the purse in a dining room buffet.

The youth picked up yesterday, admitted taking the $27 from Mrs. Hite. He and his companion, Van said, had spent the money.

Police report the stolen 1950 Ford sedan of George E. Webb, 705 North Mechanic Street, was recovered in Washington, Pa.

According to Detective Leo E. P. Law, the thief overlooked $45 in cash in a dashboard compartment. However, a Comet camera was missing.

The vehicle was taken early Saturday from North Mechanic Street.

Surplus Food Distribution Is Being Made

In Midland Today; Frostburg Friday

The current distribution of surplus food for the month of July to the county's needy families is proceeding on schedule, according to J. Walker Chapman, county roads supervisor, who has charge.

The food trucks will be in Midland today and at Frostburg tomorrow, as previously scheduled, according to Chapman.

Tuesday at Barton, 158 families representing 478 people received their allotments.

Yesterday at Lonaconing, 308 families including 1,071 persons received the government surplus commodities.

Chapman noted that this July distribution is about 20 per cent higher than the June total.

He also noted that the registration for the August distribution has been completed and registrations for that month are closed.

The Welfare Board, Salvation Army, Red Cross and Associated Charities will undertake a registration for September shipments, early in August. The Red Cross has indicated that its registration for September certification will be held August 3, 4 and 5, in the communities where registrations were previously held. After August 5, it will be impossible to enroll for the September allotment.

Chapman said this month's distribution is being handled very promptly and efficiently and progress has been made in methods of operation to cause as little waiting and inconvenience as possible.

Persons not certified and who did not register in June for this month's distribution cannot receive the surplus commodities. Chapman explained only enough commodities are shipped here by the federal government to cover the certificates which have been filed.

Election Expense Statements Filed

Election expense statements incurred by two Republican candidates in the June 28 Primary were filed yesterday in the office of Joseph E. Boden, clerk of Allegany County Circuit Court.

J. William Beck, of Westernport, unsuccessful candidate for nomination to the office of Allegany County Commissioner, submitted an expense statement totaling $154.11.

His expenses included filing fee, $25; large poster cards, $43.96; small cards, $20.15; stickers, $15; matches, $35 and miscellaneous advertising, $15.

Beck reported that he received no contributions during his campaign.

E. A. Cromwell, who unsuccessfully sought nomination to the House of Delegates on the Republican ticket, submitted a statement totaling $111.34, which included filing fee, $25: cards, $69.34, and advertising, $17.

1,000 Inspect New $32,000 Bus Here

Residents of Cumberland were given an opportunity yesterday to inspect the latest in bus transportation when a brand new $32,000 diesel powered Blue Ridge bus was parked on North Centre Street, just off Baltimore Street.

The modern bus, which will be on the express run from Washington to Pittsburgh by way of Cumberland, has an exterior styling of polished surface-hardened aluminum, new interior styling with large capacity package racks, individual reading lamps and wide reclining foam rubber seats.

Also included are new "picture" windows, with restful shaded E-Z Eye glass, new unified heating, ventilating, and air conditioning and sensational new "air suspension" giving a softer, more comfortable ride.

William S. Huyett Jr., eastern division passenger agent, Hagerstown, said that well over 1,000 persons here viewed the new bus which has been on display at Washington, Brownsville and Uniontown, Pa. It left yesterday for showing in Hagerstown and Frederick. The Blue Ridge Bus Lines has purchased five such buses from General Motors. Frank Barr, Washington, Pa., western division passenger agent, is also traveling with one of the new buses.

Clinic Set Today

The Health Department will hold a child hygiene clinic today at 10 a. m. in Frostburg.

Informations Filed Against Two Local Men

Two separate criminal informations were filed in Allegany County Circuit Court yesterday by State's Attorney Paul M. Fletcher in rape and statutory rape cases.

Victor C. Whitaker, 29, of 251 Columbia Street, is charged with the statutory rape of his 11-year-old stepdaughter on July 2. A tentative trial has been set tomorrow at 1:30 p.m. before Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris at the Court House here.

A petition for immediate trial was filed with the information by Earl E. Manges, attorney for the defendant. Whitaker was taken into custody last Friday by Lt. James E. Van, of the City Police Detective Bureau, and County Investigator Edwin R. Lilya, after a complaint had been received from the defendant's wife.

Whitaker is being detained in the county jail on a charge of statutory rape which is a felony.

In the other criminal information, Lester W. Davis, about 27, the father of five children, is charged with the crime of rape, also a felony.

He waived the right to indictment by the grand jury and asked for an immediate trial. No date has been set for the trial, according to Estel C. Kelley, court-appointed attorney for the defendant.

Davis, who was taken into custody on June 8 by city police is charged with the rape of a nine-year-old girl in Constitution Park. He has been detained in Allegany County jail since his apprehension in the park.

Allegany County Without Traffic Deaths In June

Allegany County was highway death free during the month of June according to a report compiled by the Maryland State Police.

In neighboring Garrett County, one fatal accident was reported and the total for the entire state including Baltimore City was 57 deaths resulting from 36 fatal collisions. Police agencies throughout the state investigated 2,668 traffic mishaps during June. Personal injuries were sustained by 1,227 persons in 881 of the collisions.

Col. Elmer F. Munshower, superintendent of Maryland State Police, commenting on the accident picture in Maryland asked that motorists and pedestrians alike be more courteous. Violation of the rules of the road is a prelude to disaster, so are gross carelessness and the wilful abuse of highway etiquette, Munshower added.

Council To Confer With SRC Officials

The Mayor and Council will go to Baltimore early today to confer with the Maryland State Roads Commission on the crosstown expressway program.

They will be accompanied by Thomas B. Finan, city attorney, and C. R. Nuzum, city engineer.

The meeting, scheduled at 10 a. m. in the SRC offices, is due to find up at 11:30 a. m. because of other commitments by the State Roads Commission.

Net income in the first six months of 1953 was equal to $2.44 a share on 2,677,937 shares of common stock then outstanding.

For the second quarter of 1954, net income was equal after payment of preferred dividends, to $1.37 a share on common stock. This compares with net income in the second quarter of 1953 equal to $1.28 a share.

Davis Church To Sponsor New Cub Pack

A Cub Pack has been organized at Davis Memorial Methodist Church, according to William T. Allee, commissioner of the Cumberland District of Potomac Council, BSA.

Final plans for the new unit, to be known as Cub Pack 78, were formed at a meeting held at the church Monday night. The council was represented by Allee and Carl Wagner, organization and extension committeeman. Ivan Hall, chairman of the organization and extension committee, was also instrumental in the formation of the pack.

Stanley L. Walker is cubmaster of the unit, Carl Bierman will serve as assistant cubmaster, and George R. Stimmel is chairman of the pack committee, which is comprised of D. C. Gainer, advancement; J. C. Newcomb, secretary; Asa Fresh, treasurer; and Luther Long and William Welling, activities.

The Den mothers are Mrs. June Stimmel, Mrs. Emma Rowley, Mrs. Hazel Owens, Mrs. Myrtle Merritt, and Mrs. Mildred Bierman.

At present, 18 boys are registered in the pack and a number of additional members are expected to join.

Md. Peach Crop Up This Year

A Maryland peach crop of 468,000 bushels is predicted by Charles W. Porter, fruit and vegetable marketing specialist in the Department of Markets at the University of Maryland.

This would be 23 per cent more then the 1953 Maryland crop but slightly below the 10-year average.

The peaches are starting to roll to market now and for the occasion the National Peach Council has proclaimed this week as National Peach Week.

Among the better varieties of peaches grown in Maryland, in order of number of trees in production, are Elberta, Halehaven, Golden Jubilee, J. H. Hale and Georgia Belle. Peaches are especially favored as a summertime food because they are comparatively low in calories. The fruit ranks high, however, as a source of vitamins and minerals.

Rain Drives Sunshine Campers Indoors

The Weather

A good soaking rain hit Cumberland yesterday morning to start the day off but during the afternoon the sun shone through now and then. However, it was a little "close" during the course of the day. Forecast for today is generally fair and moderate temperatures. The official high temperature yesterday was 80 degrees with a low of 64 degrees. At 8:30 p. m. the mercury registered 73 degrees and humidity at 6 p. m. was 87 per cent. The amount of rainfall was .17 inches.
